Big Housing Development Eyed Here By Ohio Firm

Plans Bared At Meeting On Zoning

Some Residents Of Fisher Park Hit Proposed Change

A Cleveland firm revealed to the City Planning Commission Monday night it intends to spend $969,000 on a 50 - unit "town house" development on a 20-acre tract in Fisher Park, overlooking California Hollow.

Robert Willison of Cleveland formerly of East Liverpool, announced the plans as a representative of the Alson Building Co., headed by Allen Nathanson.

He discussed the firm's plans at a public hearing held by the commission on the rezoning necessary to make the project a reality. The undeveloped, wooded tract now is zoned S-1 (special). The application seeks to change the classification to R-2 (medium density residential).

THE COMMISSION conducted the hour-long public hearing before an audience of about 35 residents of Fisher Park, some of whom expressed opposition to the requested change. The commission took the application under advisement. Its next regular meeting is Jan. 13.

The application for rezoning was filed in October by the present owners of the land, Joyce Kibler, in whose name most of the tract is held: Thomas Gerace and Patricia Walker.

Willison said the firm proposed to utilize only about 10 acres of the 20-acre tract. He said the firm will build two-story and one- and two-bedroom units which will rent for a minimum of $130 monthly. Although the units will have common walls, the styling will seek to suggest individual homes, he said. The housing will be equipped with central air conditioning, sunken living rooms with exposed beam ceilings and wall-to-wall carpeting, he said.

The development will include a swimming pool, a recreation building and a park area. He said the units are patterned after housing in Cleveland and other metropolitan areas that rent for $250 a month.

THE MEETING also was attended by Architect James N. Porter of Urban Design Associates, who made preliminary sketches for the project. He indicated work would begin in the spring if the change in zoning is approved.

The Fisher Park residents expressed opposition to the change in zoning before the firm's plans for the development were explained. Then the members of the audience concentrated mainly on questioning Willison

Shriver Due U.N. Post, Report Says

Talked With Nixon Sunday, Monday Met With Kennedy

NEW YORK (AP) — President-elect Nixon apparently is determined to appoint a big-name Democrat as U.S. Ambassador to the United Nations and a source in the Nixon camp indicated today the job would go to Sargent Shriver.

Shriver, currently ambassador to France, flew here hurriedly and conferred with Nixon for more than two hours Sunday. On Monday Shriver then went to Washington where he met with his brother-in-law, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass.

Then he returned to New York where he boarded an Air France plane back to Paris. At Kennedy Airport, he delayed the flight for several minutes while he made telephone calls to other members of the Kennedy family.

Asked if he would remain as an ambassador in the Nixon administration, Shriver said: "That would be a good question to ask the President-elect."

Shriver said he did not have time to answer other questions.

Ronald L. Ziegler, Nixon's press spokesman, announced last week that Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey had declined a firm offer from Nixon for the U.N. post.

Ziegler declined to comment on the possibility that Shriver now was in line for the U.N. job but a source close to Nixon hinted strongly that such was the case.

Recent tradition has been for envoys to the United Nations to represent the same political faith as the president. However, former President Harry S. Truman, a Democrat, chose a prominent Vermont Republican, Sen. Warren Austin, to be U.N. ambassador during his administration which encompassed the

Questioning Continues

Study Of School Friction Slated To Wind Up Tonight

EDUCATORS INVESTIGATING the faculty controversy in the East Liverpool School System are, left to right, Harold Myers of the Ohio High School Athletic Association; Robert Baker of the Ohio School Boards Association; Gilbert Johnson, superintendent of schools in Whitehall, and Harold Sebold, executive director of the Ohio Association of School Administrators.

A group of Ohio educators expects to wind up its investigation into school operations here by tonight.

Some 15 individuals were questioned Monday, including Athletic Director Robert McNea and Basketball Coach Clint McConnell, key figures in the faculty controversy which led to the inquiry.

The questioning was continuing today. There are no plans to confer with students, the investigators said.

CONDUCTING the study are Harold Sebold, executive director of the Ohio Association of School Administrators; Harold Myers of the Ohio High School Athletic Association; Robert Baker of the Ohio School Boards Association, and Gilbert Johnson, superintendent of schools at Whitehall.

"We are only interested in seeing the school operate in good fashion," Sebold said Monday when questioned about the purpose of the investigation.

The educators are making the study at the request of the East Liverpool school board as the result of an apparent dissension among school personnel which came to light when the basketball coaches submitted resignations. These were withdrawn, and then the football coaches and McNea submitted their resignations. These last resignations are still pending. The board said it would not take action until after the study was completed.

SEBOLD said the study is not being made with the idea of making definite recommendations for dismissals or suspensions of coaches or others involved. "We are not conducting an investigation, per se," Baker added.

The four, who have not functioned as a team before, volunteered to assist with the study in an effort to help the local board resolve the situation.

When asked if the study would be as "in depth" as the proposed investigation by the Professional Rights and Responsibilities Commission of the Ohio

Reds Burn 125 Homes

GIs Battle Enemy North Of Saigon

SAIGON (AP) — Viet Cong and North Vietnamese troops battled American infantrymen at two points north of Saigon Monday, shelled a dozen bases and towns during the night and burned down 125 homes in two undefended hamlets in the Central Highlands, military spokesmen reported today.

The ground fighting was on familiar battlegrounds along the jungle routes leading toward Saigon. A total of 16 Americans and 59 of the enemy were reported killed in the two encounters, and 19 Americans were wounded.

The heaviest fighting raged in dusty underbrush and towering forests about 60 miles north of Saigon and only four miles from An Loc, a key provincial capital.

About 150 troops from the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division were out looking for troops of the North Vietnamese 7th Division when they came under intense fire from well fortified bunkers.

"It was close in fighting," said a U.S. spokesman.

U.S. Air Force dive bombers came to the aid of the air cavalrymen, and 45 of the enemy were reported killed in the day-long fight. But 14 of the American soldiers were killed and 17 were wounded.

About 25 miles north-northwest of Saigon, U.S. infantrymen and an armored column from the 25th Division clashed with enemy troops while on a sweep. At least 14 enemy bodies were found afterward, cut down by fire from armored personnel carriers, helicopter gunships

State To Seek More Offers On Lisbon St.

The Ohio Highway Department said today at Columbus it will call for a new round of bids after rejecting two offers which were filed Nov. 26 on widening, resurfacing and easing the curves on Lisbon St. (Route 267).

The apparent low offer of $328,541 was $40,641 over the department's $288,000 estimate for the project. It was filed by the J. & L. Excavating and Trucking Co. of Southington in Trumbull County.

The only other offer of $349,183 was filed by the James White Construction Co. of Weirton.

The department explained today both offers were rejected because they were substantially over the estimate.

There was no indication when the next round of bids will be opened. It probably will be early in 1969, as the preliminaries such as legal advertising would not allow sufficient time to include the project in December bid openings.

The bids were taken under advisement at the time they were opened two weeks ago. The department had 10 days in which to accept or reject the offers.

The project will cover a 1.6-mile stretch from W. 8th St. to the city limits. The curves would be eased on the Lisbon St. Hill stretch running from West End to Pleasant Heights. Specifications also call for new drainage facilities.

The city's share of the projects $45,000, including $20,000 which was furnished by county commissioners.

NLF Says B52s Bombing South Viet Have Doubled

PARIS (AP) — The Viet Cong's National Liberation Front charged today that since President Johnson ordered the bombing of North Vietnam halted, the number of U.S. B52s bombing South Vietnam has doubled and the number of the B52 sorties has tripled.

NLF spokesman Duong Dinh Thao told a news conference the B52 attacks prove that the U.S. government is "continuing to intensify the war." He claimed that the giant U.S. strategic bombers dropped more than 1,000 tons of bombs near Da Nang Monday and "killed many old people, women and children with poison gas and chemical products."

If the United States and the Saigon government continue to pursue the war and obstruct the peace talks, he declared, they "will suffer ever greater defeats on the battlefield, and the struggle of the South Vietnamese population temporarily under the Saigon administration will develop with ever greaetr intensity."

Thao also renewed the NLF's attack on South Vietnamese Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky,

Scranton's Mideast Tour Seen Raising Arab Hopes

BEIRUT (AP) — William W. Scranton's tour of the Middle East has raised Arab hopes that the Nixon administration may be more sympathetic to the Arabs than the Johnson administration was.

When the former governor of Pennsylvania arrived in the Arab world last week on a fact-finding tour for President-elect Nixon, he said he foresaw "no immediate basic change" in U.S. policy toward the Middle East. But when he crossed the Allenby Bridge into Israel Monday, he said American policy should be "more even-handed."

"The United States must take into consideration the feelings of all persons and countries in the Middle East and not necessarily one country over another," Scranton told newsmen in Jerusalem.

Authoritative sources said Nixon's envoy considered his mission "a completely new start, not bound by President Johnson's five-point Middle East peace formula." They added Scranton was emphasizing his complete independence from current White House and State Department policies.

Leaders of the Arab nations have guarded hopes that Nixon will put pressure on Israel to accept a settlement based on the Grand Jury Investigation Of Adam Powell Dropped

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal grand jury investigation of Adam Clayton Powell has been dropped, but a congressional opponent says he still will seek to bar the harlem Democrat from reclaiming his House seat.

The Justice Department said Monday night it had let the grand jury expire without recommending that it indict Powell on charges of misusing some $40,000 in public funds.

"Available evidence did not warrant prosecution," the department said.

It added, however, that it was studying the possibility of a civil action to recover the funds.

Powell was not immediately available for comment.

Paul McCraw, 9, son of Mr. and Mrs. James McCraw of 465½ Mulberry St., who entered Children's Hospital at Pittsburgh Dec. 3 for treatment with an artificial kidney machine, remained in serious condition today.

The family reported the 36-pound youngster, dwarfed by a rare disease, was wracked by convulsions and high blood pressure which physicians were unable to control. His mother is at his bedside and his father visits the boy after work at the Homer Laughlin China Co.

The disease threatens to destroy Paul's kidneys and end his life. His family hopes he will receive a kidney transplant if his condition improves sufficiently to allow surgery. Paul, who said he wanted a tricycle for Christmas, has received two of the three-wheelers so far and his family has been presented with several small sums of cash to aid with expenses.

Temperature Hits 6 Below In Cold Spell

"A little warmer tonight and Wednesday."

Those were the only encouraging words the weatherman could offer as the tri - state area experienced its coldest spell of the season.

An official overnight low of 6 below was reported by Edwin Copeland, U.S. weather observer at Millport. It was still 1 below at 7:30 a.m., he said.

In downtown East Liverpool, it was 7 above at 6, with a drop to 5 within the hour.

As always, unofficial readings were even lower, with one area reporting 14 below.

The official 6 below was mild compared with a similar period 10 years ago. Copeland said the temperature fell to 17 below on Dec. 17 and 18 below on Dec. 18 in 1958.

Tonight's low is expected to be in the 20s—above zero, that is.

Deaths and Funerals

Lee Cline

Lee Cline, 83, of 980 Main St., Wellsville, a retired farmer, died early this morning at the Greystone No. 1 Rest Home in Wellsville, where he had been a patient for 10 months after suffering a broken hip.

He was born in Graysville, Ohio, July 25, 1885, a son of the late Isaac P. Cline and Amanda Fisher Cline. He had resided in Wellsville about 61 years and at one time worked at the former Treadwell Construction Co. in Midland and for the former Pennsylvania Railroad Co. He was a member of the Wellsville First Christian Church. His wife, Mrs. Carrie N. Cline, died March 12, 1963.

He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. John (Lenora) Kuta and Mrs. Ray (Irene) McBane, both of Wellsville; two brothers, Ray Cline of New Cumberland and Ira Cline of Weirton; a sister, Mrs. Lula Griffin of Friendly, W. Va.; a half-sister, Pearl Cline of New Matamoras, five grandchildren and 13 great-grandchildren.

Services will be held Thursday at 2 p. m. at the MacLean Funeral Home in Wellsville by the Rev. Robert Schondelmayer. Burial will be in Springhill Cemetery, Wellsville.

Friends may call at the funeral home Wednesday afternoon and night.

Joseph Tulencik

TORONTO — Joseph John Tulencik of 724 N. 4th St., a retired employe of the Ohio Edison Co., died Monday at 1:15 p. m. at Ohio Valley Hospital, Steubenville, after a brief illness.

He retired in 1961 as a senior controlroom operator. He was a member of the St. Joseph Greek Catholic Bzyantine Church here.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Mary Solomon Tulencik, at home; a daughter, Mrs. Victor (Dolores) Obertance of Toronto; a son, Greg (Joseph) Tulencik of Philadelphia, and five grandchildren. He was preceded in death by a sister, Mrs. Mary Brem, on Nov. 23, and his parents, Michael and Susan Batcho Tulencik.

Parastas services will be conducted Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. at the Stanley M. Turel Funeral Home, where friends may call after 7 tonight.

Panachida services will be held Thursday at 9:30 a. m., followed with a mass at 10 at the church. Burial will be in Toronto Union Cemetery.

U.N. resolution of Nov. 22, 1967. The resolution called for withdrawal of Israeli troops from Arab territory in return for an end to Arab belligerency and free navigation for Israeli shipping through the Suez Canal and the Strait of Tiran.

Prospects for a peaceful settlement of the protracted crisis in the Middle East now seem to hinge on Israel's readiness to make concessions, but the Israelis have given no indication that they are prepared to do so.

Short of what they call "abject surrender, Egypt and Jordan say they can give little more. They have accepted the U.N. resolution. Egypt also is reported willing to accept a return of a U.N. peace force to the Sinai Desert and the shore of the Tiran Strait.

Syria remains intransigent, rejecting any political solution and calling for a war of liberation. It continues to condemn the United States, and a statement by the ruling Baath party Monday warned against "illusions" that American policy would change.

Both Egypt and Jordan have rejected a reported American peace plan providing for each Arab nation to settle with Israel separately. Jordanian Premier Bahjat Talhouni, in a weekend statement, called for unified Arab action to liberate territory occupied by Israel since efforts to reach a peaceful settlement had failed.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

With the coming of autumn, the crickets' singing becomes louder and longer. The tempo of a cricket's song is determined by the temperature. As the weather gets colder, the tempo becomes slower. Scientists, The World Almanac notes, have derived a formula to calculate the temperature in degrees Fahrenheit by counting the number of chirps in 15 seconds and adding 40.

Education Association, Sebold said, he feels the words "in depth" actually signify little.

"I suppose it means getting to the heart of the problem," he said. "But in one case you may get to the heart of the problem in five minutes, in another you may never get to it."

"We never have worked together before," he continued, "and have not actually made investigations, only offered help."

SEBOLD has been executive director of the OASA for six months. Previous to that he served as a superintendent of schools in Licking County. He is actually employed by the OEA in his capacity as OASA executive director and has been in the education field 39 years.

Myers has been in education for 29 years. He, along with Sebold and Johnson, have "run the gamut" of education—all have been teachers, coaches, elementary principals, high school principals and superintendents of school districts.

Johnson also has coached basketball, football, baseball and track.

Baker has been affiliated with the Ohio School Boards Association for 13 years and is presently serving as legal council.

The men all said they were not representing their organizations in an official capacity, however, but are here only to offer help as consultants.

MYERS has been in East Liverpool previously. When charges of irregularities or infraction of OHSAA rules were made three years ago and the association conducted investigation, Myers worked in that capacity. However, he says this situation is different. "We investigate infractions of rules, but not duties of the athletic director," he said.

Sebold said the report, when prepared, will be handed to the school board, because it requested the study. "It will not be made public by us," he added.

The men said the statements will have to be compiled and studied before the presentation to the board.

Asked what he thought about the East Liverpool Teachers Association requesting an investigation by the Professional Rights and Responsibilities Commission, Sebold said, "I work for the OEA and we do not keep secrets. We thought this might come about and were not surprised." Just what the PRR Commission might discover, or how deep its investigation might go, Sebold said he could not guess.

Arguments Are Heard In Appeals At Lisbon

LISBON — The Seventh District Court of Appeals heard arguments in two Columbiana County cases here Monday and will announce decisions later from Youngstown.

The court took under advisement appeals filed by:

Don Franklin Bramer, 3057 S. Meridian Rd., Youngstown, convicted last March 18 in the County Eastern Court at East Palestine of driving while under the influence of alcohol, and Michael J. Harvith of 1190 Buckeye Ave., Salem, from a Common Pleas Court ruling sustaining his wife Mary's demurrer to his petition for damages because she obtained an increase in support payments in a divorce case in Mahoning county.

Also to be heard are motions for leave to appeal from two prisoners serving 1-to-10-year-sentences in Ohio State Penitentiary.

Both Chester Ice Jr., 30, formerly of East Liverpool, and Walter K. Bell, sentenced for a $30 forgery in 1960 in East Liverpool, have been turned down twice before on post-conviction appeals. Ice was convicted for first - degree manslaughter in the beating death of Charles Adams, 29, formerly of East Liverpool.

The Appellate Court asked Prosecuting Atty. J. Warren Bettis to file motions to dismiss the prisoners' cases and file briefs in both cases for the court's consideration.

Judges George M. Jones, John J. Lynch and Joseph E. O'Neill also heard arguments in a workmen's compensation case from Harrison County.

Chester Council Studies Emergency Phone Setup

A proposal to establish a 3-digit emergency telephone number for the Chester area was discussed at a meeting of Chester Council Monday night.

Councilman Charles Mansfield commented on the proposal to establish 911 as a nationwide police, fire and ambulance telephone number, and suggested it be started in the Chester exchange.

Mayor Harold Ash directed Donald Hood, clerk, to obtain further information from the Ohio Bell Telephone Co.

A company spokesman today indicated such a proposal is being studied at the local level, and that it is hoped to provide the service sometime in the future after some changes can be made in the plant equipment.

Councilman Frank DeCapio reported a sledding track has been made for area residents and children in Chester City Park. The pathway is about 15 feet wide, extending from the entrance to the park.

Mayor Ash pointed out there also will be sledding in the section of 4th St. and Louisiana Ave., though half of the street will be ashed for auto use. He emphasized that no sled riding will be permitted on Indiana Ave., between 3rd and 4th Sts.

A complaint of trash being thrown along Montana Ave. will be investigated by police, Mayor Ash said.

Hood reported on a conference with City Solicitor James Jordan in which it was decided the Penn-Central Railroad is responsible for any wrecks, flat tires or other damages resulting from the poor condition of the two overhead railroad bridges in Chester. Mayor Ash pointed out that any complaints will have to be directed to the railroad.

The purchase of a new siren for the Chester Volunteer Fire Department was approved at an approximate cost of $400. The new siren will replace one in use at 2nd St. which will be rebuilt and placed elsewhere, Lee Haney, secretary of the department, explained.

Councilman DeCapio relayed a request of Mrs. Mary Fox pertaining to the installation of a guard post near her property line in Alley A. The street committee will make a study of the request, Ash said.

A delegation from the Tinsonville area, headed by Gilbert Miller, questioned Council about the lack of water and sanitation in the area. The group was directed to attend a Sanitary Board meeting Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. in City Hall. Council recommended the Board take any action within its power to furnish water for the area, which includes Alba St. and Orion and Lycia Aves.

At a request of the fire department, Ash said that anyone following fire trucks and blocking the maneuvering area of the department at fires can be arrested by the fire officers.

The next meeting will be Dec. 21 at 10 a. m. in City Hall, instead of the third Monday of the month, because of the Christmas holiday, Ash said.

Various Activities Mark Meeting Of Jaycees Here

Jerry Woodburn was named "Jaycee of the Month" for November when directors of the East Liverpool Jaycees met Monday night in the Chamber office.

The annual "Bosses Night" dinner has been set for Jan. 15 at the Country Club, John Starkey, chairman, reported. The distinguished service and community service awards will be presented.

Dave Harris and Tom Snyder were enrolled as new members. It was announced that the "Jaycee Comment" will be expanded to include news of the Wellsville chapter.

Woodburn reported the holiday dance will be Jan. 11 at the Elks Ballroom. The Jades will play for dancing and the Tamburitzans will provide entertainment.

Denis Hanka, a teacher at East Liverpool High School, was named treasurer to replace Robert Gessford, resigned.

There will be no membership meetings in December or January because of other activities of the group.

The Christmas visitation, the children's shopping tour and a wrestling show will be presented this month.

It was announced that there are still fruit cakes available.

A motion on a proposal by the national Jaycees to press for the reorganization or the abolishment of the electoral college was tabled.

Tom Dudas was a guest of Joe Kriss.

likening him to Hitler as another NLF spokesman did Monday.

The Communists deliberately chose a Viet Cong spokesman for their first full-dress attack on the newly arrived South Vietnamese envoys.

The symbolism of this timing —with the NLF spearheading the Communist presentation ahead of North Vietnam's delegation—was not lost on the South Vietnamese. For in the diplomatic jockeying over the war's main issue—who is to control South Vietnam—the Communists contend that the NLF is the authentic representative of the South Vietnamese people and thus the proper agency to deal with the Saigon regime.

Ky's government does not recognize the NLF, which it considers a tool of the North Vietnamese, and says it will deal only with Hanoi. The North Vietnamese reject this approach.

The wrangle is reflected in the preliminary negotiations over these points of procedure:

—What will be the order of speaking at the first four-delegation session? The United States and South Vietnam do not want the NLF to seem to get procedence over Saigon.

—What shape will the negotiating table be?

The Communists want a square table whose four equal sides would signify equal status for the NLF with the other three delegations. The Americans and the South Vietnamese want a rectangular table, symbolizing two delegations—the United States and South Vietnam on one side, North Vietnam and the NLF on the other.

—The NLF wants such symbolic trappings as name plates and flags in the conference room. The Americans would prefer to have none of this.

Rusk Plans To Return To Rockefeller Post

NEW YORK (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk will return to the Rockefeller Foundation as its first "distinguished fellow" after completing his Washington duties Jan. 20.

Rusk, who was president of the foundation from 1952 to 1961 when he resigned to become President Kennedy's Secretary of State, will draw up his own program of research and studies, a foundation spokesman said Monday.

The appointment, for one year, carries a "very comfortable stipend," a spokesman said.

Wilson Plans Counter Blast Against Foes

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson today parpared a fighting counter blast against attacks on his government's handling of Britain's continuing economic crisis.

Aides said Wilson had not decided whether to unleash his counterattack in the House of Commons or in a nationwide telecast. They expect it this week.

Both government and opposition sources rejected suggestions for a coalition government to restore confidence and deal with the economic ills on an emergency basis. These sources did not deny, however, that Wilson and his colleagues want some sort of limited truce with the opposition to take some vital national issues out of partisan politics.

Foremost among these issues, the informants said, is the strength of the pound sterling, which has been pushing its prescribed floor levels for more than a week. The pound moved in a narrow range around $2.383 at the opening of the exchange today, slightly down from last night's closing.

Chester Council Studies Emergency Phone Setup

A proposal to establish a 3-digit emergency telephone number for the Chester area was discussed at a meeting of Chester Council Monday night.

Councilman Charles Mansfield commented on the proposal to establish 911 as a nationwide police, fire and ambulance telephone number, and suggested it be started in the Chester exchange.

Mayor Harold Ash directed Donald Hood, clerk, to obtain further information from the Ohio Bell Telephone Co.

Rusk Plans To Return To Rockefeller Post

NEW YORK (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk will return to the Rockefeller Foundation as its first "distinguished fellow" after completing his Washington duties Jan. 20.

Rusk, who was president of the foundation from 1952 to 1961 when he resigned to become President Kennedy's Secretary of State, will draw up his own program of research and studies, a foundation spokesman said Monday.

The appointment, for one year, carries a "very comfortable stipend," a spokesman said.

Wilson Plans Counter Blast Against Foes

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson today parpared a fighting counter blast against attacks on his government's handling of Britain's continuing economic crisis.

Aides said Wilson had not decided whether to unleash his counterattack in the House of Commons or in a nationwide telecast. They expect it this week.

Both government and opposition sources rejected suggestions for a coalition government to restore confidence and deal with the economic ills on an emergency basis. These sources did not deny, however, that Wilson and his colleagues want some sort of limited truce with the opposition to take some vital national issues out of partisan politics.

Foremost among these issues, the informants said, is the strength of the pound sterling, which has been pushing its prescribed floor levels for more than a week. The pound moved in a narrow range around $2.383 at the opening of the exchange today, slightly down from last night's closing.

No Pre-Judging Needed

Whatever is wrong within the East Liverpool School District faculty and administration, it is something which should have been resolved long ago by the administration and the board of education.

To let the problem come to the current impasse for which state education organizations hopefully will recommend a solution is an admission of failure on the local level.

There certainly is no excuse for lack of warnings about impending trouble; prior to the hiring of the present basketball coach, the board of education and administration in 1966 were told of the faculty resentment about the teaching load of the athletic director.

There were even deeper concerns expressed by others before and since, concerns which deserved more attention, more evaluation than they received. There was naturally some petty jealousy, some misunderstandings, some distortions. But a growing number of citizens and teachers wondered about the friction within the schools and the declining image of the city education program.

Jack Woomer, a board member, commented at a meeting June 6, 1966, "Internally, something must be drastically wrong. When you believe everyone else is wrong, your thinking is a little warped."

Thus, the recent claim by Harry McConville, board member then and now, that the current controversy is an effort by the teachers' "union" to take over control of the schools seems to be a biased pre - judgment of the issue which undermines efforts for a satisfactory solution.

Results of the various investigations may give the board, the administration, the teachers and the general public some insight into the various insinuations and charges which have been made for over three years without action.

What this situation calls for is a completely open mind by all board of education members to all aspects of our school operations, a penetrating and objective analysis of the whos and whats of the problems, without a pre-committment to favor one side or the other.

The public, which has demonstrated its unsympathetic attitude by defeating six ballot proposals in the past four years, wants some answers and some action.

Glossing over the issues will only prolong needed decisions and will further handicap the education of our young people.

The Shape Of The Table

The shape of the table — the bargaining table at the Paris talks — continues to be a major bone of contention.

Incredible as it may seem, the table's shape, be it square, as the Communists would have it; oblong, as the United States and South Vietnam would have it, or round, as a compromise, is delaying the start of the formal four-way talks.

IT IS DIFFICULT to see how this could be a serious point of controversy if there truly was a desire to achieve peace on both sides. Regardless of the seating arrangement, if opposing sides in any dispute really wanted to settle their disagreement, it seems they could do so once they had agreed to come together in the same room.

The only conclusion which can be drawn from the ridiculous sparring over the shape of the table then is that one or both parties are not truly interested in stopping the killing and hammering out a peace agreement.

It has been stated many times by students of Communist diplomatic negotiations techniques that such talks are used simply as another weapon in the over-all plan to achieve the desired goal. If the war can't be won on the battlefield, then perhaps it can be at the negotiation table.

By their insistence on changing the tables now in use for a square table, the Reds lend credence to those statements. Observers present at the talks now are predicting more long weeks or months of continued word battles before any serious negotiations get under way.

A CIRCULAR TABLE has been suggested as a compromise. There is another design which could be considered a halfway meeting place.

If the two oblong tables urged by the United States were partially folded from the middle and the square table demanded by the Communists was squeezed together from opposite corners, a common shape would result — that of a playing card diamond.

We vote for that and getting on with the talks.

Daring Flight From The East

The ingenuity of man in his efforts to escape from tyranny seems limitless.

Residents of East Germany, in their attempts to flee communism, have tried many imaginative ways to get through the Iron Curtain. Some have been successful and some have not.

The most recent attempt reported ended successfully and certainly rates as one of the most ingenious.

Bernd Boettger, a 28-year-old musician, reached the freedom of the West by being towed underwater by a snorkel-equipped motor. He called the device, which he built for $50, a submarine.

Dressed in a frogman's suit which reached him from West Germany, he also wore a belt containing 12 pounds of lead which kept him deep in the water until he and his submarine got past the searchlights, watch towers and police patrol boats along the East German coast.

He steered his submarine for a Danish lightship and made his escape good after a 15½-mile tow at 3 miles per hour.

The indomitable spirit and daring of some men, which they evidence in their desire for freedom, clearly demonstrates the value they place on being free.

It is a message addressed to all of us.

The Windy City

By Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — It may be a little early, but a new organization has just been formed to bring the Democratic convention back to Chicago in 1972.

Art Buchwald

The chairman of the group, Upton Mace, told me that he hoped to get Vice President Hubert Humphrey to serve as honorary chairman.

"After all that Chicago did for him," Mace said, "that's the least the vice president could do for Chicago."

"But there are some who feel that Mayor Daley may have cost Humphrey the election."

"Nonsense. If it wasn't for Chicago, the vice president might have got off to a very slow start in his campaign," Mace said. "As it was, Chicago fired up the party and they all left determined to make Hubert a winner."

"THEY DID?"

"Of course. Everyone was talking about Chicago after the conventions. As a matter of fact, they still are."

"I know the Democrats are talking about Chicago, but I'm not sure they're talking about it in the same terms that you are," I said.

"Nonsense," Mace said. "I don't think there's one member of the Democratic party, or for that matter the press, who wouldn't come back to Chicago next week for a political convention if we asked them to. After all, we have everything here: beautiful parks, wonderful hotels and excellent hospital facilities. Where else could you be clubbed in a police riot and be in an ambulance in five minutes?"

"NOWHERE," I had to admit. "By the way, about the clubbing of people. There are some people in the Democratic party — I'm not saying who — who aren't certain that clubbing people over the head is a good thing for the party's image."

"You'll always have malcontents in any party," Mace said. "The important thing is that the Democrats must hold their convention in a major city where the mayor has enough power to deliver the state. Chicago fills that bill."

"But Mayor Daley didn't deliver Illinois to the Democrats this year."

"That wasn't his fault," Mace said. "The only reason Illinois did not go to Humphrey was that Nixon got more votes."

"That's a point I hadn't thought of."

"Look, I don't have to sell Chicago to you," Mace said. "You were there this summer. Don't we have one of the finest police forces in the country?"

"The finest," I said. "They left their mark on a lot of people, who were there this August."

"Of course they did," Mace said. "And do you know why? Because they're used to dealing with any kind of person that shows up at a political convention. Our cops are kind, courteous and noted for keeping their cool. Do you know they gave out less traffic tickets during August while the convention was on than during any week of the year?"

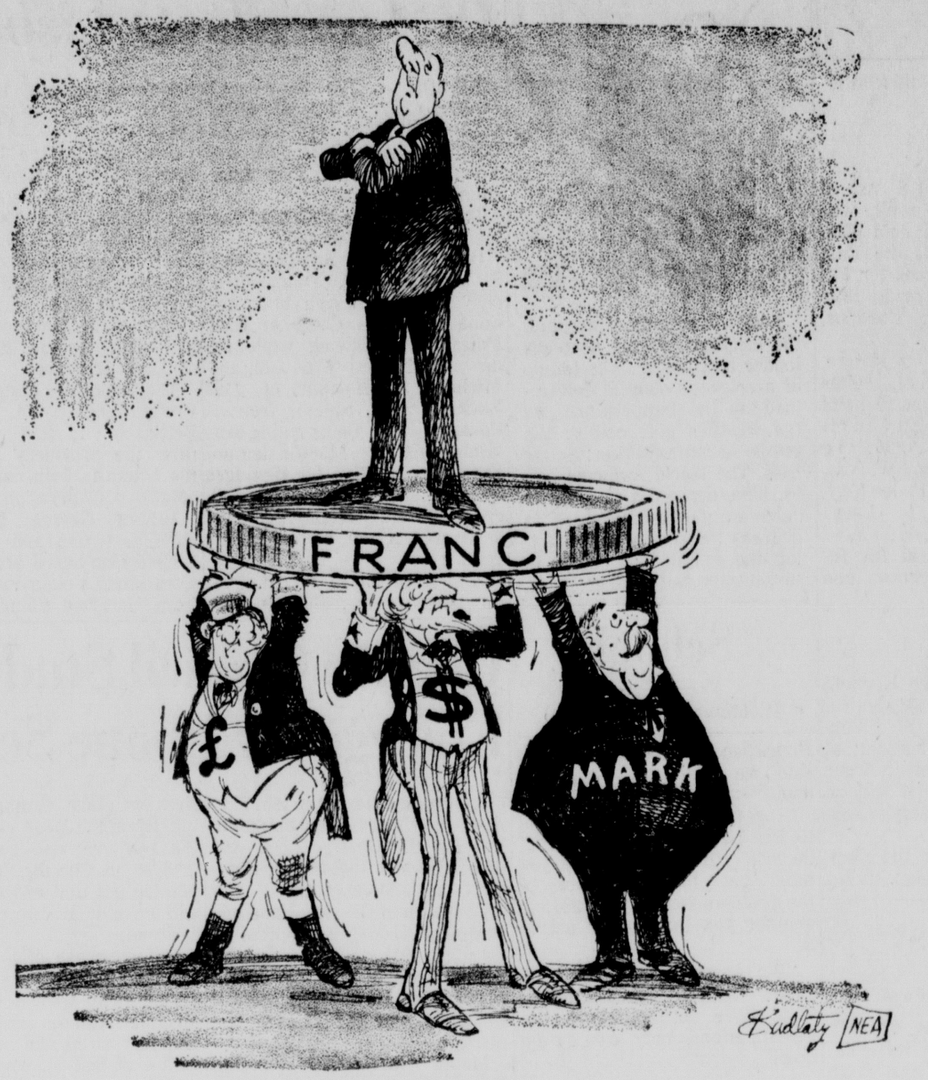

"Everyone I've spoken to," I said, "says Chicago policemen have big hearts. But this report by the committee on violence . . ."

"THAT'S A LOT OF poppycock, written without the permission of Mayor Daley. If you really want to find out the truth about what happened in Chicago, you should read Mayor Daley's report. That was made with the co-operation of the Chicago police department, so it has some truth to it. You get private citizens writing about the police and you get a very distorted picture."

"Well, Mr. Mace, you've convinced me Chicago should be the site for the 1972 convention. Now all you have to do is convince the Democratic party."

"Don't worry. We'll convince them. They'd be crazy, after what happened there this summer, to mess with a successful formula."

VICTOR RIESEL

Hospital Unionizing Urged

NEW YORK — On this beat, it is the fashion of turbulent history to begin unheralded in some obscure loft-like side street office, and then crescendo until it shakes the nation — as did a garbage strike or two. There is a new "proletariat." It is black — and mostly ununionized. In many a union headquarters, techniques are now being sketched to organize "the new working class" by the millions.

Victor Riesel

Over on 43rd Street here, in an office of what the late Reverend Martin Luther King Jr. called "his favorite union," just such an organizing drive is being laid out.

This newest of drives will be aimed at the hundreds of thousands of hospital workers, first in the Northeast, then in the near Midwest, and finally in the South.

This campaign will shake many of the cities in which are virtually all of the land's 7,200 hospitals.

This drive will also stir loud cries from the operators of thousands of nursing homes and institutions in which live the aging and infirm. The push is aimed at any and all of the hospitals not now under contract with other unions. This leaves quite a field, since only 350 of the land's 10,000 to 12,000 hospitals and nursing homes have been unionized.

EVERY UNUNIONIZED hospital will be inside the target area — which will include the voluntary, the religious, the municipal, and federal centers of healing.

Behind this campaign is a union long accustomed to shaking, rattling, pushing, mass picketing, marching, demonstrating, and shouting down "the bosses." It is the union of 56-year-old Leon Davis, an old CIO militant who foresees a revival of the "spirit of the thirties," when John L. Lewis led the final struggle against the nation's giant industries and Walter Reuther imported the sit-in from France.

So strong is the parallel that Mr. Davis, whose union is known as Local 1199, Drug and Hospital Employes Union, has been promised considerable sums of organizing money if he joins in with the new Alliance for Labor Action (ALA).

In turn Mr. Davis, always a conditioned reflex bargainer, has demanded sole jurisdiction over the hospitals and nursing homes of America. Quite a tempting field. By the last count, there are some 3,600 voluntary hospitals. No one has counted the nursing homes, which now pop up like Beatles records.

In these hospitals and homes, there are well over one million employes — some 85 to 90 per cent of whom are black or Puerto Rican.

Should Mr. Davis' "Local 1199" (a phrase soon to be as much a household word nationally as it is in New York), it would be the world's biggest black union, though it has its share of Puerto Rican and white members. Its membership is now 50,000.

IT WAS REVEREND KING who rallied to this union long before he marched on Memphis. His voice still is heard in this union's halls and members' homes, for his speech has been preserved in a long-playing record.

And now his disciples are being trained for the drive. The Reverend Ralph Abernathy has sent ten of his Southern Christian Leadership Conference field workers up from Atlanta for organizing training. They are to learn how to be the advance guard of the new drive — especially in the South.

Wherever they go, they will carry the voice and banner of Reverend King. But the quiet drive, which union leaders insist is an un-campaign, has not waited upon the newly arrived SCLC trainees. There is a brand new National Organizing Committee of Hospital and Nursing Home Employes Operating out of West 44rd Street. Even before its initials could be strung together as NOCHNHE, the newest labor acrostic, the union began spreading beyond its New York base, first into New Jersey and then up into Connecticut. There it has just won its ninth unionization victory at important hospitals.

All this is not only a drive for cleaners and kitchen help, though the public tends to think of this union as an organization of manual and semi-skilled workers.

Mr. Davis' NOCHNHE has gone after, and will continue to attempt to unionize, all hospital employes except doctors and nurses.

This means technicians and professionals in x-ray and operating rooms, pathology laboratories, blood banks, cardio-pulmonary labs, dietary departments, research departments (medical and surgical) as well as white collar employes in the administrative offices — cashiers, auditors, computer operators.

This is the new frontier. Mr. Davis, carrying Reverend King's banner, using his words of praise and eager disciples, plans to hit it hard.

There will be mass picketing, demonstrations, united fronts with civil rights units and endless confrontations — if what has occurred in New York is a sign of things to come. I believe it is.

Executive Offices

President-elect Nixon is finding it necessary to reorganize the office of the chief executive.

Somewhat similar attempts have been made by preceding administrations reflecting an evolution in the presidency from merely a cabinet type of government to the addition of an important echelon of advisers who deal with special topics rather than the administration of departments or agencies.

The new president will, before long, need to define the responsibilities of his group of special advisers, setting forth where their duties begin and end, so that it will be clear just what the functions of the cabinet members are in relation to the men who sit at the elbow of the president every day.

PRESIDENTS IN RECENT YEARS have found that the White House requires not only an information-gathering staff but advisers with a thorough knowledge of specific fields in public affairs.

Mr. Nixon already has at work at least 14 task forces, composed of individuals from different parts of the country who specialize in particular subjects. One of the new president's chief assistants has been designated as the administrative head of all these various groups so that duplication between them can be avoided and co-ordination achieved.

Mr. Nixon has selected as chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, Paul W. McCracken, professor at the University of Michigan's graduate school of business. He is also to be the over-all chairman of the task forces.

Lee A. Dubridge, president of the California Institute of Technology, will be science adviser to the president, dealing not only with the space program but with research in all fields of science. Nearly every department of the government is in some way related directly or indirectly to what is going on in the scientific world.

Mr. Nixon has chosen Henry A. Kissinger, the head of Harvard's international seminar and its defense studies program, as his assistant for national security affairs. He, of course, will not be issuing orders to the joint chiefs of staff or other officials in the Pentagon, but will devote himself to long-range planning.

Basic policy will be made by the president, and such recommendations as come from Mr. Kissinger doubtless will be submitted to the Defense Department for study and comment.

A most interesting post has been given to Herbert G. Klein, who is to be director of communications for the entire executive branch of the government — a new concept.

As for relations with Congress, Bryce Harlow, who used to be an aide to President Eisenhower, will be the presidential assistant on legislative and congressional affairs and presumably will maintain contact with the chairmen of committees and other leaders in both houses.

Among the many task forces that have been set up to furnish the president with comprehensive studies are those which will deal with labor-management relations, crime and law enforcement, international economic policy, tax legislation, inflation, housing and urban renewal, public welfare, intergovernmental fiscal relations, education and health programs.

It may well be asked whether there will be conflicts or collisions between the cabinet officers and the presidential advisers. While duplication may occur to some extent, there will be a determined effort to separate actual policy-making from advice-giving.

Cabinet meetings were not as frequent under Presidents Kennedy and Johnson as they were in earlier years. It may be that Mr. Nixon will find it desirable to use his cabinet as an over-all counseling group, which would enable him to make decisions more objectively perhaps than might be the case if he depended merely on the specialists alone.

MR. NIXON'S EXPERIMENT in an expanded executive office is a logical outgrowth of the enlargement of the federal government. In 1940, for example, just before America entered World War II, the national budget was about $10 billion, while for the year 1969-70 it is expected to be nearly 20 times as much, or around $200 billion.

This is quite an increase during a period of 28 years. It is due, of course, primarily to that fact that America today has more than 200 million people and a gross national product of $900 billion, whereas in 1940 the population was around 133 million and the gross national product was only $100 billion.

VICTOR RIESEL

Hospital Unionizing Urged

NEW YORK — On this beat, it is the fashion of turbulent history to begin unheralded in some obscure loft-like side street office, and then crescendo until it shakes the nation — as did a garbage strike or two. There is a new "proletariat." It is black — and mostly ununionized. In many a union headquarters, techniques are now being sketched to organize "the new working class" by the millions.

Victor Riesel

Over on 43rd Street here, in an office of what the late Reverend Martin Luther King Jr. called "his favorite union," just such an organizing drive is being laid out.

This newest of drives will be aimed at the hundreds of thousands of hospital workers, first in the Northeast, then in the near Midwest, and finally in the South.

This campaign will shake many of the cities in which are virtually all of the land's 7,200 hospitals.

This drive will also stir loud cries from the operators of thousands of nursing homes and institutions in which live the aging and infirm. The push is aimed at any and all of the hospitals not now under contract with other unions. This leaves quite a field, since only 350 of the land's 10,000 to 12,000 hospitals and nursing homes have been unionized.

EVERY UNUNIONIZED hospital will be inside the target area — which will include the voluntary, the religious, the municipal, and federal centers of healing.

Behind this campaign is a union long accustomed to shaking, rattling, pushing, mass picketing, marching, demonstrating, and shouting down "the bosses." It is the union of 56-year-old Leon Davis, an old CIO militant who foresees a revival of the "spirit of the thirties," when John L. Lewis led the final struggle against the nation's giant industries and Walter Reuther imported the sit-in from France.

So strong is the parallel that Mr. Davis, whose union is known as Local 1199, Drug and Hospital Employes Union, has been promised considerable sums of organizing money if he joins in with the new Alliance for Labor Action (ALA).

In turn Mr. Davis, always a conditioned reflex bargainer, has demanded sole jurisdiction over the hospitals and nursing homes of America. Quite a tempting field. By the last count, there are some 3,600 voluntary hospitals. No one has counted the nursing homes, which now pop up like Beatles records.

In these hospitals and homes, there are well over one million employes — some 85 to 90 per cent of whom are black or Puerto Rican.

Should Mr. Davis' "Local 1199" (a phrase soon to be as much a household word nationally as it is in New York), it would be the world's biggest black union, though it has its share of Puerto Rican and white members. Its membership is now 50,000.

IT WAS REVEREND KING who rallied to this union long before he marched on Memphis. His voice still is heard in this union's halls and members' homes, for his speech has been preserved in a long-playing record.

And now his disciples are being trained for the drive. The Reverend Ralph Abernathy has sent ten of his Southern Christian Leadership Conference field workers up from Atlanta for organizing training. They are to learn how to be the advance guard of the new drive — especially in the South.

Wherever they go, they will carry the voice and banner of Reverend King. But the quiet drive, which union leaders insist is an un-campaign, has not waited upon the newly arrived SCLC trainees. There is a brand new National Organizing Committee of Hospital and Nursing Home Employes Operating out of West 44rd Street. Even before its initials could be strung together as NOCHNHE, the newest labor acrostic, the union began spreading beyond its New York base, first into New Jersey and then up into Connecticut. There it has just won its ninth unionization victory at important hospitals.

All this is not only a drive for cleaners and kitchen help, though the public tends to think of this union as an organization of manual and semi-skilled workers.

Mr. Davis' NOCHNHE has gone after, and will continue to attempt to unionize, all hospital employes except doctors and nurses.

This means technicians and professionals in x-ray and operating rooms, pathology laboratories, blood banks, cardio-pulmonary labs, dietary departments, research departments (medical and surgical) as well as white collar employes in the administrative offices — cashiers, auditors, computer operators.

This is the new frontier. Mr. Davis, carrying Reverend King's banner, using his words of praise and eager disciples, plans to hit it hard.

There will be mass picketing, demonstrations, united fronts with civil rights units and endless confrontations — if what has occurred in New York is a sign of things to come. I believe it is.

Executive Offices

President-elect Nixon is finding it necessary to reorganize the office of the chief executive.

Somewhat similar attempts have been made by preceding administrations reflecting an evolution in the presidency from merely a cabinet type of government to the addition of an important echelon of advisers who deal with special topics rather than the administration of departments or agencies.

The new president will, before long, need to define the responsibilities of his group of special advisers, setting forth where their duties begin and end, so that it will be clear just what the functions of the cabinet members are in relation to the men who sit at the elbow of the president every day.

PRESIDENTS IN RECENT YEARS have found that the White House requires not only an information-gathering staff but advisers with a thorough knowledge of specific fields in public affairs.

Mr. Nixon already has at work at least 14 task forces, composed of individuals from different parts of the country who specialize in particular subjects. One of the new president's chief assistants has been designated as the administrative head of all these various groups so that duplication between them can be avoided and co-ordination achieved.

Mr. Nixon has selected as chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, Paul W. McCracken, professor at the University of Michigan's graduate school of business. He is also to be the over-all chairman of the task forces.

Lee A. Dubridge, president of the California Institute of Technology, will be science adviser to the president, dealing not only with the space program but with research in all fields of science. Nearly every department of the government is in some way related directly or indirectly to what is going on in the scientific world.

Mr. Nixon has chosen Henry A. Kissinger, the head of Harvard's international seminar and its defense studies program, as his assistant for national security affairs. He, of course, will not be issuing orders to the joint chiefs of staff or other officials in the Pentagon, but will devote himself to long-range planning.

Basic policy will be made by the president, and such recommendations as come from Mr. Kissinger doubtless will be submitted to the Defense Department for study and comment.

A most interesting post has been given to Herbert G. Klein, who is to be director of communications for the entire executive branch of the government — a new concept.

As for relations with Congress, Bryce Harlow, who used to be an aide to President Eisenhower, will be the presidential assistant on legislative and congressional affairs and presumably will maintain contact with the chairmen of committees and other leaders in both houses.

Among the many task forces that have been set up to furnish the president with comprehensive studies are those which will deal with labor-management relations, crime and law enforcement, international economic policy, tax legislation, inflation, housing and urban renewal, public welfare, intergovernmental fiscal relations, education and health programs.

It may well be asked whether there will be conflicts or collisions between the cabinet officers and the presidential advisers. While duplication may occur to some extent, there will be a determined effort to separate actual policy-making from advice-giving.

Cabinet meetings were not as frequent under Presidents Kennedy and Johnson as they were in earlier years. It may be that Mr. Nixon will find it desirable to use his cabinet as an over-all counseling group, which would enable him to make decisions more objectively perhaps than might be the case if he depended merely on the specialists alone.

MR. NIXON'S EXPERIMENT in an expanded executive office is a logical outgrowth of the enlargement of the federal government. In 1940, for example, just before America entered World War II, the national budget was about $10 billion, while for the year 1969-70 it is expected to be nearly 20 times as much, or around $200 billion.

This is quite an increase during a period of 28 years. It is due, of course, primarily to that fact that America today has more than 200 million people and a gross national product of $900 billion, whereas in 1940 the population was around 133 million and the gross national product was only $100 billion.

to learn further details of the project.

"This is not a government project for low-income housing," Willison told the audience. "This is a quality project proposed by a private developer with private capital."

Don Eckert, planning coordinator, told the audience: "This will upgrade your neighborhood. It will require an enormous amount of money. This is not government housing in any way You are fortunate to have a developer consider your area."

Objections from the Fisher Park residents were based primarily on the fact that utilization of the tract would take away a potential recreation or park area. They said children of Fisher Park residents now must travel five miles to Thompson Park and that the playground at the former Pleasant Heights School is too great a distance for younger children to walk.

They contended that the tract was set aside for recreational or similar purposes in the original zoning of the city and that status should be maintained.

The residents said the undeveloped tract provides a place for Fisher Park youngsters to sled ride, "away from busy streets and traffic." They said in the past some members of the commission and Council had agreed the tract should be retained for recreational purposes.

The S-1 classification now affixed to the tract covers "large public or semi-public land - holdings, land which is suitable for non - commercial recreation, areas to be kept open for highway interchanges or take-off or landing of aircraft, low-lying land subject to periodic flooding or land to be kept open to protect the source of the municipal water supply."

Members of the commission attending were George Steele, chairman, James Grafton, John Parsons and J. Clifford Conley. Steele said the commission will approve or reject the application and then advise Council of its action. He said he did not know exactly when the commission will act.

The first "legal" execution in America took place in 1630.

Agnew Says Elected People Should Guide Poverty Plans

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Vice President-elect Sipro T. Agnew says elected officials, not the poor, should have the final word on policies and priorities in the nation's poverty programs.

"Let us not see an absence of compassion in an insistence on competence," the Maryland governor told more than 3,000 officials of the nation's cities Monday. "Let us encourage participation of the poor where they can make an effective contribution.

"But let us not confuse the disclosure of symptoms as a substitute for the wisdom of trained professionals. There is ample opportunity and need for each."

Agnew, a luncheon speaker at the annual Congress of Cities, said both state and local governments at times "have been short circuited by an increasing, disturbing trend of federal aid grants to non governmental entities."

Afterwards, at a news conference, Agnew said he was referring primarily to so-called community action programs—a major vehicle during the Johnson administration for participation by the poor in the poverty war.

"I'm not relating to nongovernmental entities that are well established, well trained and that have peculiar expertise for doing what is necessary, such as hospital units and that sort of thing," Agnew said. "I'm talking about the community action programs that too frequently involve grants of money to newly formed groups of individuals who espouse a lofty purpose without equivalent knowledge of how to accomplish it. I'm not criticizing their motives. I am criticizing the effectiveness of this spending."

Agnew, designated by Nixon as his liaison with state and local governments, said programs that are working well "should not be disrupted to prove a point. But I say the final determination must be left to elected officials."

Agnew, who described himself as "more realist than romanticist," said the new administration's immediate problem would be "to scale down the gigantic federal establishment.

"The process of 'letting go' is never easy but the federal government must relinquish some of its power if we are to re-establish the sensitive balance of our federal system," he said.

He told the news conference that Nixon had not seen his speech in advance. Asked if the speech could be a blueprint of Nixon administration urban policy, he said: "If he likes it when he reads it, yes."

Nixon

earliest years of the world organization's history.

Nixon, meanwhile, joked Monday night that he may be getting the Hong Kong flu but was described as only "sneezing a little" and fit for a national television-radio appearance Wednesday in Washington to announce his Cabinet.

Addressing the board of directors of the Boys' Clubs of America, Nixon said he knew his audience would like to learn about the members of his Cabinet, but that he would withhold the disclosure until Wdenesday, assuming he was not coming down with the flu.

Ziegler later said the President-elect was joking and, despite some sneezing, had no doubt about going through with the nationwide broadcast.

Nixon said that his decision to announce all 12 Cabinet choices at once was "something that's unprecedented, or at least unprecedented in recent times."

Earlier, he indicated he would go beyond Cabinet appointments and announce some other selections for top federal positions.

In addressing the Boys' Club board, which he headed for four years, Nixon said it was his hope that a way could be found to channel some of the social welfare funds of the federal government through private voluntary organizations of that kind.

He said he hasn't figured out how this can be accomplished but reported he will instruct his secretary of health, education and welfare to seek a way.

Chairman William McChesney Martin of the Federal Reserve Board, after conferring with Nixon, agreed to remain on the job in the next administration and told reporters he thinks the President-elect will curb inflation.

Martin, a former president of the New York Stock Exchange and much respected by "sound money" advocates, told reporters at Nixon's Pierre Hotel headquarters that he sees an inflationary psychology continuing.

But when asked if he believed Nixon could put an end to it, Martin replied:

"I think Mr. Nixon will. I was very encouraged by the meeting."

Martin said Nixon asked him to continue on the job until the normal expiration of his term on Jan. 31, 1970.

He said he would stay on and "do everything I can to help Mr. Nixon in the difficult days that he has ahead of him." But he said that for personal—not political—reasons he stopped short of giving a firm commitment to continue until 1970. By then, Martin would have spent 20 years at the helm of the reserve board.

Earlier Monday, Nixon met with a former official who once worked very closely with Martin: Robert B. Anderson, a New York investment banker who was under secretary of defense and secretary of the treasury in the administration of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower. There was no indication of whether Anderson had been sounded out about a new post.

On Monday afternoon, the President-elect announced word of two additional appointments to this White House staff. To serve as special assistant he named Robert J. Brown, 33, of High Point, N.C., and William Safire, a 38-year-old author and New York public relations man who served as a writer in Nixon's 1968 campaign.

Brown, a Negro, was said to be getting an assignment of general scope but, as he put it to newsmen, will concentrate particularly on Nixon's plans to promote "black capitalism." He has been associated with the Southern Christian Leadership Conference and the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

"We're not making any grandiose promises," said Brown. "We're going to have action."

He said he hoped to work with the more militant Negro groups, among others, declaring:

"You're not going to have to throw a firebomb or a brick to get in. The door will be open."

Brown is president of B&C Associates, a public relations and advertising firm in High Point.

He has been active in the civil rights movement.

Lisbon Police Report None Hurt In Mishap

LISBON — A car driven by Pauletta Begalla, 25, of Salem RD 2, struck the rear of one driven by Richard O. Barnhouse, 50, of Rogers at 12:30 p.m. Monday at Nelson Ave. and E. Chestnut St.

Police said both vehicles were traveling east on Chestnut St. with Barnhouse in the lead. He had to stop, turning into Nelson, because of a car pulling from a parking lot, and the Begalla vehicle skidded into his car. Damage was minor, police said, and no one was cited.

Auto Mishap Hurts Two

Two were injured in a minor auto accident Monday night near the Shippingport Bridge. Treated at City Hospital were James Searight of Hookstown RD 1, the driver, who suffered a laceration of the forehead, and Marcie Noll, daughter of William Noll of Georgetown RD 1 and a passenger, who also suffered a laceration of the forehead. Area police had no report of the mishap.

Liquor Store Hours Set

Holiday hours affecting four Ohio liquor stores in the area have been announced by Harry Excell, manager of the East Liverpool store. Beginning Monday through Dec. 23 and Dec. 30, the hours will be from 10 a. m. to 9 p. m. and Dec. 23 and 31, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. in Salem, Wellsville, East Palestine and East Liverpool. Regular hours will prevail on other days, Excell said.

Loot Placed At $32

The Potters Adjustment Bureau advised police Monday afternoon the loot totaled $32.32 in a weekend burglary at its offices in the Brookes Building on Market St. The initial report said a box of change was taken in the entry between noon Saturday and Sunday night, but the extent of the loss had not been determined.

John A. Raffa of 402 15th St., Wellsville, was reported in "fair" condition today at City Hospital, where he underwent surgery Thursday and Friday.

Housing

to learn further details of the project.

"This is not a government project for low-income housing," Willison told the audience. "This is a quality project proposed by a private developer with private capital."

Don Eckert, planning coordinator, told the audience: "This will upgrade your neighborhood. It will require an enormous amount of money. This is not government housing in any way You are fortunate to have a developer consider your area."

Objections from the Fisher Park residents were based primarily on the fact that utilization of the tract would take away a potential recreation or park area. They said children of Fisher Park residents now must travel five miles to Thompson Park and that the playground at the former Pleasant Heights School is too great a distance for younger children to walk.

They contended that the tract was set aside for recreational or similar purposes in the original zoning of the city and that status should be maintained.

The residents said the undeveloped tract provides a place for Fisher Park youngsters to sled ride, "away from busy streets and traffic." They said in the past some members of the commission and Council had agreed the tract should be retained for recreational purposes.

The S-1 classification now affixed to the tract covers "large public or semi-public landholdings, land which is suitable for non - commercial recreation, areas to be kept open for highway interchanges or take-off or landing of aircraft, low-lying land subject to periodic flooding or land to be kept open to protect the source of the municipal water supply."

Members of the commission attending were George Steele, chairman, James Grafton, John Parsons and J. Clifford Conley. Steele said the commission will approve or reject the application and then advise Council of its action. He said he did not know exactly when the commission will act.

The first "legal" execution in America took place in 1630.

Agnew Says Elected People Should Guide Poverty Plans

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Vice President-elect Sipro T. Agnew says elected officials, not the poor, should have the final word on policies and priorities in the nation's poverty programs.

"Let us not see an absence of compassion in an insistence on competence," the Maryland governor told more than 3,000 officials of the nation's cities Monday. "Let us encourage participation of the poor where they can make an effective contribution.

"But let us not confuse the disclosure of symptoms as a substitute for the wisdom of trained professionals. There is ample opportunity and need for each."

Agnew, a luncheon speaker at the annual Congress of Cities, said both state and local governments at times "have been short circuited by an increasing, disturbing trend of federal aid grants to non governmental entities."

Afterwards, at a news conference, Agnew said he was referring primarily to so-called community action programs—a major vehicle during the Johnson administration for participation by the poor in the poverty war.

"I'm not relating to nongovernmental entities that are well established, well trained and that have peculiar expertise for doing what is necessary, such as hospital units and that sort of thing," Agnew said. "I'm talking about the community action programs that too frequently involve grants of money to newly formed groups of individuals who espouse a lofty purpose without equivalent knowledge of how to accomplish it. I'm not criticizing their motives. I am criticizing the effectiveness of this spending."

Agnew, designated by Nixon as his liaison with state and local governments, said programs that are working well "should not be disrupted to prove a point. But I say the final determination must be left to elected officials."

Agnew, who described himself as "more realist than romanticist," said the new administration's immediate problem would be "to scale down the gigantic federal establishment.

"The process of 'letting go' is never easy but the federal government must relinquish some of its power if we are to re-establish the sensitive balance of our federal system," he said.

He told the news conference that Nixon had not seen his speech in advance. Asked if the speech could be a blueprint of Nixon administration urban policy, he said: "If he likes it when he reads it, yes."

Nixon

earliest years of the world organization's history.

Nixon, meanwhile, joked Monday night that he may be getting the Hong Kong flu but was described as only "sneezing a little" and fit for a national television-radio appearance Wednesday in Washington to announce his Cabinet.

Addressing the board of directors of the Boys' Clubs of America, Nixon said he knew his audience would like to learn about the members of his Cabinet, but that he would withhold the disclosure until Wdenesday, assuming he was not coming down with the flu.

Ziegler later said the President-elect was joking and, despite some sneezing, had no doubt about going through with the nationwide broadcast.

Nixon said that his decision to announce all 12 Cabinet choices at once was "something that's unprecedented, or at least unprecedented in recent times."

Earlier, he indicated he would go beyond Cabinet appointments and announce some other selections for top federal positions.

In addressing the Boys' Club board, which he headed for four years, Nixon said it was his hope that a way could be found to channel some of the social welfare funds of the federal government through private voluntary organizations of that kind.

He said he hasn't figured out how this can be accomplished but reported he will instruct his secretary of health, education and welfare to seek a way.

Chairman William McChesney Martin of the Federal Reserve Board, after conferring with Nixon, agreed to remain on the job in the next administration and told reporters he thinks the President-elect will curb inflation.

Martin, a former president of the New York Stock Exchange and much respected by "sound money" advocates, told reporters at Nixon's Pierre Hotel headquarters that he sees an inflationary psychology continuing.

But when asked if he believed Nixon could put an end to it, Martin replied:

"I think Mr. Nixon will. I was very encouraged by the meeting."

Martin said Nixon asked him to continue on the job until the normal expiration of his term on Jan. 31, 1970.

He said he would stay on and "do everything I can to help Mr. Nixon in the difficult days that he has ahead of him." But he said that for personal—not political—reasons he stopped short of giving a firm commitment to continue until 1970. By then, Martin would have spent 20 years at the helm of the reserve board.

Earlier Monday, Nixon met with a former official who once worked very closely with Martin: Robert B. Anderson, a New York investment banker who was under secretary of defense and secretary of the treasury in the administration of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower. There was no indication of whether Anderson had been sounded out about a new post.

On Monday afternoon, the President-elect announced word of two additional appointments to this White House staff. To serve as special assistant he named Robert J. Brown, 33, of High Point, N.C., and William Safire, a 38-year-old author and New York public relations man who served as a writer in Nixon's 1968 campaign.

Brown, a Negro, was said to be getting an assignment of general scope but, as he put it to newsmen, will concentrate particularly on Nixon's plans to promote "black capitalism." He has been associated with the Southern Christian Leadership Conference and the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

"We're not making any grandiose promises," said Brown. "We're going to have action."

He said he hoped to work with the more militant Negro groups, among others, declaring:

"You're not going to have to throw a firebomb or a brick to get in. The door will be open."

Brown is president of B&C Associates, a public relations and advertising firm in High Point.

He has been active in the civil rights movement.

Lisbon Police Report None Hurt In Mishap

LISBON — A car driven by Pauletta Begalla, 25, of Salem RD 2, struck the rear of one driven by Richard O. Barnhouse, 50, of Rogers at 12:30 p.m. Monday at Nelson Ave. and E. Chestnut St.

Police said both vehicles were traveling east on Chestnut St. with Barnhouse in the lead. He had to stop, turning into Nelson, because of a car pulling from a parking lot, and the Begalla vehicle skidded into his car. Damage was minor, police said, and no one was cited.

A Ball–Up To Point

RAWLINS, Wyo. (AP) — Convicts at the Wyoming state penitentiary have staked out a golf green behind the prison walls and are taking up golf. Warden Lenard Meacham has given his approval with one ground rule. Balls smacked over the prison wall are out of bounds—and the golfer is not permitted to hunt for them.

Jailed By Judge Motorist Fined,

Clinton F. Young, 29, of 318 Campground Rd. was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to five days in jail Monday by County Judge Barry Dickson at East Palestine for drunken driving.

Young, who also was fined $25 for public intoxication,, was involved in an accident on County Rd. 428 over the weekend.

Dennis J. Roscoe of East Liverpool RD 3 forfeited a $50 bond on a charge of driving with an expired license. Martha Thompson of Darlington RD 1 was fined $20 and costs for failure to stop in the assured clear distance. She was cited in a mishap in Unity Sunday.

Vote Waited On 8 Resolutions

U.N.'s Political Group Concludes Arms Debate

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The U.N. General Assembly's main political committee winds up its annual disarmament debate today prior to voting on eight resolutions.

One draft before the 126-nation committee, submitted by Brazil and nine other nations, urged top-level contact between the United States and the Soviet Union in connection with their earlier agreement to begin bilateral discussions on both offensive and defensive delivery systems. But it does not appeal directly for such talks, reflecting the theme of most speeches during the three-week debate.

President Johnson, who cooled toward the idea of such talks after the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia, is reported to have revived hopes of a summit meeting before the new Nixon administration takes over in January.

The U.S. position changed after Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin indicated to former Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara recently that he would welcome a summit meeting now.

Another resolution, expected to win approval, calls on the 18-nation Geneva Disarmament Committee to work on a treaty banning underground nuclear tests.

Underground nuclear tests are not covered by the limited test ban treaty signed in August 1963. The United States supports the idea of discussions to broaden the treaty but insists a foolproof detection system is necessary.

Last week the United States proposed establishing an international network to monitor planned underground nuclear blasts with the aim of improving detection techniques.

William C. Foster, the chief U.S. arms negotiator, proposed that some U.S. underground nuclear blasts be used to test the monitoring systems.

A third resolution calls on Secretary-General U Thant to sound out member states on the idea of registering all imports and exports of arms with the United Nations.

Canada and nine other nations have introduced a resolution supporting a recommendation by the Geneva committee for a study of the effects of poison gas and other weapons of chemical and bacteriological warfare.

Two groups of non-nuclear nations have introduced resolutions calling for a revival of meetings of the 126-nation U.N. Disarmament Commission to cover the gamut of nuclear questions.

The Soviet bloc submitted a rival resolution to limit such talks to the 18-nation Geneva group.

The United States and the Soviet Union are reported conferring privately on the prospects of enlarging the seven-year-old Geneva group. The talks apparently were launched after Japan renewed a long-standing request to be included on the committee.

It currently has 17 active members and is being boycotted by France.

and artillery. Two Americans were killed and two wounded, and a Communist defector scouting for the American infantrymen also was killed.

U.S. intelligence sources say the enemy has 15,000 to 25,000 troops deployed along a 100-mile stretch of the Cambodian border.

"It could be he has as many as 30,000," the source said, "but I don't think so."

In the Central Highlands, Viet Cong or North Vietnamese soldiers entered two undefended hamlets 18 miles west of Pleiku, burned down 125 homes of the mountain tribesmen known as Montagnards, and abducted one hamlet chief and four other officials. The Montagnards often fight under the leadership of the U.S. Special Forces and their homes may have been burned as a warning.

The U.S. Command also announced that antiaircraft missiles, the Soviet SAMs, were fired at a U.S. Navy photo reconnaissance plane and its jet fighter escorts over the North Vietnamese city of Vinh Monday but "all aircraft successfully evaded the SAMs and returned safely."

It was the third time since the bombing of North Vietnam was halted Nov. 1 that SAMs have been reported fired at American reconnaissance planes and their escorts. One plane was damaged by a missile that exploded near it but the pilot made it back to his carrier.

Earlier, the U.S. Command had announced that an Air Force reconnaissance Phantom was shot down Monday by antiaircraft fire about 55 miles north of the demilitarized zone. The two crewmen ejected into the Tonkin Gulf, and a helicopter picked them up. It was the fourth American plane shot down over North Vietnam since the bombing halt.

U.S. headquarters also announced that two more American helicopters were shot down Monday in widely separated areas of South Vietnam. Two crewmen were wounded. The losses raised to 952 the number of American combat helicopters shot down over South Vietnam since Jan. 1, 1961.

Smoleski Loses Another Vote In Hancock Count

Hancock County's sheriff-elect, Louis Smoleski, lost another vote in the recount Monday of Precincts 13-15, narrowing his lead to 27 votes over GOP candidate Ralph Patrick Jr. Both men are from Weirton.

Grant and Clay Districts have been completed, with the recount to resume Wednesday at 9 a. m. for Butler District.

The vote now stands Smoleski 9,222 and Patrick 9,195.

$55 In Cash Stolen At Salineville School

SALINEVILLE — Approximately $55 in cash was taken from desks at the Salineville Elementary building during the weekend.

Police Chief Gordon Sweeney said classroom doors appeared to have been forced open by a screw driver and that the desks were pried open. Entry into the building apparently was through a front door which was found unlocked by Fred Wilson, school custodian, on Monday morning.

Some of the money taken, Sweeney said, was to be used for individual photos which are taken annually.

Exports Iron, Steel

NEW DELHI (AP) — India exported about 1.2 million metric tons of iron and steel valued at more than $72 million in fiscal year 1967-68. The exports were made to 39 countries which included the United States, Britain, Australia, Yugoslavia, Bulgaria, the Soviet Union and Poland.

Lisbon, Center, Elkrun Study Ambulance Plan

LISBON — Lynn Ambulance, Inc., of East Liverpool will provide ambulance service to Lisbon, Center Township and Elkrun Township under its family plan arrangement providing the three subdivisions put up a total of $600 a year to subsidize the service.

Lisbon Council Monday night tabled the proposal pending talks with Center and Elkrun trustees.

Lynn Ambulance and the Becker Ambulance Co. of Salem have been answering Lisbon-Center-Elkrun calls since the volunteer fire department discontinued its ambulance service Sept. 23. Lynn McFadden of Lisbon, a driver for Lynn Ambulance, said he has had 38 ambulance runs since the firemen quit.

—:—

McFADDEN told Council Lynn's proposal is the same, except for family plan and individual rates, as the one operating in East Liverpool, Chester and Newell.

A. J. Smith and George M. Nace Jr. of the Board of Trustees of Public Affairs asked Council to approve a new pay schedule, retroactive to Dec. 1, for the board's employes in the water and sewer departments.

Council authorized Solicitor Joseph Baronzzi to prepare a new pay scale ordinance for first reading at the next meeting Dec. 30—a week later than usual so year-end business can be transacted.

Council appointed Bill Robinson its representative to join a Lisbon - Columbiana county group which will go to Ohio Highway Department Division 11 offices in New Philadelphia regarding the location of the proposed Routes 30 and 45 interchange north of Lisbon.

William Morgan Jr. of the Chamber of Commerce asked Council to appoint a representative. He said the Chamber also requested the county to support its position that the proposed interchange site—the Andric Rd.-Route 45 junction just north of town — should be moved farther north beyond the "Y" at Route 45 and Franklin Square Rd.

Lynn said it will operate an ambulance and a standby unit, both radio-equipped, and provide two trained men for 24-hour service.

RATES would be $25 for a call originating in Lisbon, Center or Elkrun and going to a hospital in Salem. Any call going beyond Salem shall be charged an additional $1 per mile from Salem to point of discharge. Any waiting time on calls beyond Salem shall be assessed an additional $10 an hour.

A charge of $30 per person shall be made for calls to motor vehicle accidents. Free service shall be provided city, county and state employes injured while on duty.

The firm would offer the Lisbon - Center - Elkrun area its family ambulance plan at $12 a year. This entitles any member of the family living at home to ambulance service to a hospital in Salem. The subscription cost per year for an individual under the family plan shall be $8 a year. The rate on distant trips under the family plan shall be 70 cents for loaded mile beyond the first 10 miles, which shall be free.

Lisbon and the townships shall have the option of renewing the contract for a like term annually subject to a mutual review of the subsidy amount.

Lynn will provide and maintain liability insurance covering personal injury in the minimum amount of $100,000 per person and $300,000 per accident and property damage in the amount of $25,000.

McFadden said he believes 1,500 family plan subscriptions can be sold in the Lisbon-Center-Elkrun area. He said the subsidy amount could be reviewed another year if subscription sales exceed the estimate.

SMITH outlined the pay raise proposal:

New employe — $400 per month, up $50, plus $45 per month at the end of six months; general superintendent, $485, up $20; operator — trainee, $445, up $20; clerk, $375, up $15; casual laborer, $1.50, $1.75 and $2 per hour.

Smith asked that employes be allowed an additional $10 per month for each training certificate they earn, with no limit on the number, and that provisions be made to raise the pay of the consulting engineer now receiving $75 per month.

The Board of Public Affairs has its own funds, but expenditures must be approved by Council.

Council took action on two other matters:

The Ohio Highway Department was given permission to plow snow and scatter cinders on state routes inside town and the fire department's protection agreement with Center and Elkrun township was renewed for three years. The rates are unchanged — $3 per hour for each fireman, $5 per hour for the chief and $10 per month for maintenance of equipment.

Shoot Captured With Perfect 25

Breaking 25 of 25, Gale McIntosh placed first in the 16-yard shoot at the Columbiana County Fish and Game Protective Association range Sunday.

Earl Gilbert was a close second with 24 of 25.

Luther Adkins scored two wins in the high gun shoot and Larry Faith, James Czech and James Lawson one each.

In the redbird shoot, Adkins, Gary Tolson and Czech each had one win and Gilbert and Adkins each had one win in the protector shoot.

The teams of Ken Alford and Lanford Blevins tied for high during the week, with 74 out of 75. John McIntosh's team is second with 73 out of 75.

Anyone who wishes to compete in the winter league should contact Paul Saling. The next shoot will be Wednesday night.

Liston Faces Lincoln In Baltimore Tonight

BALTIMORE (AP) — Sonny Liston, hungering to regain the heavyweight title he lost in 1964, meets Amos "Big Train" Lincoln in a scheduled 10 round bout in the Civic Center tonight.

The winner will be angling for a fight with the winner of a 15-round heavyweight bout in Philadelphia later tonight when Joe Frazer, defending his five-state crown, meets Argentine contender Oscar Bonavena.

Both fights will be presented on a closed-circuit television hookup.

Powell

90th Congress March 1, 1967. The House, in a 278-to-176 vote, went further than the recommendation by a select nine-man committee that he be censured.

He was accused of using public funds for his own pleasure, keeping his wife on the congressional payroll while pocketing her salary and making private airplane trips at government expense.

The grand jury investigation had been going on for 18 months. The length of the investigation had prompted some congressmen to say privately that failure to hand up an indictment would clear the way for Powell to take his seat in the next Congress.

The exclusion did not carry over and Powell won his usual landslide re-election Nov. 5.

Rep. H. R. Gross, R-Iowa, said Monday night the lack of an indictment would not affect his intention to try to block seating Powell.

"There will be a number of others opposed to him," Gross said. He declined, however, to estimate opposition strength or to name any of those opposed.

It takes the objection of only one member to require a roll call vote on seating Powell.

The Supreme Court has agreed to hear Powell's suit against the House in which he says it acted unconstitutionally The court, however, gave no indication when it took the case Nov. 18 whether it would act before the 91st Congress convenes Jan. 3.

Some congressmen have taken a dim view of the possibility the court might rule Powell should have been seated.

"It would create a very serious constitutional impasse," said Rep. Vernon W. Thomson, R-Wis., recently. Thomson was a member of the select committee that originally investigated Powell and he has said he is opposed to seating him.

Powell said shortly after his re-election that he would be willing to return to Congress as a freshman, forfeiting the 22 years seniority that carried him to chairmanship of the Education and Labor Committee.

Should Powell regain his seat, even after a floor fight, it likely would ease the impact of any subsequent court decision. A decision before Congress convenes, however, likely would rankle some Congressmen who may have relaxed their opposition to Powell but not to what they consider an overly liberal court.

Also pending against Powell is a 90 day jail term and $500 fine levied after his conviction in 1960 for criminal contempt in refusing to pay a libel judgment. Powell has paid $56,000 to a harlem woman he accused of being a graft collector for crooked police and has appealed the contempt conviction to the New York Supreme Court.

Sale Action Studied By Custom Chemicals

Tentative approval of an option to sell Custom Chemicals, Inc., was made by the company's stockholders during a special meeting Saturday at the Holiday Inn at Waterford Park.

Operations at the plant at Arroyo have ceased and officers of the company have been negotiating with a West Coast firm for sale of the plant.

Praised By Some Critics

Barth, Noted Theologian, Claimed In Switzerland

BASEL, Switzerland (AP) — Karl Barth, one of the world's leading Protestant theologians, died early today at his home in Basel.

A native of Basel, Barth was praised as the most creative Protestant theologian since John Calvin. He also was variously damned as a heretic, a narrow-minded biblicist and an atheist in disguise—but even some of his critics called him "the most monumental appearance in our period."

He gave the world of religious thought 10 fat tomes, elaborating a formidable and intricate Protestantism that stressed the spiritual nature of true religion —faith in Christ, the church of Christ and the Bible as His witness.

As a young minister in World War I, Barth published his first bombshell in 1918. His "Epistle to the Romans" was a scathing attack on the dominant "liberal" theology of the day.

As a scholar and later a teacher, Barth had little time for politics—"fundamentally uninteresting"—until 1933 after Hitler established the Third Reich. Then a professor at the University of Bonn, he repeatedly attacked Nazism until he was arrested, tried, found guilty of "seducing the minds of German students" and expelled from Germany in 1935.

In World War II, Barth volunteered for duty in the Swiss army at the age of 54 and spent much of the duration guarding a bridge on the German frontier. After the war he returned briefly to lecture in the bombed-out ruins of his old university in Bonn, then came back to Basel to carry on with the intellectual job he started in 1932: the writing of Church Dogmatics.

Thought by many to be too eye-wearying and garrulous, Dogmatics was nonetheless hailed as the century's only equivalent to the summa of medieval scholastics, wreathed with a knowledge of 1,900 years of Christian writing.

Vote Waited On 8 Resolutions

U.N.'s Political Group Concludes Arms Debate

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The U.N. General Assembly's main political committee winds up its annual disarmament debate today prior to voting on eight resolutions.

One draft before the 126-nation committee, submitted by Brazil and nine other nations, urged top-level contact between the United States and the Soviet Union in connection with their earlier agreement to begin bilateral discussions on both offensive and defensive delivery systems. But it does not appeal directly for such talks, reflecting the theme of most speeches during the three-week debate.

President Johnson, who cooled toward the idea of such talks after the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia, is reported to have revived hopes of a summit meeting before the new Nixon administration takes over in January.

The U.S. position changed after Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin indicated to former Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara recently that he would welcome a summit meeting now.

Another resolution, expected to win approval, calls on the 18-nation Geneva Disarmament Committee to work on a treaty banning underground nuclear tests.

Underground nuclear tests are not covered by the limited test ban treaty signed in August 1963. The United States supports the idea of discussions to broaden the treaty but insists a foolproof detection system is necessary.

Last week the United States proposed establishing an international network to monitor planned underground nuclear blasts with the aim of improving detection techniques.

William C. Foster, the chief U.S. arms negotiator, proposed that some U.S. underground nuclear blasts be used to test the monitoring systems.

A third resolution calls on Secretary-General U Thant to sound out member states on the idea of registering all imports and exports of arms with the United Nations.

Canada and nine other nations have introduced a resolution supporting a recommendation by the Geneva committee for a study of the effects of poison gas and other weapons of chemical and bacteriological warfare.

Two groups of non-nuclear nations have introduced resolutions calling for a revival of meetings of the 126-nation U.N. Disarmament Commission to cover the gamut of nuclear questions.

The Soviet bloc submitted a rival resolution to limit such talks to the 18-nation Geneva group.

The United States and the Soviet Union are reported conferring privately on the prospects of enlarging the seven-year-old Geneva group. The talks apparently were launched after Japan renewed a long-standing request to be included on the committee.

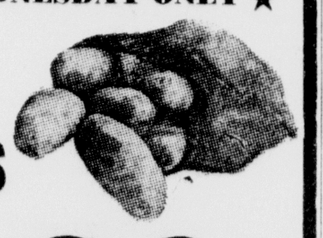

It currently has 17 active members and is being boycotted by France.

and artillery. Two Americans were killed and two wounded, and a Communist defector scouting for the American infantrymen also was killed.

U.S. intelligence sources say the enemy has 15,000 to 25,000 troops deployed along a 100-mile stretch of the Cambodian border.

"It could be he has as many as 30,000," the source said, "but I don't think so."

In the Central Highlands, Viet Cong or North Vietnamese soldiers entered two undefended hamlets 18 miles west of Pleiku, burned down 125 homes of the mountain tribesmen known as Montagnards, and abducted one hamlet chief and four other officials. The Montagnards often fight under the leadership of the U.S. Special Forces and their homes may have been burned as a warning.

The U.S. Command also announced that antiaircraft missiles, the Soviet SAMs, were fired at a U.S. Navy photo reconnaissance plane and its jet fighter escorts over the North Vietnamese city of Vinh Monday but "all aircraft successfully evaded the SAMs and returned safely."

It was the third time since the bombing of North Vietnam was halted Nov. 1 that SAMs have been reported fired at American reconnaissance planes and their escorts. One plane was damaged by a missile that exploded near it but the pilot made it back to his carrier.

Earlier, the U.S. Command had announced that an Air Force reconnaissance Phantom was shot down Monday by antiaircraft fire about 55 miles north of the demilitarized zone. The two crewmen ejected into the Tonkin Gulf, and a helicopter picked them up. It was the fourth American plane shot down over North Vietnam since the bombing halt.

U.S. headquarters also announced that two more American helicopters were shot down Monday in widely separated areas of South Vietnam. Two crewmen were wounded. The losses raised to 952 the number of American combat helicopters shot down over South Vietnam since Jan. 1, 1961.

Smoleski Loses Another Vote In Hancock Count

Hancock County's sheriff-elect, Louis Smoleski, lost another vote in the recount Monday of Precincts 13-15, narrowing his lead to 27 votes over GOP candidate Ralph Patrick Jr. Both men are from Weirton.

Grant and Clay Districts have been completed, with the recount to resume Wednesday at 9 a. m. for Butler District.

The vote now stands Smoleski 9,222 and Patrick 9,195.

$55 In Cash Stolen At Salineville School

SALINEVILLE — Approximately $55 in cash was taken from desks at the Salineville Elementary building during the weekend.

Police Chief Gordon Sweeney said classroom doors appeared to have been forced open by a screw driver and that the desks were pried open. Entry into the building apparently was through a front door which was found unlocked by Fred Wilson, school custodian, on Monday morning.

Some of the money taken, Sweeney said, was to be used for individual photos which are taken annually.

Exports Iron, Steel

NEW DELHI (AP) — India exported about 1.2 million metric tons of iron and steel valued at more than $72 million in fiscal year 1967-68. The exports were made to 39 countries which included the United States, Britain, Australia, Yugoslavia, Bulgaria, the Soviet Union and Poland.

Lisbon, Center, Elkrun Study Ambulance Plan

LISBON — Lynn Ambulance, Inc., of East Liverpool will provide ambulance service to Lisbon, Center Township and Elkrun Township under its family plan arrangement providing the three subdivisions put up a total of $600 a year to subsidize the service.

Lisbon Council Monday night tabled the proposal pending talks with Center and Elkrun trustees.

Lynn Ambulance and the Becker Ambulance Co. of Salem have been answering Lisbon-Center-Elkrun calls since the volunteer fire department discontinued its ambulance service Sept. 23. Lynn McFadden of Lisbon, a driver for Lynn Ambulance, said he has had 38 ambulance runs since the firemen quit.

—:—

McFADDEN told Council Lynn's proposal is the same, except for family plan and individual rates, as the one operating in East Liverpool, Chester and Newell.

A. J. Smith and George M. Nace Jr. of the Board of Trustees of Public Affairs asked Council to approve a new pay schedule, retroactive to Dec. 1, for the board's employes in the water and sewer departments.

Council authorized Solicitor Joseph Baronzzi to prepare a new pay scale ordinance for first reading at the next meeting Dec. 30—a week later than usual so year-end business can be transacted.

Council appointed Bill Robinson its representative to join a Lisbon - Columbiana county group which will go to Ohio Highway Department Division 11 offices in New Philadelphia regarding the location of the proposed Routes 30 and 45 interchange north of Lisbon.

William Morgan Jr. of the Chamber of Commerce asked Council to appoint a representative. He said the Chamber also requested the county to support its position that the proposed interchange site—the Andric Rd.-Route 45 junction just north of town — should be moved farther north beyond the "Y" at Route 45 and Franklin Square Rd.

Lynn said it will operate an ambulance and a standby unit, both radio-equipped, and provide two trained men for 24-hour service.

RATES would be $25 for a call originating in Lisbon, Center or Elkrun and going to a hospital in Salem. Any call going beyond Salem shall be charged an additional $1 per mile from Salem to point of discharge. Any waiting time on calls beyond Salem shall be assessed an additional $10 an hour.

A charge of $30 per person shall be made for calls to motor vehicle accidents. Free service shall be provided city, county and state employes injured while on duty.

The firm would offer the Lisbon - Center - Elkrun area its family ambulance plan at $12 a year. This entitles any member of the family living at home to ambulance service to a hospital in Salem. The subscription cost per year for an individual under the family plan shall be $8 a year. The rate on distant trips under the family plan shall be 70 cents for loaded mile beyond the first 10 miles, which shall be free.

Lisbon and the townships shall have the option of renewing the contract for a like term annually subject to a mutual review of the subsidy amount.

Lynn will provide and maintain liability insurance covering personal injury in the minimum amount of $100,000 per person and $300,000 per accident and property damage in the amount of $25,000.

McFadden said he believes 1,500 family plan subscriptions can be sold in the Lisbon-Center-Elkrun area. He said the subsidy amount could be reviewed another year if subscription sales exceed the estimate.

SMITH outlined the pay raise proposal:

New employe — $400 per month, up $50, plus $45 per month at the end of six months; general superintendent, $485, up $20; operator — trainee, $445, up $20; clerk, $375, up $15; casual laborer, $1.50, $1.75 and $2 per hour.

Smith asked that employes be allowed an additional $10 per month for each training certificate they earn, with no limit on the number, and that provisions be made to raise the pay of the consulting engineer now receiving $75 per month.

The Board of Public Affairs has its own funds, but expenditures must be approved by Council.

Council took action on two other matters:

The Ohio Highway Department was given permission to plow snow and scatter cinders on state routes inside town and the fire department's protection agreement with Center and Elkrun township was renewed for three years. The rates are unchanged — $3 per hour for each fireman, $5 per hour for the chief and $10 per month for maintenance of equipment.

Shoot Captured With Perfect 25

Breaking 25 of 25, Gale McIntosh placed first in the 16-yard shoot at the Columbiana County Fish and Game Protective Association range Sunday.

Earl Gilbert was a close second with 24 of 25.

Luther Adkins scored two wins in the high gun shoot and Larry Faith, James Czech and James Lawson one each.

In the redbird shoot, Adkins, Gary Tolson and Czech each had one win and Gilbert and Adkins each had one win in the protector shoot.

The teams of Ken Alford and Lanford Blevins tied for high during the week, with 74 out of 75. John McIntosh's team is second with 73 out of 75.

Anyone who wishes to compete in the winter league should contact Paul Saling. The next shoot will be Wednesday night.

Liston Faces Lincoln In Baltimore Tonight

BALTIMORE (AP) — Sonny Liston, hungering to regain the heavyweight title he lost in 1964, meets Amos "Big Train" Lincoln in a scheduled 10 round bout in the Civic Center tonight.

The winner will be angling for a fight with the winner of a 15-round heavyweight bout in Philadelphia later tonight when Joe Frazer, defending his five-state crown, meets Argentine contender Oscar Bonavena.

Both fights will be presented on a closed-circuit television hookup.

Powell

90th Congress March 1, 1967. The House, in a 278-to-176 vote, went further than the recommendation by a select nine-man committee that he be censured.

He was accused of using public funds for his own pleasure, keeping his wife on the congressional payroll while pocketing her salary and making private airplane trips at government expense.

The grand jury investigation had been going on for 18 months. The length of the investigation had prompted some congressmen to say privately that failure to hand up an indictment would clear the way for Powell to take his seat in the next Congress.

The exclusion did not carry over and Powell won his usual landslide re-election Nov. 5.

Rep. H. R. Gross, R-Iowa, said Monday night the lack of an indictment would not affect his intention to try to block seating Powell.

"There will be a number of others opposed to him," Gross said. He declined, however, to estimate opposition strength or to name any of those opposed.

It takes the objection of only one member to require a roll call vote on seating Powell.

The Supreme Court has agreed to hear Powell's suit against the House in which he says it acted unconstitutionally The court, however, gave no indication when it took the case Nov. 18 whether it would act before the 91st Congress convenes Jan. 3.

Some congressmen have taken a dim view of the possibility the court might rule Powell should have been seated.

"It would create a very serious constitutional impasse," said Rep. Vernon W. Thomson, R-Wis., recently. Thomson was a member of the select committee that originally investigated Powell and he has said he is opposed to seating him.

Powell said shortly after his re-election that he would be willing to return to Congress as a freshman, forfeiting the 22 years seniority that carried him to chairmanship of the Education and Labor Committee.

Should Powell regain his seat, even after a floor fight, it likely would ease the impact of any subsequent court decision. A decision before Congress convenes, however, likely would rankle some Congressmen who may have relaxed their opposition to Powell but not to what they consider an overly liberal court.

Also pending against Powell is a 90 day jail term and $500 fine levied after his conviction in 1960 for criminal contempt in refusing to pay a libel judgment. Powell has paid $56,000 to a harlem woman he accused of being a graft collector for crooked police and has appealed the contempt conviction to the New York Supreme Court.

Sale Action Studied By Custom Chemicals

Tentative approval of an option to sell Custom Chemicals, Inc., was made by the company's stockholders during a special meeting Saturday at the Holiday Inn at Waterford Park.

Operations at the plant at Arroyo have ceased and officers of the company have been negotiating with a West Coast firm for sale of the plant.

Barth, Noted Theologian, Claimed In Switzerland

A native of Basel, Barth was praised as the most creative Protestant theologian since John Calvin. He also was variously damned as a heretic, a narrow-minded biblicist and an atheist in disguise—but even some of his critics called him "the most monumental appearance in our period."

He gave the world of religious thought 10 fat tomes, elaborating a formidable and intricate Protestantism that stressed the spiritual nature of true religion —faith in Christ, the church of Christ and the Bible as His witness.

As a young minister in World War I, Barth published his first bombshell in 1918. His "Epistle to the Romans" was a scathing attack on the dominant "liberal" theology of the day.

As a scholar and later a teacher, Barth had little time for politics—"fundamentally uninteresting"—until 1933 after Hitler established the Third Reich. Santa and the HIPPIES

By LUCRECE BEALE

Synopsis: When Santa leaves Santa Land, a dwarf named Hesekiah turns all the elves into spinning tops. Then he sets to work in Santa's workshop to build a machine to take the place of people.

"Now it is time for me to get back to Santa Land."

CHAPTER 8

While all these terrible things were happening in Santa Land, Santa and Ding Dong arrived in faraway Hippieville.

The hippies greeted them with a cheer. "You captured him!" cried the red-haired hippie to Ding Dong. "How did you do it?"

"I said there was a boy in a well who couldn't get out," said Ding Dong, not looking at Santa. "But —"

"Groovy!" yelled the hippies.

"Where is the boy?" asked Santa. "We better hurry and get him out."

"There isn't any such —" Ding Dong began, but the hippies shouted. "The well! Take him to the well!"

—:—

THEY LED Santa behind one of the hippie houses and there sure enough was an old empty well. Santa peered into the hole. "Why, there's no one in it!" he said.

"Now there is!" cried the hippies. They gave Santa a push and tumbled him into the well.

"He's our prisoner!" gloated the red-haired hippie. "Children everywhere are free. They can do as they please and not have to worry about being good anymore."

Ding Dong shouted, "But what about Christmas?"

"Nobody has to be good for Christmas anymore," bragged the redhead.

"But without Santa Claus there won't even be any Christmas!" protested Ding Dong.

"True," said someone in surprise. "I hadn't thought of that."

WITH A grunt and a groan Santa Claus suddenly popped out of the well—a very easy matter for one who had been popping in and out of chimneys all his life.

He shook his head sadly and said to Ding Dong, "I'm surprised you'd trick me like that."

"I did it so they would see what you're really like," mumbled Ding Dong, red-faced.

"Actually, he looks like a hippie!" exclaimed someone.

"I dig those whiskers," said another hippie.

"I dig that groovy red suit," said another.

"So what's all the fuss?" asked Santa.

"Well," said the redhead with embarrassment, "we don't like to comb our hair or eat with forks instead of fingers or clean our rooms and all like that."

"Fine," said Santa. "But why knock the kids who do?"

"You mean you don't care about being good?"

"There are lots of ways of being good," said Santa. "I expect that, in their own way, hippies are very, very good."

"Oh, I dig this Santa Claus!" exclaimed the redhead.

"AND I dig hippies," said Santa gravely. "But now you've had your fun. It's time for me to get back to Santa to fill my Christmas orders."

"Suppose," said a hippie, "we sent you a letter. Would you fill our order?"

"Try it and see," said Santa, with a smile.

Then he turned to leave, but as he was about to climb in his little plane Edgar the elf swooped down on the back of a red-eyed goose.

"Santa! Santa!" gasped Edgar. "A terrible thing has happened!"

"What on earth can it be?" cried Santa in alarm.

"Santa Land is no more!" moaned Edgar. Tears rolled down his cheeks and he wrung his hands in despair.

Calls 'Little Jobless' Nonsense

Meany Questions Nixon's Aides On Unemployment

WASHINGTON (AP) — AFL-CIO President George Meany says those who advocate "a little unemployment—controlled unemployment" are talking nonsense.

"Without full employment how do we ever solve the just demands of our minorities who today seek vainly for jobs?" Meany asked in a statement.

The head of the 13.6-million member labor federation answered his own question by saying the government must expand the economy and provide jobs for all who are unable to get them.

Meany's statement was billed as being in connection with the 20th anniversary of the United Nations' Universal Declaration of Human Rights. But it contained a message for President-elect Richard M. Nixon and his advisers although Meany did not mention names.

The labor leader said at one point that his federation was committed to a policy of full employment—"undeterred by those who fear inflation above everything else."

There are some, he said, "who advocate a little unemployment—controlled unemployment—as the answer to inflation. This is nonsense."

The comments appeared to be directed at two of Nixon's key economic advisers, Paul W. McCracken, named to head the Council of Economic Advisers, and Herbert Stein, head of the Nixon task force on fiscal policy.

McCracken, in a copyright interview with the Washington Post in 1965, said the then 4.1 per cent level of unemployment was "for all practical purposes" full employment.

He added that although no one wanted to see anyone jobless, "one of the things we are going to have to learn is to avoid attaching great mystical significance to some threshold figure."

Stein, in a report published two weeks ago, said the major goals of U.S. fiscal policy must be reduction of inflation and unemployment although curbing the rate of inflation is likely to bring a brief jump in joblessness.

The best way to minimize the unemployment increases that would result, Stein said, would be a program of better manpower training, more information on available jobs and better income supplement.

Meany said that not only must the government steer away from a policy that accepts some unemployment, but should become "the employer of last resort" to provide jobs for those who can't find them in the private economy.

"A man forced against his will to be unemployed is a man deprived of his human right," he said.

Meany said proposals that a little unemployment helps keep down inflation are "revolting" to the labor movement.

"The very people whose human rights most badly need protection are proposed as the pawns in a modern-day economic chess game," he said.

Although the nation's current unemployment total is around a 17-year low of some 3.6 per cent, Meany called it "unsatisfactory" and said the government must provide jobs for those who can't find work.

Otherwise, he said, many planned social improvements will never come into being.

"Of course the private sector can help, but we cannot retreat from the hard, unalterable fact that there is but one clear path to the elimination of unemployment. The government must become the employer of last resort," he said.

Wellsville Police Report Mishaps

No one was injured in a two-car accident investigated by Wellsville police at 8th St. and Broadway Sunday at 4:45 p.m.

Harry D. Murray, 48, of 1648 Park Ave., driving a 1966 sedan, and Andrew Lynn, 28, of 534 Broadway, driving a 1966 sedan, collided at the intersection when Murray failed to see Lynn's car proceeding through the intersection, police said.

There were no citations.

A pickup truck driven by John Gullace was struck in the rear Monday morning by a car driven by Polly Carvella of New Castle. The mishap occurred at 9th and Broadway.

There were no injuries and no citations.

Fire Hits New KSU Building

KENT, Ohio (AP) — Fire broke out early today atop Kent State University's recently dedicated $3.2 million biological sciences building.

Kent city firemen seemed to have the fire under control within an hour after it was reported at 1:21 a. m. They said damages to the new building probably would be confined to the top floor of the three-story concrete structure.

The fire started in an air conditioning unit on top of the building.

The cause of the fire was not determined immediately.

Kent State campus police said no injuries were reported and that there was no danger of the fire spreading to other buildings.

Witnesses said flames shot high enough into the air to be seen nearly a mile away.

Some Kent residents reported hearing a series of explosions.

Phoenix Firm Buys Plush Ohio Resort

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Aqua Marine, Inc., a plush motel-resort complex in suburban Avon Lake, has been sold for $6 million to Ramada Inns., Inc., of Phoenix, Ariz., it was announced Monday.

Ramada Inns operates or franchises motor hotels throughout the country.

Ivan Roberts majority stock holder in Aqua Marine, said the transaction included sale of his firm's furniture factory of Martinsville, Ind.

Santa and the HIPPIES

By LUCRECE BEALE

Synopsis: When Santa leaves Santa Land, a dwarf named Hesekiah turns all the elves into spinning tops. Then he sets to work in Santa's workshop to build a machine to take the place of people.

"Now it is time for me to get back to Santa Land."

CHAPTER 8

While all these terrible things were happening in Santa Land, Santa and Ding Dong arrived in faraway Hippieville.

The hippies greeted them with a cheer. "You captured him!" cried the red-haired hippie to Ding Dong. "How did you do it?"

"I said there was a boy in a well who couldn't get out," said Ding Dong, not looking at Santa. "But —"

"Groovy!" yelled the hippies.

"Where is the boy?" asked Santa. "We better hurry and get him out."

"There isn't any such —" Ding Dong began, but the hippies shouted. "The well! Take him to the well!"

—:—

THEY LED Santa behind one of the hippie houses and there sure enough was an old empty well. Santa peered into the hole. "Why, there's no one in it!" he said.

"Now there is!" cried the hippies. They gave Santa a push and tumbled him into the well.

"He's our prisoner!" gloated the red-haired hippie. "Children everywhere are free. They can do as they please and not have to worry about being good anymore."

Ding Dong shouted, "But what about Christmas?"

"Nobody has to be good for Christmas anymore," bragged the redhead.

"But without Santa Claus there won't even be any Christmas!" protested Ding Dong.

"True," said someone in surprise. "I hadn't thought of that."

WITH A grunt and a groan Santa Claus suddenly popped out of the well—a very easy matter for one who had been popping in and out of chimneys all his life.

He shook his head sadly and said to Ding Dong, "I'm surprised you'd trick me like that."

"I did it so they would see what you're really like," mumbled Ding Dong, red-faced.

"Actually, he looks like a hippie!" exclaimed someone.

"I dig those whiskers," said another hippie.

"I dig that groovy red suit," said another.

"So what's all the fuss?" asked Santa.

"Well," said the redhead with embarrassment, "we don't like to comb our hair or eat with forks instead of fingers or clean our rooms and all like that."

"Fine," said Santa. "But why knock the kids who do?"

"You mean you don't care about being good?"

"There are lots of ways of being good," said Santa. "I expect that, in their own way, hippies are very, very good."

"Oh, I dig this Santa Claus!" exclaimed the redhead.

"AND I dig hippies," said Santa gravely. "But now you've had your fun. It's time for me to get back to Santa to fill my Christmas orders."

"Suppose," said a hippie, "we sent you a letter. Would you fill our order?"

"Try it and see," said Santa, with a smile.

Then he turned to leave, but as he was about to climb in his little plane Edgar the elf swooped down on the back of a red-eyed goose.

"Santa! Santa!" gasped Edgar. "A terrible thing has happened!"

"What on earth can it be?" cried Santa in alarm.

Calls 'Little Jobless' Nonsense

Meany Questions Nixon's Aides On Unemployment

WASHINGTON (AP) — AFL-CIO President George Meany says those who advocate "a little unemployment—controlled unemployment" are talking nonsense.

"Without full employment how do we ever solve the just demands of our minorities who today seek vainly for jobs?" Meany asked in a statement.

The head of the 13.6-million member labor federation answered his own question by saying the government must expand the economy and provide jobs for all who are unable to get them.

Meany's statement was billed as being in connection with the 20th anniversary of the United Nations' Universal Declaration of Human Rights. But it contained a message for President-elect Richard M. Nixon and his advisers although Meany did not mention names.

The labor leader said at one point that his federation was committed to a policy of full employment—"undeterred by those who fear inflation above everything else."

There are some, he said, "who advocate a little unemployment—controlled unemployment—as the answer to inflation. This is nonsense."

The comments appeared to be directed at two of Nixon's key economic advisers, Paul W. McCracken, named to head the Council of Economic Advisers, and Herbert Stein, head of the Nixon task force on fiscal policy.

McCracken, in a copyright interview with the Washington Post in 1965, said the then 4.1 per cent level of unemployment was "for all practical purposes" full employment.

He added that although no one wanted to see anyone jobless, "one of the things we are going to have to learn is to avoid attaching great mystical significance to some threshold figure."

Stein, in a report published two weeks ago, said the major goals of U.S. fiscal policy must be reduction of inflation and unemployment although curbing the rate of inflation is likely to bring a brief jump in joblessness.

The best way to minimize the unemployment increases that would result, Stein said, would be a program of better manpower training, more information on available jobs and better income supplement.

Meany said that not only must the government steer away from a policy that accepts some unemployment, but should become "the employer of last resort" to provide jobs for those who can't find them in the private economy.

"A man forced against his will to be unemployed is a man deprived of his human right," he said.

Meany said proposals that a little unemployment helps keep down inflation are "revolting" to the labor movement.

"The very people whose human rights most badly need protection are proposed as the pawns in a modern-day economic chess game," he said.

Although the nation's current unemployment total is around a 17-year low of some 3.6 per cent, Meany called it "unsatisfactory" and said the government must provide jobs for those who can't find work.

Otherwise, he said, many planned social improvements will never come into being.

"Of course the private sector can help, but we cannot retreat from the hard, unalterable fact that there is but one clear path to the elimination of unemployment. The government must become the employer of last resort," he said.

Wellsville Police Report Mishaps

No one was injured in a two-car accident investigated by Wellsville police at 8th St. and Broadway Sunday at 4:45 p.m.

Harry D. Murray, 48, of 1648 Park Ave., driving a 1966 sedan, and Andrew Lynn, 28, of 534 Broadway, driving a 1966 sedan, collided at the intersection when Murray failed to see Lynn's car proceeding through the intersection, police said.

There were no citations.

A pickup truck driven by John Gullace was struck in the rear Monday morning by a car driven by Polly Carvella of New Castle. The mishap occurred at 9th and Broadway.

There were no injuries and no citations.

Fire Hits New KSU Building

KENT, Ohio (AP) — Fire broke out early today atop Kent State University's recently dedicated $3.2 million biological sciences building.

Kent city firemen seemed to have the fire under control within an hour after it was reported at 1:21 a. m. They said damages to the new building probably would be confined to the top floor of the three-story concrete structure.

The fire started in an air conditioning unit on top of the building.

The cause of the fire was not determined immediately.

Kent State campus police said no injuries were reported and that there was no danger of the fire spreading to other buildings.

Witnesses said flames shot high enough into the air to be seen nearly a mile away.

Some Kent residents reported hearing a series of explosions.

Phoenix Firm Buys Plush Ohio Resort

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Aqua Marine, Inc., a plush motel-resort complex in suburban Avon Lake, has been sold for $6 million to Ramada Inns., Inc., of Phoenix, Ariz., it was announced Monday.

Ramada Inns operates or franchises motor hotels throughout the country.

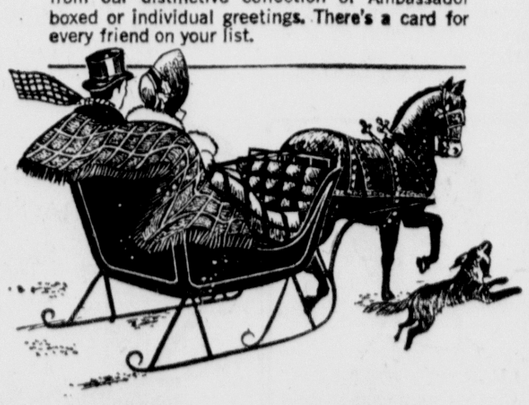

Ivan Roberts majority stock holder in Aqua Marine, said the transaction included sale of his firm's furniture factory of Martinsville, Ind.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—What can I do about screw holes that have become so worn that the threads will not hold?

A.—Try packing a small amount of steel wool tightly into the holes, and this will grip your screws tightly. Another method is to insert a wooden kitchen match into the worn screw hole, then drive your screw back into this.

Q.—Any suggestion for the mending of a torn lace curtain?

A.—One often-effective method of repairing a tear in a lace curtain is to press a piece of starched lace over the tear.

Q.—How can I remove rain spots from a man's clothing?

A.—By placing a damp cloth on the material, then pressing over it with a warm iron.

Q.—How can I clean straw matting?

A.—Wash with a cloth dampened in hot salt water, using a handful of salt to a bucket of hot water. Wash only a small area at a time, and wipe dry at once. This also prevents the matting from yellowing.

Q.—What can I do when such foods as cereals and rice stick to the inside of the top part of my double boiler?

A.—Turn the vessel upside down in piping hot dishwater for a few minutes, so that the steam can loosen the stuff inside.

Lakewood Girl, Local Man Are Wed In Church Rites

MRS. ROGER HICKS
Double-Ring Ceremony.

Miss Sande Webster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Webster of Lakewood, became the bride of Roger John Hicks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hicks of S. Surry Rd., Nov. 30 at 7 p.m. in the chapel of the Lakewood Christian Church.

The Rev. Gerould R. Goldner performed the double-ring ceremony before an altar decorated with wrought-iron candelabra. Miss Marilyn Neal presented a half-hour recital of organ music.

GIVEN IN marriage by her father, the bride chose a full-length gown of off - white silk organza fashioned with an Empire bodice accented with seed pearls. The full skirt featured lace and seed pearl applique and formed a chapel - length train.

Her headpiece was a white lace mantilla. She carried an arrangement of pink rosebuds, miniature carnations and lilies and baby mums interspersed with tiny deep red rosebuds. In observing the traditions, she wore a diamond necklace belonging to her mother.

Miss Linda Back of Shaker Heights, maid of honor, appeared in a forest green velvet full-length gown designed with elbow - length sleeves. A green satin insert and large bow formed back interest. She wore a forest green lace mantilla and carried an arrangement of pink, white, red and varigated roses, carnations and mums highlighted with baby breath.

T. David Evans of Jackson, Ohio, served as best man. Ushers were James Webster and Thomas Webster, brothers of the bride, and Raymond Hicks, brother of the bridegroom. They received gifts from the bridegroom.

The mother of the bride wore a gray wool sheath dress with gray and white accessories. The bridegroom's mother chose a Navy blue dress with white trim and matching accessories. Corsages of pink rosebuds and carnations complemented their costumes.

A RECEPTION for 100 followed at the bride's home, where guests were registered from Saudi Arabia and Hawaii. The buffet table was centered with a three - tier cake topped with a miniature bridal couple. The mother of the bride served the wedding cake and the bridegroom's mother poured the punch. Miss Lillian Ogata of Honolulu caught the bridal bouquet. The bride's father played organ music.

Following a honeymoon trip, the newlyweds will reside with the bridegroom's parents until his induction into the Army late in January. For traveling, the bride was attired in a gray wool sheath with black trim and white accessories.

The bride attended Bowling Green State University, where her husband was employed as a graduate assistant in the sociology department. He was graduated with a degree in liberal arts and was the first elected representative of the students to the faculty meetings.

Newlyweds Residing Here After Church Ceremonies

Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. McDole are residing at 1407 St. Clair Ave. following their marriage Nov. 29 at 8 p.m. at the home of Austen B. Moore of Lisbon St., minister of the Zelienople Church of Christ.

The immediate families were present for the double-ring ceremony.

The bride was Miss Bonnie L. Fiber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl C. Fiber of 1733 Commerce St., Wellsville. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Orval McDole of 916 Florence St.

Mrs. Rebecca J. Ashead, sister of the bride, and Orval McDole Jr., brother of the bridegroom, were the attendants.

A graduate of Wellsville High School, the bride is employed at Miller's Insurance in Wellsville. Her husband was graduated from East Liverpool High School and served two years in the Army. He is district circulation manager of The Review.

Church Group Aids Mission, Installs Officers At Meeting

Members of the Women's Association of the First United Presbyterian Church of Chester have donated toys and contributions of money to the Rev. C. Donald Vogel Mission at the West Virginia Mountain Project.

Rev. Vogel was a former minister of the Westminster United Presbyterian Church of Chester.

The 1969 officers were installed during the group's annual Christmas coverdish dinner meeting at the church.

They include: Mrs. Jesse Oyster, president; Mrs. Lee Adams, secretary - treasurer; Mrs. Ray Shaw, coordinator of study; Mrs. Edwin Wine, coordinator of mission; Mrs. Paul Doughty, coordinator of involvement and action; Mrs. Cecil Walton, secretary of sewing, and Mrs. Alvin Lange, secretary of literature.

Circle chairmen installed were Mrs. Nelson, Marilyn Fisher Circle; Mrs. Elsie Wine, Maxwell Circle, and Miss Eva Shaw, Alice Shaw Circle. Mrs. James Swain was in charge of the installation.

Group singing was featured, with the accompanist Mrs. Frank Richmond, who also gave a reading. Christmas recordings were played by Mrs. Swain. Mrs. Ray Shaw narrated and screened colored slides of Christmas paintings.

Dinner was served 40. Guests were women of the Westminster and the First United Presbyterian Church of Newell. Mrs. Lester Shaw was chairman of the dinner committee. The blessing was offered by Mrs. Lee Adams.

The tables were decorated in keeping with the Yuletide season. The next meeting will be Feb. 4 at the church.

The post voted to send Paul Gill, athletic director, to a baseball workshop in Columbus Jan. 12. John Long, commander, presided.

Forty five attended. The next meeting will be Monday night.

Traffic Mishap Report Clarified

A revised report was issued today by Wellsville police clarifying a traffic mishap on the East Liverpool - Wellsville Rd. involving three vehicles Friday night.

Police said a car operated by Herman Mathes, 64, of 322 Campground Rd., Wellsville, halted to turn left into the Pancake House and was struck in the rear by a station wagon operated by Welsey L. Ammons, 67, of 1323 Center St., Wellsville.

While the two vehicles were stopped on the highway, the Ammons' station wagon was struck by an auto driven by David Palmer, 18, of 822 Broadway, Wellsville. Palmer was passing a truck and when he saw the halted vehicles he applied his brakes and his auto slid sideways.

The first report said the Ammons and Mathes vehicles were both waiting to turn into the restaurant, making no mention of the first incident.

Palmer was cited for failure to have his vehicle under control and was fined $25 and costs in Wellsville court by Mayor William Daugherty Saturday.

Row Between Red Cross, Officials

8,000 Ibo Tribesmen To Face Food Shortage

ASABA, Nigeria (AP) — Eight thousand Ibo tribesmen will be without food by Friday because of a row between white International Red Cross workers and Nigerian officials.

"We will run out of food Friday," Father Hugh Conlon, an Irish priest, said Monday to Maj. T. K. Adamu, the federal commander of the Asaba sector adjoining rebel Biafran territory.

"God will provide," replied Adamu with a faint smile.

While both men spoke, gunfire could be heard across the Niger River. Adamu said federal troops were mopping up some Biafran secessionists after establishing a beachhead at Onitsha.

A week ago Adamu expelled the last five International Red Cross workers from his sector after a dispute that provoked antiwhite slogans in Asaba's refugee camp and accusations of spying against European relief workers.

They included an Austrian doctor and two male nurses, an American and a Norwegian.

Asaba's 8,000 residents, who rely on the International Red Cross for food, now receive none. Five hundred tons of food and medical supplies are locked in a warehouse here, but the key is 280 miles away in Lagos, held by Robert G. Koepp, a former Peace Corps member from Los Angeles, Calif.

In the refugee camp where the dispute started, there is plenty of food. The Nigerian army provides for the 2,100 inmates.

Father Conlon, a veteran missionary, used to provide for the spiritual needs of Asaba. He is now trying to save the population, shrunk from 25,000 to 8,000 since the civil war, from starvation. International observers under Maj. Gen. William A. Milroy of Canada also are investigating the expulsion of Red Cross workers and attempting to arrange a reconciliation.

The Asaba argument is just one example of the distrust prevalent in Nigeria since the Red Cross relief operation started last July.

Sources in Asaba claim a succession of English, Norwegian and Austrian medical teams never stayed in town long enough to gain the confidence of the people.

A newly arrived Austrian team, said the sources, made the mistake of hiring as liaison an Ibo-speaking Nigerian who was disliked both by Nigerian Red Cross workers and by Father John Osia, an Ibo Catholic priest who operates the refugee camp.

Father Osia fired the liaison man. When the Austrians protested in their limited English, the refugees accused them of abusing their leader. The camp blossomed with signs saying "White Men Go Home."

The camp inmates complained that the Austrians were taking photographs for espionage purposes. The situation worsened when the Nigerians discovered that two Norwegian workers also were officers in their country's armed forces.

Adamu ordered the Red Cross workers out, halting food distribution to the 8,000 townspeople and to an estimated 17,000 persons believed hiding in the bush south of Asaba. Many of the latter are believed to have slipped in from Biafran territory across the Niger.

Adamu told the international observers Monday he is willing to accept other workers from the International Red Cross "as long as they are willing to work with us."

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—What can I do about screw holes that have become so worn that the threads will not hold?

A.—Try packing a small amount of steel wool tightly into the holes, and this will grip your screws tightly. Another method is to insert a wooden kitchen match into the worn screw hole, then drive your screw back into this.

Q.—Any suggestion for the mending of a torn lace curtain?

A.—One often-effective method of repairing a tear in a lace curtain is to press a piece of starched lace over the tear.

Q.—How can I remove rain spots from a man's clothing?

A.—By placing a damp cloth on the material, then pressing over it with a warm iron.

Q.—How can I clean straw matting?

A.—Wash with a cloth dampened in hot salt water, using a handful of salt to a bucket of hot water. Wash only a small area at a time, and wipe dry at once. This also prevents the matting from yellowing.

Q.—What can I do when such foods as cereals and rice stick to the inside of the top part of my double boiler?

A.—Turn the vessel upside down in piping hot dishwater for a few minutes, so that the steam can loosen the stuff inside.

Lakewood Girl, Local Man Are Wed In Church Rites

Miss Sande Webster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Webster of Lakewood, became the bride of Roger John Hicks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hicks of S. Surry Rd., Nov. 30 at 7 p.m. in the chapel of the Lakewood Christian Church.

The Rev. Gerould R. Goldner performed the double-ring ceremony before an altar decorated with wrought-iron candelabra. Miss Marilyn Neal presented a half-hour recital of organ music.

GIVEN IN marriage by her father, the bride chose a full-length gown of off - white silk organza fashioned with an Empire bodice accented with seed pearls. The full skirt featured lace and seed pearl applique and formed a chapel - length train.

Her headpiece was a white lace mantilla. She carried an arrangement of pink rosebuds, miniature carnations and lilies and baby mums interspersed with tiny deep red rosebuds. In observing the traditions, she wore a diamond necklace belonging to her mother.

Miss Linda Back of Shaker Heights, maid of honor, appeared in a forest green velvet full-length gown designed with elbow - length sleeves. A green satin insert and large bow formed back interest. She wore a forest green lace mantilla and carried an arrangement of pink, white, red and varigated roses, carnations and mums highlighted with baby breath.

T. David Evans of Jackson, Ohio, served as best man. Ushers were James Webster and Thomas Webster, brothers of the bride, and Raymond Hicks, brother of the bridegroom. They received gifts from the bridegroom.

The mother of the bride wore a gray wool sheath dress with gray and white accessories. The bridegroom's mother chose a Navy blue dress with white trim and matching accessories. Corsages of pink rosebuds and carnations complemented their costumes.

MRS. ROGER HICKS

A RECEPTION for 100 followed at the bride's home, where guests were registered from Saudi Arabia and Hawaii. The buffet table was centered with a three - tier cake topped with a miniature bridal couple. The mother of the bride served the wedding cake and the bridegroom's mother poured the punch. Miss Lillian Ogata of Honolulu caught the bridal bouquet. The bride's father played organ music.

Following a honeymoon trip, the newlyweds will reside with the bridegroom's parents until his induction into the Army late in January. For traveling, the bride was attired in a gray wool sheath with black trim and white accessories.

The bride attended Bowling Green State University, where her husband was employed as a graduate assistant in the sociology department. He was graduated with a degree in liberal arts and was the first elected representative of the students to the faculty meetings.

Newlyweds Residing Here After Church Ceremonies

Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. McDole are residing at 1407 St. Clair Ave. following their marriage Nov. 29 at 8 p.m. at the home of Austen B. Moore of Lisbon St., minister of the Zelienople Church of Christ.

The immediate families were present for the double-ring ceremony.

The bride was Miss Bonnie L. Fiber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl C. Fiber of 1733 Commerce St., Wellsville. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Orval McDole of 916 Florence St.

Mrs. Rebecca J. Ashead, sister of the bride, and Orval McDole Jr., brother of the bridegroom, were the attendants.

A graduate of Wellsville High School, the bride is employed at Miller's Insurance in Wellsville. Her husband was graduated from East Liverpool High School and served two years in the Army. He is district circulation manager of The Review.

Forty five attended. The next meeting will be Monday night.

Traffic Mishap Report Clarified

A revised report was issued today by Wellsville police clarifying a traffic mishap on the East Liverpool - Wellsville Rd. involving three vehicles Friday night.

Police said a car operated by Herman Mathes, 64, of 322 Campground Rd., Wellsville, halted to turn left into the Pancake House and was struck in the rear by a station wagon operated by Welsey L. Ammons, 67, of 1323 Center St., Wellsville.

While the two vehicles were stopped on the highway, the Ammons' station wagon was struck by an auto driven by David Palmer, 18, of 822 Broadway, Wellsville. Palmer was passing a truck and when he saw the halted vehicles he applied his brakes and his auto slid sideways.

The first report said the Ammons and Mathes vehicles were both waiting to turn into the restaurant, making no mention of the first incident.

Palmer was cited for failure to have his vehicle under control and was fined $25 and costs in Wellsville court by Mayor William Daugherty Saturday.

Row Between Red Cross, Officials

8,000 Ibo Tribesmen To Face Food Shortage

ASABA, Nigeria (AP) — Eight thousand Ibo tribesmen will be without food by Friday because of a row between white International Red Cross workers and Nigerian officials.

"We will run out of food Friday," Father Hugh Conlon, an Irish priest, said Monday to Maj. T. K. Adamu, the federal commander of the Asaba sector adjoining rebel Biafran territory.

"God will provide," replied Adamu with a faint smile.

While both men spoke, gunfire could be heard across the Niger River. Adamu said federal troops were mopping up some Biafran secessionists after establishing a beachhead at Onitsha.

A week ago Adamu expelled the last five International Red Cross workers from his sector after a dispute that provoked antiwhite slogans in Asaba's refugee camp and accusations of spying against European relief workers.

They included an Austrian doctor and two male nurses, an American and a Norwegian.

Asaba's 8,000 residents, who rely on the International Red Cross for food, now receive none. Five hundred tons of food and medical supplies are locked in a warehouse here, but the key is 280 miles away in Lagos, held by Robert G. Koepp, a former Peace Corps member from Los Angeles, Calif.

In the refugee camp where the dispute started, there is plenty of food. The Nigerian army provides for the 2,100 inmates.

Father Conlon, a veteran missionary, used to provide for the spiritual needs of Asaba. He is now trying to save the population, shrunk from 25,000 to 8,000 since the civil war, from starvation. International observers under Maj. Gen. William A. Milroy of Canada also are investigating the expulsion of Red Cross workers and attempting to arrange a reconciliation.

The Asaba argument is just one example of the distrust prevalent in Nigeria since the Red Cross relief operation started last July.

Sources in Asaba claim a succession of English, Norwegian and Austrian medical teams never stayed in town long enough to gain the confidence of the people.

A newly arrived Austrian team, said the sources, made the mistake of hiring as liaison an Ibo-speaking Nigerian who was disliked both by Nigerian Red Cross workers and by Father John Osia, an Ibo Catholic priest who operates the refugee camp.

Father Osia fired the liaison man. When the Austrians protested in their limited English, the refugees accused them of abusing their leader. The camp blossomed with signs saying "White Men Go Home."

The camp inmates complained that the Austrians were taking photographs for espionage purposes. The situation worsened when the Nigerians discovered that two Norwegian workers also were officers in their country's armed forces.

Adamu ordered the Red Cross workers out, halting food distribution to the 8,000 townspeople and to an estimated 17,000 persons believed hiding in the bush south of Asaba. Many of the latter are believed to have slipped in from Biafran territory across the Niger.

Adamu told the international observers Monday he is willing to accept other workers from the International Red Cross "as long as they are willing to work with us."

Treaty With Swiss Eyed

Talks Aim To Curb Use Of Secret Bank Accounts

WASHINGTON (AP) — Informal discussions have begun with Switzerland to curb the use of secret bank accounts by Americans intent on avoiding taxes and restrictions on stock market speculation, Justice Department sources say.

These sources said the talks probably will be continued by the incoming Nixon administration with the aim of negotiatng a treaty that would limit what was described as widespread abuses.

The House Banking Committee heard testimony Monday that numbered bank accounts, guarded by the stiff Swiss law guaranteeing secrecy, were being used by:

—Gangsters and loan sharks concealing illegally acquired money.

—Casino operators salting away some of their cash receipts to avoid income tax.

—Salesmen doing business abroad and putting some of their commissions out of reach of U.S. tax authorities.

—Corporation officials dodging U.S. restrictions on trading with inside information.

—Enormous numbers of stock market investors trying to circumvent either the tax laws or the restrictions on trading on margin.

Chairman Wright Patman, D-Tex., said at the close of the hearing he will introduce legislation making it a crime for a U.S. citizen to deal with a foreign bank not allowing U.S. government inspection of its records relating to American accounts.

Patman, who said the hearing will be reconvened after January, indicated he also will press for legislation to put all foreign banks operating in the United States under supervision of federal agencies.

He also indicated he will ask the Federal Reserve Board to make certain that margin requirements for exchange trading are being met by domestic and foreign customers.

"United States bank regulatory agencies must share some of the blame for the problems uncovered by these hearings," Patman said.

"Too little is known by these agencies of the actual type of business in which banks are engaged."

He said he will call for annual audits by the bank regulatory agencies of all commercial banks "so that problem areas can be uncovered before they reach the proportions that were outlined in these hearings."

However, Justice Department and Securities and Exchange Commission witnesses expressed doubt that abuses could be corrected by domestic legislation alone.

Adda Hindman To Retire

Chester Woman Will End Years Of Welfare Work

More than 34 years of service to Hancock County families in need will come to an end Dec. 31 when Miss Adda Hindman of 534 Virginia Ave., Chester, retires from her post as director of the county Welfare Department in New Cumberland.

Miss Hindman said "bouts with pneumonia" in recent years helped lead to the decision to retire.

She first became interested in welfare work in July 1934 when she left the First National Bank of Chester to tackle a caseload of 286, making home visits to families in need during the depression.

The families were located in the area between the former Finley lumber yard and the Nessley Chapel.

During those years, Miss Hindman served with the West Virginia Relief Administration.

She continued as a family service worker until 1942 when she was appointed director of a clerical staff, child welfare and family services. The staff numbers 10 today.

Miss Hindman was born in Chester, a daughter of the late Edward and Martha Hindman.

She is a member of the Business and Professional Women's Club and serves on the Hancock County Health Board, the vocational Rehabilitation program board and the National American Public Welfare Association. She is a member of the Chester Woman's Civic Club and the Westminster United Presbyterian Church. Her sister, Mrs. Samuel Rummel of Latrobe, Pa., is a former school teacher in Chester.

Miss Hindman said she "enjoyed every minute of it (her work)" and had a special weakness for the children and older people with whom she came in contact.

"It is a wonderful feeling knowing that you've helped someone who really needed it."

Miss Hindman, who plans an active retirement, including church work, is presently on vacation. She will be replaced by Mrs. JoAnne Hobbs, who will become acting director.

Republican Club Plans Election

A slate of officers for 1969 will be presented during the Jan. 8 meeting of the Young Men's Republican Club.

The nominating committee was named during last week's meeting at the Potters Savings and Loan Co. annex, with Richard Carter chairman.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

William Cullen Bryant's "Thanatopsis," a meditation on death which many have called the first important American poem, was written by Bryant at about the age of 17. The author Richard Henry Dana, impressed with the poem and incredulous of its authorship, said: "No one on this side of the Atlantic is capable of writing such verses."

Cars Collide; Woman Hurt

A 21-year-old East Liverpool woman is "satisfactory" at Osteopathic Hospital with injuries suffered in a three - car collision Monday at 5:25 p.m. on Route 30, 100 feet west of Route 8, two miles east of Chester.

Mrs. William Stoffel of Dilworth Rd. suffered contusions of the lip.

According to Hancock County authorities, a car driven by Robert Lee Mitchell, 19, of Bulger, Pa., had slowed because a vehicle in front of him had stopped to pick up a hitchhiker.

Mitchell told deputies as he slowed his car was struck from behind by one driven by Leslie C. Gallagher, 46, of 231 W. 4th St., East Liverpool.

Mitchell said he got out of his car to talk to Gallagher following the accident and his car then was struck by the Stoffel vehicle.

There were no arrests.

Marine League Cites Area Man

Pat Cody of Industry, commandant of the Pennsylvania Marine Corps League, received distinguished service certificates at the quarterly staff meeting Saturday at Harrisburg.

He was cited on behalf of the northeast division and the state department. R. Victor Wolfe Jr., immediate past commandant, made the presentation. Wolfe was presented a gold life membership card by Cody.

The department reached 67 per cent of its membership last year. Seven detachments have exceeded their membership goals, with the Turkaly-Richards Detachment of Midland the latest.

Plans were made to have wounded Vietnam veterans as guests at the 1969 convention June 18-21 at Williamsport. The next quarterly meeting will be March 1 at Harrisburg.

An Auxiliary dinner followed the session.

Yule Event Held By Golden Aires

Christmas stockings filled with candy were favors when the Golden Aires held a luncheon Monday afternoon at the Community Center in the Salvation Army Building.

Holiday centerpieces decorated the tables. Refreshments were served 31 members and guests.

A program on "Christmas" was presented by Mildred Rose.

Carols were sung and games played. Sylvester McCord is president.

The next meeting will be Monday at 1 p.m. in the center, with Mr. and Mrs. McCord in charge of the luncheon.

At Meeting Monday Night

Wellsville Board Adopts Policies For Sick Leave

. Personal and sick leave policies recommended by Supt. Donald Lowe were adopted by the Wellsville board of education Monday night.

Partitipation in the Title III program, with the maximum $5,480 permitted by the Ohio Department of Education, also was approved.

The regulations provide that all full-time employes, regularly appointed by the board, be granted sick leave without loss of pay amounting to 1¼ days for each calendar month, or a total of 15 days per year providing the teacher works the full term under conditions established by the attorney general's office. Sick leave shall be cumulative up to 120 days and will be retroactive to last September.

Miss Mary Jenkins, a board member and retired school teacher, commented that "passage of the proposal was a great step forward in fringe benefits."

THE POLICY calls for a maximum of three days' personal leave per year without loss of pay "for urgent obligations or emergencies" to fulltime emwhen requested.

The following limitations are included, however: Personal leave is not cumulative; is not to be granted the day before or the day after a holiday; cannot be used to extend a vacation or extend sick leave; one week's notice must be given to the superintendent when possible; approval must be granted by the superintendent of schools.

New equipment for the Industrial Arts department, taught by Paul Mikanik and David McCoy, will be purchased with the funds received under the Title III program. It will include four work benches to replace 20 - year-old ones, 24 drawing tables, a tool for wrought iron work, hack saw, wood lathe and metal lathe.

Supt. Lowe reported that a representative of the Ohio Power Co. has recommended additional lighting for the sewing and cooking rooms, with installation during the Christmas holidays. The lights on the basketball courts will be installed soon with the light in front of the building and the basketball court light at Hillcrest - Fairview school being installed first.

COMPLETION of revision of all courses in grades four through six by the teachers was reported by Supt. Lowe. The changes have been mimeographed and will be placed in the hands of the teachers after the holidays, he said.

Curriculum studies will be initiated the first of the year, with a committee of teachers and administrators studying elementary mathematics. Mathematics also will be studied in the Junior High and the areas of social studies in the high school. The superintendent pointed out that the present match curriculum is variable, since textbooks from different companies are used. He said he would like to see books from the same company used by grades four through eight.

The request of the newly - formed Wellsville Boosters Club to use Beacom Memorial gymnasium one night a week for a physical fitness program will be given further consideration. Board members pointed out it would be difficult to set aside one night a week in the crowded schedule of the gym, but that it might be possible to use the gym of MacDonald school. The matter of supervision and custodial fee also entered into the decision.

Action also was deferred on a request by John Sawyer, instructor, presented through the superintendent, for a $5 registration fee for the driver education course. It would be refunded on completion of the course.

WILLIAM Ferrall, president, commented, "I would hate to see anyone deprived of driver education because of not having the $5."

Sawyer explained he proposed the fee with the feeling it would prevent dropouts, of which there were a large number last year. He said only 50 of 90 completed the course. Signing of students for the course will begin in January.

Supt. Lowe also reported that he, Miss Jenkins and Charles Glass had checked the area around the Hillcrest - Fairview School relative to a request for a storage building by the PTA and agreed that the building should be a portable one.

The membership in the Ohio School Board Association was renewed. Raymond Rolley, clerk - treasurer, reported that the tax rate for the Wellsville school district would be a total of 29.9 mills, or 4.6 inside and 25.3 outside the limitation. He reported the 1969 budget at $14,-273 for 1968. The increase resulted from the reappraisal, he said.

Proposed Tougher Dope Law Being Considered For Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A proposed law to close a loophole by making mere possession of a dangerous drug or narcotic illlegal in Ohio is being considered for submission to the General Assembly.

Frank E. Kunkel, executive secretary, State Board of Pharmacy, said he is discussing the proposal with the Attorney General's Office and the Ohio Crime Commission, but no decision has yet been reached on whether to draft a law.

The present dangerous drug law in Ohio says that illegal possession is when a person has 150 doses or more of a drug not obtained through a prescription or other legal means.

This is a loophole that many feel should be plugged, Kunkel said. He explained that the 150 was an arbitrary figure adopted in the original law, but that the situation has changed drastically toward the use of drugs.

A new law, Kunkel said, would help control the use of stimulent drugs, diet pills, sleeping capsules and other dangerous drugs.

Kunkel and William J. Lee of the Attorney General's Office, said Ohio has good drug laws which model the federal laws but with more severe penalties.

"But it's a never-ending battle to control illegal use of drugs," Lee said. He added that by making mere possession of a drug illegal would be a "desirable thing and give prosecuting attorneys a better opportunity to stamp out illegal drugs in Ohio."

Lee said if such a law is proposed it probably would carry a penalty of a $1,000 fine or a one-year prison term, or both for the first offense, with a 1-10 sentence for subsequent offenses

Lee said legislation also may be considered to tighten restrictions on out-of-state drug wholesalers.

Six Elected By Chamber In Midland

Six directors for two years terms have been elected by the Midland Area Chamber of Commerce.

The mailed ballots were counted this week by Fred G. Wilton, teller.

Four new directors named include Charles Beatrice, Midland News; Ted Castelli, jeweler; Guy E. Gengarella, contractor, and Leo Lefebvre, appliance dealer.

Re-elected were Lester W. Smith Jr. of the Dollar Savings and Loan and Earl Rankin of Crucible's Midland Division.

Holdover directors are Edward Bishoff, Anthony Martell, Wilton, William Verzella and Sid Riezner.

The Chamber will meet Wednesday at 8:30 p.m. at the McGeehan Agency.

After old business, the new board will meet to elect officers and set the time and place for the meetings for 1969. Joseph Scalise Jr. is president.

The Chamber will hold its annual dinner meeting Jan. 29 at the Willows Motel.

Local Resident Selected As One Of 'Outstanding'

A local woman will appear in the annual biographical compilation of "Outstanding Young Women of America," with headquarters at Chicago.

She is Mrs. Joann Alvis Hager of 720 Garner Ave., wife of Clark Hager Jr., honored because "of her outstanding accomplishments in community service and in professional endeavors."

Mrs. Hager has been on the staff of Weirton General Hospital the last five years and has served as supervisor during 3 to 11 p.m. the last three years. She was graduated in 1963 from St. Elizabeth School of Nursing in Dayton.

Mrs. Hager, a native of Columbus, was graduated from Southern Seminary, Buena Vista, Va., in 1958. She has resided in East Liverpool since 1963. Her husband is employed at Central Service. They have a daughter, Timi Jo, 4.

8 More Treated At City Hospital

An area youth injured in wood shop at school was treated Monday at City Hospital along with seven others.

Phillip Koerber, son of Charles Koerber of East Liverpool RD 1, suffered a laceration of the left wrist at the shop.

Also treated Monday were Norman McMillan of 1110 Railroad St., a fractured left ankle in a fall on a porch at home; Donald Mitchell, son of Thomas Mitchell of New Cumberland RD 2, a sprain of the right ankle while playing basketball at school.

William Lamp, son of Shirley Lamp of 511 Harrison St., Newell, a deep laceration of the nose on a sled; Wilbert Blatch of 910 Peake St., a right wrist injury in a fall on ice.

Ronald Simmons of 118 Washington St., Newell, a laceration of the left second finger on a sharp object at home; Ralph Mattern of 1706 Alpha St., a right wrist injury in a fall.

Tracy Jo Wright, daughter of Raymond Wright of the Echo Dell Trailer Court, a laceration of the inside of the mouth in a fall.

2 Penn State Students Lost 36 Hours In Mountains Safe

KEENE, N.Y. (AP) — Two college students, who were lost but "knew we just couldn't stop" in the piercing cold of the Adirondack Mountains, are eager to head back into the woods.

Richard Steppl 23, and Stephen Clautice, 21, both students at Pennsylvania State University, reached the safety of a cottage near the base of Mt. Marcy Monday night after being lost for more than 36 hours in the windy, subzero mountain air.

"We are both okay," Stepp, a graduate student from Gates Mill, Ohio, said as he and Clautice gulped down some hot soup in the cottage of Elmore Edmonds.

"We were just about at the end of our rope. We knew we had to get out tonight," Stepp added.

Clautice, a junior from York, Pa., and Stepp spotted the light from Edmonds' home at the end of a day in which state police, state Conservation Department workers and volunteers had manned snowmobiles and a helicopter in a search for the two.

The two were reported missing Sunday night by fellow members of the Penn State Outing Club after they failed to return from a day of cross-country skiing.

During the day, temperatures on the 5,344-foot mountain hovered near the 18-below-zero mark.

"The boys saw our lights and were damned glad to see us," Edmonds said. "We got some hot soup into them."

"They are fantastically in shape and are really eager to get started again," said Julie Ann Zebuhr, the 21-year-old president of the club.

Four Retired By Crucible

Four area men have retired from Crucible Steel's Midland Division.

They are: Ralph W. Wolfe of Chester, a clerk in production planning, 27 years service.

Treaty With Swiss Eyed

Talks Aim To Curb Use Of Secret Bank Accounts

WASHINGTON (AP) — Informal discussions have begun with Switzerland to curb the use of secret bank accounts by Americans intent on avoiding taxes and restrictions on stock market speculation, Justice Department sources say.

These sources said the talks probably will be continued by the incoming Nixon administration with the aim of negotiatng a treaty that would limit what was described as widespread abuses.

The House Banking Committee heard testimony Monday that numbered bank accounts, guarded by the stiff Swiss law guaranteeing secrecy, were being used by:

—Gangsters and loan sharks concealing illegally acquired money.

—Casino operators salting away some of their cash receipts to avoid income tax.

—Salesmen doing business abroad and putting some of their commissions out of reach of U.S. tax authorities.

—Corporation officials dodging U.S. restrictions on trading with inside information.

—Enormous numbers of stock market investors trying to circumvent either the tax laws or the restrictions on trading on margin.

Chairman Wright Patman, D-Tex., said at the close of the hearing he will introduce legislation making it a crime for a U.S. citizen to deal with a foreign bank not allowing U.S. government inspection of its records relating to American accounts.

Patman, who said the hearing will be reconvened after January, indicated he also will press for legislation to put all foreign banks operating in the United States under supervision of federal agencies.

He also indicated he will ask the Federal Reserve Board to make certain that margin requirements for exchange trading are being met by domestic and foreign customers.

"United States bank regulatory agencies must share some of the blame for the problems uncovered by these hearings," Patman said.

"Too little is known by these agencies of the actual type of business in which banks are engaged."

He said he will call for annual audits by the bank regulatory agencies of all commercial banks "so that problem areas can be uncovered before they reach the proportions that were outlined in these hearings."

However, Justice Department and Securities and Exchange Commission witnesses expressed doubt that abuses could be corrected by domestic legislation alone.

Adda Hindman To Retire

Chester Woman Will End Years Of Welfare Work

More than 34 years of service to Hancock County families in need will come to an end Dec. 31 when Miss Adda Hindman of 534 Virginia Ave., Chester, retires from her post as director of the county Welfare Department in New Cumberland.

Miss Hindman said "bouts with pneumonia" in recent years helped lead to the decision to retire.

She first became interested in welfare work in July 1934 when she left the First National Bank of Chester to tackle a caseload of 286, making home visits to families in need during the depression.

The families were located in the area between the former Finley lumber yard and the Nessley Chapel.

During those years, Miss Hindman served with the West Virginia Relief Administration.

She continued as a family service worker until 1942 when she was appointed director of a clerical staff, child welfare and family services. The staff numbers 10 today.

Miss Hindman was born in Chester, a daughter of the late Edward and Martha Hindman.

She is a member of the Business and Professional Women's Club and serves on the Hancock County Health Board, the vocational Rehabilitation program board and the National American Public Welfare Association. She is a member of the Chester Woman's Civic Club and the Westminster United Presbyterian Church. Her sister, Mrs. Samuel Rummel of Latrobe, Pa., is a former school teacher in Chester.

Miss Hindman said she "enjoyed every minute of it (her work)" and had a special weakness for the children and older people with whom she came in contact.

"It is a wonderful feeling knowing that you've helped someone who really needed it."

Miss Hindman, who plans an active retirement, including church work, is presently on vacation. She will be replaced by Mrs. JoAnne Hobbs, who will become acting director.

Republican Club Plans Election

A slate of officers for 1969 will be presented during the Jan. 8 meeting of the Young Men's Republican Club.

The nominating committee was named during last week's meeting at the Potters Savings and Loan Co. annex, with Richard Carter chairman.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

William Cullen Bryant's "Thanatopsis," a meditation on death which many have called the first important American poem, was written by Bryant at about the age of 17. The author Richard Henry Dana, impressed with the poem and incredulous of its authorship, said: "No one on this side of the Atlantic is capable of writing such verses."

Cars Collide; Woman Hurt

A 21-year-old East Liverpool woman is "satisfactory" at Osteopathic Hospital with injuries suffered in a three - car collision Monday at 5:25 p.m. on Route 30, 100 feet west of Route 8, two miles east of Chester.

Mrs. William Stoffel of Dilworth Rd. suffered contusions of the lip.

According to Hancock County authorities, a car driven by Robert Lee Mitchell, 19, of Bulger, Pa., had slowed because a vehicle in front of him had stopped to pick up a hitchhiker.

Mitchell told deputies as he slowed his car was struck from behind by one driven by Leslie C. Gallagher, 46, of 231 W. 4th St., East Liverpool.

Mitchell said he got out of his car to talk to Gallagher following the accident and his car then was struck by the Stoffel vehicle.

There were no arrests.

Marine League Cites Area Man

Pat Cody of Industry, commandant of the Pennsylvania Marine Corps League, received distinguished service certificates at the quarterly staff meeting Saturday at Harrisburg.

He was cited on behalf of the northeast division and the state department. R. Victor Wolfe Jr., immediate past commandant, made the presentation. Wolfe was presented a gold life membership card by Cody.

The department reached 67 per cent of its membership last year. Seven detachments have exceeded their membership goals, with the Turkaly-Richards Detachment of Midland the latest.

Plans were made to have wounded Vietnam veterans as guests at the 1969 convention June 18-21 at Williamsport. The next quarterly meeting will be March 1 at Harrisburg.

An Auxiliary dinner followed the session.

Yule Event Held By Golden Aires

Christmas stockings filled with candy were favors when the Golden Aires held a luncheon Monday afternoon at the Community Center in the Salvation Army Building.

Holiday centerpieces decorated the tables. Refreshments were served 31 members and guests.

A program on "Christmas" was presented by Mildred Rose.

Carols were sung and games played. Sylvester McCord is president.

The next meeting will be Monday at 1 p.m. in the center, with Mr. and Mrs. McCord in charge of the luncheon.

Wellsville Board Adopts Policies For Sick Leave

. Personal and sick leave policies recommended by Supt. Donald Lowe were adopted by the Wellsville board of education Monday night.

Partitipation in the Title III program, with the maximum $5,480 permitted by the Ohio Department of Education, also was approved.

The regulations provide that all full-time employes, regularly appointed by the board, be granted sick leave without loss of pay amounting to 1¼ days for each calendar month, or a total of 15 days per year providing the teacher works the full term under conditions established by the attorney general's office. Sick leave shall be cumulative up to 120 days and will be retroactive to last September.

Miss Mary Jenkins, a board member and retired school teacher, commented that "passage of the proposal was a great step forward in fringe benefits."

THE POLICY calls for a maximum of three days' personal leave per year without loss of pay "for urgent obligations or emergencies" to fulltime emwhen requested.

The following limitations are included, however: Personal leave is not cumulative; is not to be granted the day before or the day after a holiday; cannot be used to extend a vacation or extend sick leave; one week's notice must be given to the superintendent when possible; approval must be granted by the superintendent of schools.

New equipment for the Industrial Arts department, taught by Paul Mikanik and David McCoy, will be purchased with the funds received under the Title III program. It will include four work benches to replace 20 - year-old ones, 24 drawing tables, a tool for wrought iron work, hack saw, wood lathe and metal lathe.

Aims Of Viet Negotiators Listed

PARIS (AP) — Negotiators are heading into the expanded conference on Vietnam with avowed goals that seem unbridgeable.

What the diplomats are willing to settle for, to bring about a peace settlement, will be seen after they get down to serious and probably secret bargaining.

Following in brief are the major announced aims of the four participants in the coming talks:

UNITED STATES

"To preserve the right of the South Vietnamese people to determine their own future without outside interference or coercion."

Withdrawal of U.S. and other allied contributing forces from South Vietnam "as the other side withdraws its forces to the North, stops infiltration and the level of violence subsides."

A settlement basically in line with the 1954 Geneva accords for peace and independence in Indo-China, with restoration of the demilitaried zone between North and South Vietnam under international controls pending reunification of the country and stronger international supervision of a settlement than the Geneva agreements provided.

A government of South Vietnam based on the principle of self-determination with peaceful participation open to all on the basis of one-man, one-vote.

Reunification of Vietnam "to be settled peacefully by the people in North Vietnam and the people in South Vietnam."

Observance of the 1962 Geneva agreement for Laos' independence and neutrality.

Cooperative economic development of Southeast Asia with U.S. aid.

NORTH VIETNAM

"Recognition of the basic national rights of the Vietnamese people and with a clear distinction between the aggressor and the victim of aggression."

In accord with the Geneva agreements, recognition of the Vietnamese people's basic rights to peace, independence, sovereignty, unity and territorial integrity.

Withdrawal from South Vietnam of all U.S. troops and weapons; dismantling of all U.S. bases there; cancellation of America's "military alliance" with South Vietnam.

Strict respect for the DMZ and other military provisions of the Geneva agreements pending reunification of North and South.

"The internal affairs of South Vietnam must be settled by the South Vietnamese people themselves, in accordance with the program of the South Vietnam National Liberation Front without any foreign interference."

Peaceful reunification of Vietnam to be settled by the people in both North and South, without any foreign interference.

SOUTH VIETNAM

"An end to the aggression in South Vietnam" and "a genuine, lasting and guaranteed peace."

Withdrawal of all North Vietnamese forces.

De-escalation of the war by Hanoi after the talks begin.

Solution of the Viet Cong-NLF problem by the Saigon government as an internal affair, with the NLF to "give up its weapons, its armed aggression and communism." One-man, one-vote principle applies "only to those who return from the other side."

Peaceful reunification of Vietnam through direct negotiation between Saigon and Hanoi, with free elections in the South looking toward a unified government, provided free elections are held in the North too.

NATIONAL LIBERATION FRONT

"Abolish the disguised colonial regime established by the U.S. imperialists in South Vietnam."

Hold free general elections with universal suffrage and secret ballot to elect a National Assembly which will draw up a new constitution.

"Set up a democratic national union government including the most representative persons among the various social strata, nationalities, religious communities, patriotic and democratic parties, the patriotic personalities, and forces which have contributed to the cause of national liberation."

Reunification of Vietnam by negotiation between North and South.

A Vietnamese foreign policy based on "peace and neutrality."

Herbert To Take Oath

Father To Swear In Son As Ohio Court Justice

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Another Herbert will be sworn in Wednesday as an Ohio Supreme Court justice.

Retiring Justice Paul M. Herbert, 79, will use the family's ancient Welsh Bible to give the oath of office to his successor and son, Thomas M. Herbert, 41.

"There's going to be a lump in my throat," said Thomas Herbert, preparing for the move to the high court from the Franklin County Court of Appeals, where he is currently a judge.

"It's really thrilling just being permitted to serve on the Supreme Court. It's a challenge and a tremendous honor. But it's icing on the cake to be able to follow my father on the court and a double thrill to be sworn in by him."

Herbert, father of two, will take over his father's seat Jan. 2.

The elder Herbert is retiring after six years on the court and a career that spanned 41 years as a trial lawyer, five terms as lieutenant governor and four terms in the general assembly.

His son, likewise, is not new to politics, having served three terms in the Ohio House before embarking on a judicial career.

Kingsley A. Taft also will be sworn in Wednesday to his second six-year term as chief justice, along with Justice John M. Matthias, who is beginning a new term. Taft has been on the court 20 years and Matthias 14 years.

This will be the first case in which a son has directly succeeded his father on the high bench. Matthias' father, the late Edward S. Matthias, also served on the court. John Matthias was elected to the court a year after his father's death in 1953.

The Herbert name has long been prominent in Ohio Republican politics. Former Gov. Thomas J. Herbert also served on the Supreme Court and his son, John D. Herbert, is currently state treasurer.

But the similarities end there, the Herbert families are not related, "except we're both Welsh," according to Paul Herbert.

The Herberts had not planned for the son to succeed the father on the bench. "I was as much surprised as anyone else when my father informed me he was not going to run again," said the newly elected justice.

"I wanted to retire voluntarily," explained Paul Herbert. "Too many fine men endeavor to continue in office. They are eventually defeated and it's a tragedy."

The white - haired Herbert, who still swims and bowls regularly, plans to do "some writing" in retirement. He is in excellent health.

Serving on the court, Herbert says, "has been the capsheaf of my life. I've enjoyed it immensely and I've probably dissented more than any judge of the court."

A strong advocate of letting the people elect judges, Herbert believes the U.S. Supreme Court has "stretched" and "gone too far" in several decisions in interpretating the Constitution.

What advice has the father handed his son? "Work hard."

Abel Anticipates One Challenger In USW Voting

PITTSBURGH (AP)— United Steelworkers President I. W. Abel anticipates just one challenger in the Feb. 11 election and intends to increase his campaign efforts next month for re-election, says union sources.

"You're foolish to take any opposition lightly in this day and time," is Abel's view as presented by USW sources.

The names of presidential candidates who have obtained the necessary 126 nominations from union locals won't be released for two weeks. The deadline for the USW's 3,600 locals to nominate was midnight Monday.

The one opponent, anticipated by Abel, is Emil Narick, a lawyer at the union's international headquarters. USW sources said Monday it seems that steelworker William Litch of Youngstown, Ohio, won't get the required number of endorsements.

Union tellers will tabulate the results and the list of the candidates for the February ballot is expected by Dec. 23.

Meanwhile, top USW officials are reported to feel that James J. Reynolds, undersecretary to W. Willard Wirtz, has a special line to the appointment as the next secretary treasurer.

Vote Board Forwards Fees For Commissions

The Columbiana County Election Board today forwarded to Secretary of State Ted W. Brown at Columbus the fees paid by officials - elect for the commissions which they must have as part of the procedure of qualifying to assume their posts.

The $42 sent to Brown represents commission fees paid by nine of the 11 officials - elect. The remaining two will be forwarded as soon as they are remitted to the board. The fee for a commission is $5 except in the case of a county judge-elect, who pays $2.

The commissions are forwarded from Columbus to the office of Clerk of Courts Carl L. Stacey at the Courthouse, where the officials - elect may pick them up.

Winslow Homer (1836-1910) was the foremost painter of American seascapes.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

The following facts on ragweed may induce a sneeze, from some of the eight million Americans who suffer from hay fever. During each hay fever season, a million tons of ragweed pollen scatter through the air, with a single ragweed plant producing up to one billion pollen grains. Some 250,000 people lose a week or more of work or school yearly because of hay fever.

City Hall Groups Set Yule Parties

It's time again for the annual round of Christmas parties for organizations at City Hall.

The first is set Wednesday night at 6:30 at the Holiday Inn at Waterford Park for the officers and members of the board of directors of the City Employes' Federal Credit Union. Husbands and wives will be guests. The regular monthly business meeting also will be held.

A party is slated Saturday night at 6 at the home of American Legion Post 374 in East End for Local 677, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes, the union which represents many city workers.

The annual City Hall Christmas party for city employes and officials and their families is set Wednesday night, Dec. 18, at the Elks Lodge. It will be highlighted by a dinner.

School Bus, Car Collide On Curve

An empty Beaver Local school bus and a car collided Monday about 3:55 p. m. in the Beaverkettle - Bowman Rd., about a half-mile north of Route 170.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said Gloria Mae Palmer, 53, of RD 3 was operating the school bus and Gary J. Michael, 22, of Negley RD 1 was driving a 1962 sedan which collided head-on on a curve.

There were no injuries.

Range From 1 To 13 Mills

Voters In 56 Ohio School Areas Ballot On Levies

By The Associated Press

Voters in 56 Ohio school districts were being asked a second time today to raise taxes for more school operating funds.

The levy proposals, ranging from one to 13 mills, all were rejected by voters Nov. 5.

Two of the districts with levies on the ballot have run out of funds and have closed their schools. Six other districts say they are in serious financial trouble and also may have to close down schools if voter turn down their levy requests again.

Meanwhile, residents of two other districts also faced with school closings approved levy proposals in elections held Monday. A 5.7-mill operating levy for the Ottawa - Glandorf District in Putnam County was approved, 1,260-1,045, while in the Lakota District in Sandusky, Seneca and Wood counties, where tax requests have been denied four straight times, voters approved a 5-mill operating levy, by a 1,164-615 vote.

Voters in Hamilton County's Forest Hills District gave the go-ahead to a 5-mill operating levy by a vote of 2,798-2,566. But in the New Riegel School District in Seneca County voters again rejected a 4.5-mill levy, this time 321-110.

Voters in the Nelsonville-York City School District in Athens County were deciding today whether their school will reopen before next year. Schoools were closed at Thanksgiving, and if the 7-mill proposal is approved they are scheduled to open Dec. 12.

The Ostego Local School District in Wood County, which is asking voters for 3.5 mills in new money, closed schools Dec. 1 and plans to reopen them Jan. 12.

Marietta schools face even more serious problems. Officials say the 22.6-mill renewal and additional levy are needed if schools are to stay open after Dec. 20, and if the levies fail, the district also faces the possibility of losing its state aid.

The Hamilton Local School District in Franklin County is asking for 13 mills in new money. The board there is talking about an April 1 closing if the levy fails. If it passes, the district hopes to be able to borrow against it to stay open Jan. 1-20.

Schools will close Wednesday until the first of the year in the North Central District in Williams County if voters reject a 5-mill levy.

Three other districts, C. R. Coblentz in Preble and Darke counties, Conneaut City in Ashtabula and Central Local in Williams and Defiance counties, will be hard-pressed for operating funds if their levies fail. They are requesting 9 mills, 3.9 and 5 mills in new money, respectively.

3 From Hancock Elected To Posts

Three Hancock County men were elected to posts during the meeting of the West Virginia Minor Judiciary Association Saturday at Charleston.

Squire John D. Herron of New Cumberland was named to his 12th consecutive term as president of the association, J. Carl Durham of Newell was elected secretary and Thomas Bellanco of Weirton treasurer.

Herron, dean of the public officeholders in Hancock County in point of years of service, has been justice of the peace in Clay District since 1944.

He was appointed county coroner last year by the commissioners and serves as judge of the New Cumberland Municipal Court.

The French expression "tour de force" means a feat of skill.

Musicians Elect Hall President, Plan Activities

Robert Hall of Holliday St. was re-elected president of American Federation of Musicians Local 172 during the annual election Monday night at the headquarters on W. 5th St.

Other officers returned were George Hamilton of Glenmoor, vice president and business agent; Frank Craven of Sophia St., secretary - treasurer, and George Grafton of Wellsville, sergeant-at-arms.

Named to the executive board were Edward Ring of Glenmoor, Theodore Koenig of East Liverpool, Hiram LaMire of Anderson Blvd., Richard Rayle of Chester and Neil Hayden of East End.

Named trustees were Thomas Colella of East Palestine, George Miller of Cain St. and Scotty Young of College St.

Thirty attended the meeting. Lunch was served. Discussion was held on the concert band for next year. Committees for various activities will be selected at the next meeting Jan. 13.

The hand (four inches) is used to determine the height of horses.

Aims Of Viet Negotiators Listed

PARIS (AP) — Negotiators are heading into the expanded conference on Vietnam with avowed goals that seem unbridgeable.

What the diplomats are willing to settle for, to bring about a peace settlement, will be seen after they get down to serious and probably secret bargaining.

Following in brief are the major announced aims of the four participants in the coming talks:

UNITED STATES

"To preserve the right of the South Vietnamese people to determine their own future without outside interference or coercion."

Withdrawal of U.S. and other allied contributing forces from South Vietnam "as the other side withdraws its forces to the North, stops infiltration and the level of violence subsides."

A settlement basically in line with the 1954 Geneva accords for peace and independence in Indo-China, with restoration of the demilitaried zone between North and South Vietnam under international controls pending reunification of the country and stronger international supervision of a settlement than the Geneva agreements provided.

A government of South Vietnam based on the principle of self-determination with peaceful participation open to all on the basis of one-man, one-vote.

Reunification of Vietnam "to be settled peacefully by the people in North Vietnam and the people in South Vietnam."

Observance of the 1962 Geneva agreement for Laos' independence and neutrality.

Cooperative economic development of Southeast Asia with U.S. aid.

NORTH VIETNAM

"Recognition of the basic national rights of the Vietnamese people and with a clear distinction between the aggressor and the victim of aggression."

In accord with the Geneva agreements, recognition of the Vietnamese people's basic rights to peace, independence, sovereignty, unity and territorial integrity.

Withdrawal from South Vietnam of all U.S. troops and weapons; dismantling of all U.S. bases there; cancellation of America's "military alliance" with South Vietnam.

Strict respect for the DMZ and other military provisions of the Geneva agreements pending reunification of North and South.

"The internal affairs of South Vietnam must be settled by the South Vietnamese people themselves, in accordance with the program of the South Vietnam National Liberation Front without any foreign interference."

Peaceful reunification of Vietnam to be settled by the people in both North and South, without any foreign interference.

SOUTH VIETNAM

"An end to the aggression in South Vietnam" and "a genuine, lasting and guaranteed peace."

Withdrawal of all North Vietnamese forces.

De-escalation of the war by Hanoi after the talks begin.

Solution of the Viet Cong-NLF problem by the Saigon government as an internal affair, with the NLF to "give up its weapons, its armed aggression and communism." One-man, one-vote principle applies "only to those who return from the other side."

Peaceful reunification of Vietnam through direct negotiation between Saigon and Hanoi, with free elections in the South looking toward a unified government, provided free elections are held in the North too.

NATIONAL LIBERATION FRONT

"Abolish the disguised colonial regime established by the U.S. imperialists in South Vietnam."

Hold free general elections with universal suffrage and secret ballot to elect a National Assembly which will draw up a new constitution.

"Set up a democratic national union government including the most representative persons among the various social strata, nationalities, religious communities, patriotic and democratic parties, the patriotic personalities, and forces which have contributed to the cause of national liberation."

Reunification of Vietnam by negotiation between North and South.

A Vietnamese foreign policy based on "peace and neutrality."

Herbert To Take Oath

Father To Swear In Son As Ohio Court Justice

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Another Herbert will be sworn in Wednesday as an Ohio Supreme Court justice.

Retiring Justice Paul M. Herbert, 79, will use the family's ancient Welsh Bible to give the oath of office to his successor and son, Thomas M. Herbert, 41.

"There's going to be a lump in my throat," said Thomas Herbert, preparing for the move to the high court from the Franklin County Court of Appeals, where he is currently a judge.

"It's really thrilling just being permitted to serve on the Supreme Court. It's a challenge and a tremendous honor. But it's icing on the cake to be able to follow my father on the court and a double thrill to be sworn in by him."

Herbert, father of two, will take over his father's seat Jan. 2.

The elder Herbert is retiring after six years on the court and a career that spanned 41 years as a trial lawyer, five terms as lieutenant governor and four terms in the general assembly.

His son, likewise, is not new to politics, having served three terms in the Ohio House before embarking on a judicial career.

Kingsley A. Taft also will be sworn in Wednesday to his second six-year term as chief justice, along with Justice John M. Matthias, who is beginning a new term. Taft has been on the court 20 years and Matthias 14 years.

This will be the first case in which a son has directly succeeded his father on the high bench. Matthias' father, the late Edward S. Matthias, also served on the court. John Matthias was elected to the court a year after his father's death in 1953.

The Herbert name has long been prominent in Ohio Republican politics. Former Gov. Thomas J. Herbert also served on the Supreme Court and his son, John D. Herbert, is currently state treasurer.

But the similarities end there, the Herbert families are not related, "except we're both Welsh," according to Paul Herbert.

The Herberts had not planned for the son to succeed the father on the bench. "I was as much surprised as anyone else when my father informed me he was not going to run again," said the newly elected justice.

"I wanted to retire voluntarily," explained Paul Herbert. "Too many fine men endeavor to continue in office. They are eventually defeated and it's a tragedy."

The white - haired Herbert, who still swims and bowls regularly, plans to do "some writing" in retirement. He is in excellent health.

Serving on the court, Herbert says, "has been the capsheaf of my life. I've enjoyed it immensely and I've probably dissented more than any judge of the court."

A strong advocate of letting the people elect judges, Herbert believes the U.S. Supreme Court has "stretched" and "gone too far" in several decisions in interpretating the Constitution.

What advice has the father handed his son? "Work hard."

Abel Anticipates One Challenger In USW Voting

PITTSBURGH (AP)— United Steelworkers President I. W. Abel anticipates just one challenger in the Feb. 11 election and intends to increase his campaign efforts next month for re-election, says union sources.

"You're foolish to take any opposition lightly in this day and time," is Abel's view as presented by USW sources.

The names of presidential candidates who have obtained the necessary 126 nominations from union locals won't be released for two weeks. The deadline for the USW's 3,600 locals to nominate was midnight Monday.

The one opponent, anticipated by Abel, is Emil Narick, a lawyer at the union's international headquarters. USW sources said Monday it seems that steelworker William Litch of Youngstown, Ohio, won't get the required number of endorsements.

Union tellers will tabulate the results and the list of the candidates for the February ballot is expected by Dec. 23.

Meanwhile, top USW officials are reported to feel that James J. Reynolds, undersecretary to W. Willard Wirtz, has a special line to the appointment as the next secretary treasurer.

Vote Board Forwards Fees For Commissions

The Columbiana County Election Board today forwarded to Secretary of State Ted W. Brown at Columbus the fees paid by officials - elect for the commissions which they must have as part of the procedure of qualifying to assume their posts.

The $42 sent to Brown represents commission fees paid by nine of the 11 officials - elect. The remaining two will be forwarded as soon as they are remitted to the board. The fee for a commission is $5 except in the case of a county judge-elect, who pays $2.

The commissions are forwarded from Columbus to the office of Clerk of Courts Carl L. Stacey at the Courthouse, where the officials - elect may pick them up.

Demonstration, Vandalism Hit Cheyney Campus

CHEYNEY, Pa. (AP) — Some 150 State Police remained overnight on the Cheyney College campus in the wake of Monday's demonstration and vandalism.

The disturbance by more than 150 students and outsiders was quashed Monday night when two platoons of State Police secured all campus buildings, a spokesman for Gov. Shafer said.

Most of the demonstrators made a peaceful exit from Yarnall Hall upon orders from the State Police.

But police were ordered to move in when some demonstrators apparently refused to leave a women's dormitory. One reportedly resisted police. He was charged with disorderly conduct.

At least 16 others were arrested earlier on charges of riotous conduct, when police entered a cafeteria, the library, the administration building and a dormitory.

All were to be arraigned overnight by an unidentified magistrate in Broad Meadow Prison, the Shafer aide reported.

He said the demonstration apparently was formented by an out-of-state group, believed to be from Washington, D. C.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Light On Lamp Cleaning

DEAR FOLKS: Here's a tip for all those who have asked me how to clean lacquered metal lamps.

Heloise

I have checked this out thoroughly and was told never to use metal cleaners on lacquered metal lamps.

The correct thing to do is to use a cream-type cleaning wax. This will remove the built-up residue without removing your beautiful lacquer finish.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Everyone in our family has their own toothpaste tube to squeeze anyway they want to. (I am a squeezer in the middle and my husband is the neat, roll-up-from-the-bottom-type.)

Now everyone has their own special tube with their initial on it in red fingernail polish.

There are enough turmoils in everyday living wth a large family than to have frayed nerves over the toothpaste tube!

DORA GORMAN.

DEAR HELOISE: Last year when we bought our Christmas tree, it had one bare spot but otherwise was very pretty.

So we cut off a couple of the branches at the bottom. Then bored two small holes in the tree trunk where the bare spot was, and fitted the extra branches in.

When decorated, it looked just like the branches had grown there.

KATHY HAYES.

DEAR HELOISE: After a six months battle, I finally found a way to get my son to cut his shaggy locks off.

Neither his girl friend nor her father approved of long, long hair. So I asked her if she would help ME by convincing him to get a decent hair cut the next time he went.

She did. Bless her always.

Now instead of a sheep dog we have nice looking son to be proud of again. MOTHER.

DEAR HELOISE: If your pet is shedding and your vacuum cleaner doesn't pick up all the stubborn matted-down hairs on your furintire and rugs, try using one of those plastic hair curlers with the small rows of teeth to loosen them.

It sure did the trick for me.

Shirley Lowell.

DEAR HELOISE: I visited my granddaughter and noticed a cute idea in her kitchen.

I send her hand lotion in all her gift boxes and it's usually in the attractive bottles with the dispenser. She had put liquid dishwashing detergent in one and keeps it sitting by her sink.

It not only looks very attractive, but is oh so handy.

M. C. B.

DEAR HELOISE: Packaged dessert mixes often require the high speed of the mixer. So I cut a clean gorcery bag up one side and put it over the mixer and small bowl. The bag catches all the spatters instead of my cupboards.

WIEDA KARSTAN.

DEAR HELOISE: Quite by accident I hit upon a very simple and delicious confection for the holidays.

I happened to have a box of colored butter mints and a box of pitted dates on my pantry shelf.

You've guessed it!

The mints are every bit as good as creamy filling and a great deal easier to fix.

ANN LANDERS

One Way To Look At It

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: I was interested in the letter from ABC, the teen-age girl whose father was cheating on her mother.

You told her to keep her mouth shut and suggested the possibility that her mother probably knew what was going on and pretended not to see. You said, "When a mother is confronted with such information she may be forced to ask for a divorce which she doesn't want, as a matter of pride."

I was glad you gave that advice, Ann, because I'm the wife of a cheating husband and my children are aware of their father's unfaithfulness. Several weeks ago I overheard my 15-year-old daughter tell her 17-year-old brother she saw Daddy's car again — parked on a side street by Mrs. J's house. But they've never said anything to me.

I appreciate my children's silence more than they'll ever know. It shows strong character and genuine consideration. I'm aware, too, that just because a man is unfaithful does not mean he is rotten to the core and deserves to be thrown out.

My husband happens to be a wonderful father and he has many fine qualities. Unfortunately, he's not quite grown up in some ways.

This is not his first affair. The poor fellow has been involved with at least three other young women. Like so many other immature males, he uses extramarital sex as a prop for his sagging ego.

Living with the problem is not easy, but it's better than the alternative. — UNDERSTANDING HELPS.

Dear Understanding: I admire the breadth of your understanding and the absence of hostility. Not every wife could accommodate to such a situation, but apparently you have weighed and measured and made your decision on the basis of what is best for you and your family. Congratulations.

Irresponsible

Dear Ann: The woman (I should say girl) upstairs asked if I would watch her baby Tuesday night. I had a bowling date and didn't want to break it so I said no. She tried her best to talk me into it. (She and her husband had been asked by another couple to help celebrate their wedding anniversary.) I refused to change my mind, however.

A couple days later I found out the girl and her husband took the baby with them and left him in the back seat of the car while they went from tavern to tavern. They got home at 3 a.m.

If anything had happened to that baby I'd never have forgiven myself. I'm a nervous wreck just thinking about it. What can be done about parents like that? — MIDDLETOWN, N.Y.

Dear Middletown: If the police had found that baby in the seat of the car the parents could have been charged with neglect. Such parents can lose their children.

It's a shame a mother would have to be pulled into line through fear of police action, but I suggest that you tell her about the risk she is running. It could do some good.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self addressed envelope.

4 Brothers Perish In Pennsylvania Fire

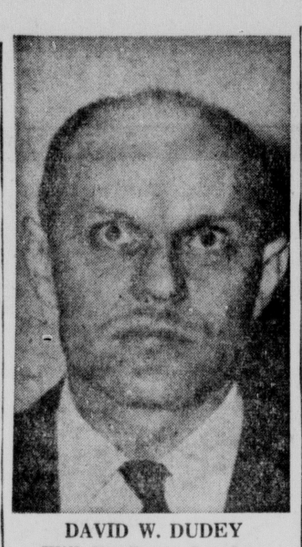

INDIANA, Pa. (AP) — Four boys in a family of eleven children have burned to death in a blaze that leveled the family's one-story frame home in the Chevy Chase Heights section of Indiana.

"I tried to get to the boys. . . . — tried," cried Charles Deyarmin, shivering in the near zero weather. "I just couldn't make it.

He said the fire, which started late Monday, apparently began in the basement coal furnace.

The Deyarmin's had eleven children, four boys and seven girls. The father said the girls were watching television downstairs when the blaze started. The boys retired to their bedroom.

Dinner Meeting Set Thursday By Metals Society

David W. Dudey of the Blaw-Knox Co. of Wheeling will be guest speaker when the Upper Ohio Valley chapter of the American Society for Metals holds a dinner meeting Thursday night at the Ft. Steuben Hotel in Steubenville.

Dudey, a development and research metallurgist, will discuss the "Metallurgical Aspects In Foundry."

A graduate of Ripon College in Wisconsin, he will introduce to the 100 member chapter the latest practice in large industrial ferrous casting.

Robert H. Brosious, chairman of the chapter and a member of the executive committee ,said executives of industry in the chapter's 13-county tri-state area are invited to attend.

The American Society for Metals is a technical organization involved in the gathering and dissemination of knowledge among men and women of all the metals and semi - conductor industries.

The chapter conducts technical sessions each month from September through May.

Outgoing Long Distance Calls Delayed 45 Min.

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Outgoing long distance calls from Northern Ohio were either delayed or didn't go through at all for 45 minutes Monday afternoon when a computer malfunctioned, the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. said.

Incoming long distance calls were not affected.

A spokesman for Ohio Bell said the trouble began about 2:30 p. m. when a "computer" switch failed to operate properly."

Several thousand calls from area code 216 and 419 telephones, covering Northern Ohio from the Pennsylvania to the Indiana state line, were affected.

All available Ohio Bell employes were put on duty as extra operators to tell callers why their calls were not getting through.

After the switch was repaired, it took operators until 4:30 p.m. to clean up the backlog of calls.

3 State Charges Cite 'Commuter Bandit'

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A 53 - year-old former grocer called the "Commuter Bandit," by the FBI has been convicted on three state charges of armed bank robbery.

William Zeiler, who was previously found guilty for the same holdups in a nonjury trial before Judge Loran L. Lewis of Allegheny County Court.

Also, Richard P. Chiocca, 27, convicted with Zeiler at one of the first trials, pleaded guilty to a state charge in the same robbery. The guilty plea was entered by Chiocca's counsel John L. Doherty.

Lewis postponed sentencing until completion of a federal presentence investigation.

Pentagon Announces Contract

More Launchers Ordered From Indicted Company

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy has ordered another big supply of 2.75-inch rocket launchers from a St. Louis firm which is under federal indictment for alleged kickbacks on previous launcher contracts.

The Pentagon's daily contract Monday included one paragraph saying Alsco Inc. of St. Louis would get a $5,042,549 "modification to an existing fixed price letter contract" for launchers.

This is the company which was named with five other defendants in a federal indictment Aug. 7 charging them with channeling $4 million from over $47 million in contracts, into Swiss banks.

The indictment said the defendants knew "that their interest in accounts in Swiss banks could and would be disguised and concealed" by co-conspirators.

Even as Alsco was under investigation before the indictment, the Navy on July 23 awarded Alsco's Techfab Division, maker of the launchers, a $13.9 million contract for the devices.

The Navy later defended the $13.9 million award on grounds that the launchers were urgently needed in Vietnam and Techfab was the only available producer.

Asked about Monday's contract, the Navy said it still hasn't been able to develop a second source but is only days away from getting different bidders for two launcher contracts expected to be awarded in January.

A spokesman told The Associated Press that on Nov. 5 the Navy sent out requests for proposals to some 200 potential suppliers of the launchers.

"Proposals are due on Dec. 19 and the Navy hopes to make two contract awards in January 1969 for the procurement of the launchers," he said. Deliveries under these awards would begin next August.

The Navy, which has been criticized by Congress for relying on only one launcher manufacturer, had acted last September to find a new outlet.

At that time the Naval Air Systems Command, which procures such hardware, announced in a Commerce Department publication that it would formally seek competitive bids in October from prospective new suppliers for 81,500 launchers.

What happened to that effort or whether it is one in the same as the December biding could not be immediately determined.

The Navy said the problem in getting a new contractor is that Techfab holds certain patent rights on the launchers which prevents other companies from producing them.

In order for other companies to make 2.75-inch launchers, they must develop their own designs, and this takes considerable time, a Navy spokesman said.

The launchers are used by both the Navy and Air Force in Vietnam. They handle folding fin type weapons which can be fired either air-to-air or air-to-ground.

Damage At Ohio Pen Riot Reported Fixed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Penitentiary Warden Harold J. Cardwell said Monday that damage caused by summer rioting at the ancient prison has been repaired and operations are about back to normal.

Cardwell said some sections of the prison, such as the woodworking shop, planning mill and mattress factory, are not being restored because the century old facility is scheduled to be closed by 1971.

MOST PEOPLE WHO LONG FOR SUMMER HAVE SHORT MEMORIES

Ah, summer! Picnics, golf and swimming. Trees and flowers and birds and sunshine.

Phooie. You're having your annual attack of the Winter Wishfuls.

All through the winter you wished for summer, then suddenly it arrived. Good Old Summertime. Do you remember how it really was. Hot and humid. Sticky and stuffy. Your house was somewhat less comfortable than a Turkish bath. You dragged out a flock of fans to push the hot air around; maybe you even got desperate and tried one of those noisy, drafty window units. And while you were trying to fall asleep in that oven of a bedroom, you were wishing it was winter.

In just a few months, you have all that to go through again. Unless, of course, you order your whole-house Gas air conditioning system now.

Yes, now. Now—before that first steaming night sneaks up on you—is the time to let your Gas Company add whole-house Gas air conditioning to your present Gas furnace. There's no quieter, cleaner, more economical-to-run, longer-lived air conditioning system anywhere.

You get a husky three-ton Gas air conditioning system—including normal installation—for as little as $14.00 a month. There's no down payment.

The no-obligation coupon brings all the facts. Mail it today — and look forward to a comfortable summer you can really enjoy.

Reports from down river indicate that Frank Melchiorre, former East Liverpool assistant basketball coach, is doing a fine job at St. Clairsville.

The team has recorded wins in its first three games, one of the best starts at the school in a long time, and the fans are happy with the job Melchiorre is doing so far. The team is considered a possible threat to Bellaire St. John's in the Martins Ferry sectional tournament.

Bridgeport, which beat St. John's, is regarded as one of the toughest Class A teams to come out of the area in some time, and is the heavy favorite to win its sectional.

AMBRIDGE'S Dick DeVenzio scored 17 points as Duke thumped Princeton 81-62 in a basketball game at New York Saturday.

EAST LIVERPOOL'S Joe Massey scored 20 points and Mitch Jones added 7 as Theil won its first game in three starts Saturday, 65-58, over Adelbert. Wellsville's Tom McClain got 8 points for the losers.

BEAVER LOCAL'S Bill Barnhart got 25 points for the Youngstown U. JV team in a 75-51 win Saturday.

WILBERT ROBINSON of Laurel Highlands is averaging 23.3 points a game for the unbeaten West Virginia U. freshmen. Curtis Price of Charleston is averaging 15.7. Gary Browne of Washington, D. C., is averaging 23.7 to lead the team. Seven-foot Mike Heitz of Indiana, hampered by mononucleosis is netting 6.3 a game, but playing only 12 minutes a contest.

Davidson 3rd, Kentucky 4th

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

UCLA and North Carolina continued their domination of the Associated Press major college basketball poll today, but once you get past them, anything goes.

Duke and St. Bonaventure replaced Kansas and Houston in the Top Ten while Davidson, New Mexico, Cincinnati and Villanova gained ground and Kentucky and Notre Dame also dropped back.

UCLA, meanwhile, held fast, grabbing all 30 first place votes after beating Ohio State and Notre Dame last week, and North Carolina took every second-place ballot following victories over Oregon twice and Kentucky.

The loss dropped Kentucky from third to fourth place with Davidson jumping from a sixth place tie to third with victories over Furman and Vanderbilt, which fell from 12th out of the rankings.

New Mexico tripped Hawaii twice and rose from eighth to No. 5 and Cincinnati walloped Kansas State and North Dakota State, moving it up three places to sixth.

Villanova, 10th last week, took the No. 8 spot after beating Princeton and Philadelphia Textile and the Bonnies hammered Detroit College and St. Francis, Pa., to move from 11th and 10th.

Duke made the biggest leap on the strength of victories over Alabama and Princeton. The Blue Devils jumped from 16th to ninth.

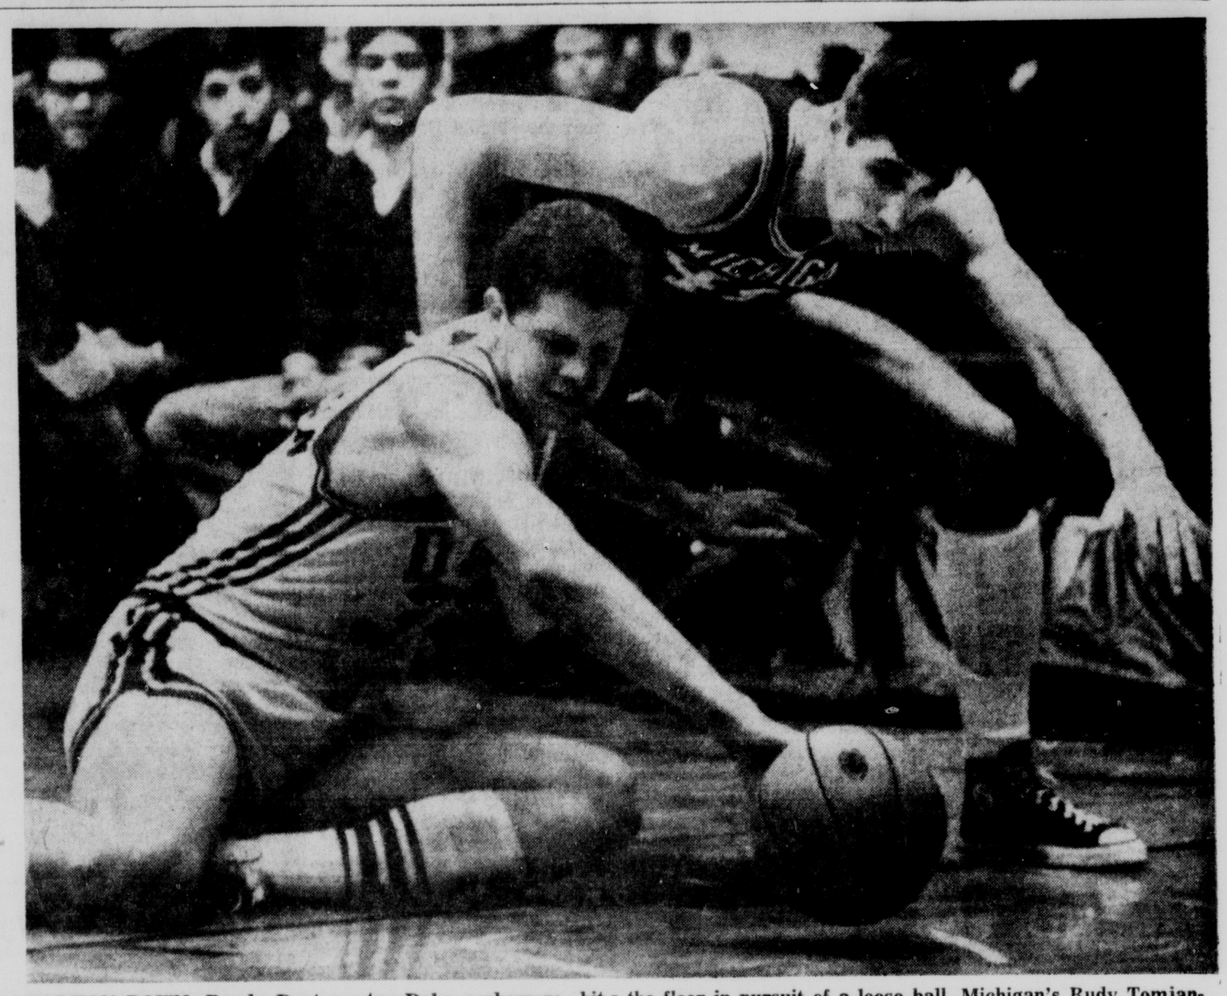

Notre Dame fell two places to seventh while Kansas dropped even farther, from fourth to 11th, after losing to Wisconsin. Houston, a loser to Southern California, plummeted from a tie for sixth to 12th.

LaSalle, grabbing No. 20, was the only new face in the Top Twenty that is missing Tennessee and Marquette along with Vanderbilt.

Ohio State's loss to UCLA cost the Buckeyes four places, to 17th, Western Kentucky, No. 15, and Santa Clara, No. 16, each rose two places, and Purdue, No. 13, Detroit, No. 15, California, No. 18, and Iowa, No. 19, each moved up one notch.

The Top 20, with first-place votes, records and total points:

1.	UCLA (30)	3-0	600
2.	North Carolina	3-0	540
3.	Davidson	3-0	431
4.	Kentucky	2-1	267
5.	New Mexico	3-0	234
6.	Cincinnati	3-0	211
7.	Notre Dame	1-1	199
8.	Villanova	3-0	174
9.	Duke	3-0	160
10.	St. Bonaventure	2-0	158
11.	Kansas	2-1	154
12.	Houston	3-1	125
13.	Purdue	2-1	100
14.	Detroit	4-0	79
15.	Western Kentucky	4-0	78
16.	Santa Clara	3-0	66
17.	Ohio State	1-1	50
18.	California	2-0	40
19.	Iowa	3-0	35
20.	LaSalle	1-0	32

DENTON DOWN. Randy Denton, star Duke sophomore, hits the floor in pursuit of a loose ball. Michigan's Rudy Tomjanovich is also after the ball. Michigan upset the Blue Devils 90-80 in Durham, N.C. last night.

Weirton At Oak Glen In Cage Test Tonight

A traditional battle highlights tonight's four - game high school cage slate in the area.

Hancock County rivals Weirton and Oak Glen square off at the Golden Bear gym. The Red Riders topped Steubenville 69-67 in their opener and are touted as being one of the best teams in the panhandle. Oak Glen is 1-1, having beaten South Side Beaver 63-49 and lost to Pittsburgh Langley 54-41.

Both teams have new coaches, Jack McDevitt for the Bears and Norm Bailey for the Riders. Nick Greiner and Jay Briscoe each had 19 against Big Red, with Larry Campbell getting 13 and Ron Smith 12. Jim Carnes is averaging 15.5 for Oak Glen.

Midland puts its unbeaten string of two games on the line when it travels to Center, a Class B power. The Trojans, defending Section 17 champs, are 3-1, having beaten Neville 64-63, New Brighton 58-51, Quigley 80-58 and having lost to Ellwood City 66-63. Ken Wleck and Steve Gulasey are the big guns for Sarge Alberts' team. Greg Vanlier and Elbert (Bub) Bynum are averaging 15.5 each for Ed Olkowski's five.

Western Beaver, 0-2, journeys to Riverside, 1-2. Bill Melfi's team topped Richland 68-53 between losses to New Brighton 61-47 and Mercer 60-57. Chuck Kelker paces the Golden Beavers of Don Lenz with an 11.5 average.

South Side, 1-3 but unbeaten at home, entertains Avella, 0-3. The visitors have lost to Washington Immaculate Conception 60-48, Bethany, W. Va. 62-51 and South Park 76-72. Doug Williamson is averaging 13.0 a game and Dan McNary 11.8 for John Nace's Rams.

Midland Cagers Tops Both Ways

Midland not only has the best basketball record among area teams so far, but the Leopards have the best offense and best defense.

Coach Ed Olkowski's team is unbeaten in two games and is scoring 69.0 points a game and yielding only 34.5. East Liverpool, the other area unbeaten team, is next on defense, giving up 49 points in its lone start. Wellsville is next on offense with 66.3 points a game yielded.

Jack Mills of United enjoys a narrow lead in the individual scoring race. The 6-6 senior has thrown in 50 markers in two contests for a 25.0 average. Dave Olesky of Stanton has scored 49 in two games for a 24.5 mark and Dave Maaon of Beaver Local is averaging 24.3 over three games.

Pete Rozelle Suspends Six NFL Officials

NEW YORK (AP)—Pete Rozelle, commissioner of pro football, announced Monday the suspension of the six game officials whose mistake cost Los Angeles a down in the Rams' crucial 17-16 National Football League loss to Chicago Sunday.

The officials were referee Norm Schachter, umpire Joe Connell, head linesman Burl Toler, line judge Jack Fette, back judge Adrian Burk and field judge George Ellis.

Rozelle issued the following statement:

"National Football League game officials erred in not permitting Los Angeles one more down near the end of the Rams' game with the Chicago Bears Sunday.

"A penalty against Los Angeles on the first down of its final series nullified an incomplete pass play. Following three additional incomplete passes by Los Angeles, the ball was turned over to Chicago, thus depriving Los Angeles of a fourth down play to which it was entitled.

Columbiana Gets By East

Columbiana nipped East Junior 42-40 in overtime in a basketball game at East yesterday.

Antram had 15 and Stephens 13 for the winners, while Tim McGeehan had 17 and Bob Douglas 14 for East, now 1-1. East led all the way until the final stages of the game.

East entertains Midland this aftrnoon.

Duquesne Freshmen Rout Beaver Coaches

The Duquesne freshmen routed a team of Beaver County cage coaches 104-64 in a benefit game at Freedom High last night for Grant Peters of New Sewickley Twp., who needs an artificial kidney.

Mickey Davis of Monaca led Al Bailey's Duquesne team with 24 points. Dave Nichol of Monaca led the coaches with 14 markers. John Nace of South Side scored one point for the coaches.

Michigan Upsets Duke; UNC Wins

By MIKE BRYSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Powerful North Carolina kept rolling along, but Duke wasted little time in failing to uphold a loftier reputation in college basketball warfare Monday night.

The Tar Heels, ranked No. 2 behind idle UCLA in today's Associated Press poll, trailed by a point at halftime before rallying to whip Vanderbilt 100-78 at Charlotte.

But Duke, elevated from 16th to ninth in the rankings this week, was upset on its own court by Michigan, 90-80.

Vanderbilt fired away at a 54.8 per cent clip to take a 40-39 halftime edge. But 6-foot-8 Bill Bunting fired in nine points in a spree that lifted North Carolina into control at 63-54 midway through the final half.

Bunting finished with a career high 22 points to share honors with teammate Dick Grubar as the Tar Heels won their fourth straight. Vanderbilt, ranked No. 12 a week ago, suffered its second loss in three games.

Michigan's Rudy Tonjanovich tapped in a bevy of offensive rebounds in picking up 29 points in firing the upset of Duke—the Blue Devils first loss in four games.

Michigan led 41-36 at the half, then outscored Duke 11-1 midway through the second half to put it out of doubt.

Meanwhile, two other teams in the Top 20—Kansas and LaSalle—scored easy victories, while No. 15 Western Kentucky had to struggle to stop St. Francis, Pa., 70-68.

No. 11 Kansas rolled past Xavier of Ohio 79-56 and No. 20 LaSalle put down Rider 77-59.

Kansas befuddled Xavier with an aggressive zone defense while racing to a 36-24 halftime lead. The Jayhawks then ripped in seven straight points after intermission and it was no contest after that. Phil Harmon led a balanced attack with 16 points.

Johnny Arthur flipped in 31 points to lead Tulane to a 108-88 conquest of previously unbeaten Rice.

In other games, Illinois stopped North Dakota 83-51, Northwestern defeated Colorado 83-66, Drake beat Marquette 68-63, Oklahoma ousted Texas Tech 83-74, Oklahoma State topped South Dakota State 72-67, Arkansas edged Centenary 64-61 in overtime.

Also Samford beat Mississippi State 68-59, Lamar Tech stopped Texas A&M 98-87, Air Force checked Arkansas State 76-58, Iowa State tromped San Fernando State 97-61 and Texas-El Paso sidetracked Southern Colorado State 94-81.

Weirton Cagers 6th In W. Va. Rankings

By ED RICE

West Virginia Sportswriters have given the Charleston Mountain Lions the pre-season nod over the Huntington Pony Express in the Associated Press's first high school basketball rankings.

Charleston, with ten first place ballots of the 12 cast, was the decided favorite to retain its state Class AAA title. Huntington received the other two first place votes and was a strong choice over third-rated Mullins.

1.	Charleston (10)	118
2.	Huntington (2)	96
3.	Mullens	71
4.	Beckley	64
5.	Logan	41
6.	Weirton	33
7.	Ceredo-Kenova	28
8.	Sistersville	25
9.	Wheeling	24
10.	Huntington Vinson	18

Other teams receiving votes and their totals:

Beaver Freshmen Whip Newell 47-27

The Beaver Local freshman basketball team won its second straight game yesterday, whipping Newell 47-27 at Beaver Local.

Dean Horger had 17 and Mike Linville 10 to pace the Beavers, while Nick Horoszko had 10 for the losers.

The Beavers play at Chester tomorrow.

age 18 and over. Prepare now for U.S. Civil Service job openings during the next 12 months.

Government positions pay high starting salaries. They provide much greater security than private employment and excellent opportunity for advancement. Many positions require little or no specialized education or experience.

But to get one of these jobs, you must pass a test. The competition is keen and in some cases only one out of five pass.

Lincoln Service has helped thousands prepare for these tests every year since 1948. It is one of the largest and oldest privately owned schools of its kind and is not connected with the Government.

Reports from down river indicate that Frank Melchiorre, former East Liverpool assistant basketball coach, is doing a fine job at St. Clairsville.

The team has recorded wins in its first three games, one of the best starts at the school in a long time, and the fans are happy with the job Melchiorre is doing so far. The team is considered a possible threat to Bellaire St. John's in the Martins Ferry sectional tournament.

Bridgeport, which beat St. John's, is regarded as one of the toughest Class A teams to come out of the area in some time, and is the heavy favorite to win its sectional.

AMBRIDGE'S Dick DeVenzio scored 17 points as Duke thumped Princeton 81-62 in a basketball game at New York Saturday.

EAST LIVERPOOL'S Joe Massey scored 20 points and Mitch Jones added 7 as Theil won its first game in three starts Saturday, 65-58, over Adelbert. Wellsville's Tom McClain got 8 points for the losers.

BEAVER LOCAL'S Bill Barnhart got 25 points for the Youngstown U. JV team in a 75-51 win Saturday.

WILBERT ROBINSON of Laurel Highlands is averaging 23.3 points a game for the unbeaten West Virginia U. freshmen. Curtis Price of Charleston is averaging 15.7. Gary Browne of Washington, D. C., is averaging 23.7 to lead the team. Seven-foot Mike Heitz of Indiana, hampered by mononucleosis is netting 6.3 a game, but playing only 12 minutes a contest.

Davidson 3rd, Kentucky 4th

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

UCLA and North Carolina continued their domination of the Associated Press major college basketball poll today, but once you get past them, anything goes.

Duke and St. Bonaventure replaced Kansas and Houston in the Top Ten while Davidson, New Mexico, Cincinnati and Villanova gained ground and Kentucky and Notre Dame also dropped back.

UCLA, meanwhile, held fast, grabbing all 30 first place votes after beating Ohio State and Notre Dame last week, and North Carolina took every second-place ballot following victories over Oregon twice and Kentucky.

The loss dropped Kentucky from third to fourth place with Davidson jumping from a sixth place tie to third with victories over Furman and Vanderbilt, which fell from 12th out of the rankings.

New Mexico tripped Hawaii twice and rose from eighth to No. 5 and Cincinnati walloped Kansas State and North Dakota State, moving it up three places to sixth.

Villanova, 10th last week, took the No. 8 spot after beating Princeton and Philadelphia Textile and the Bonnies hammered Detroit College and St. Francis, Pa., to move from 11th and 10th.

Duke made the biggest leap on the strength of victories over Alabama and Princeton. The Blue Devils jumped from 16th to ninth.

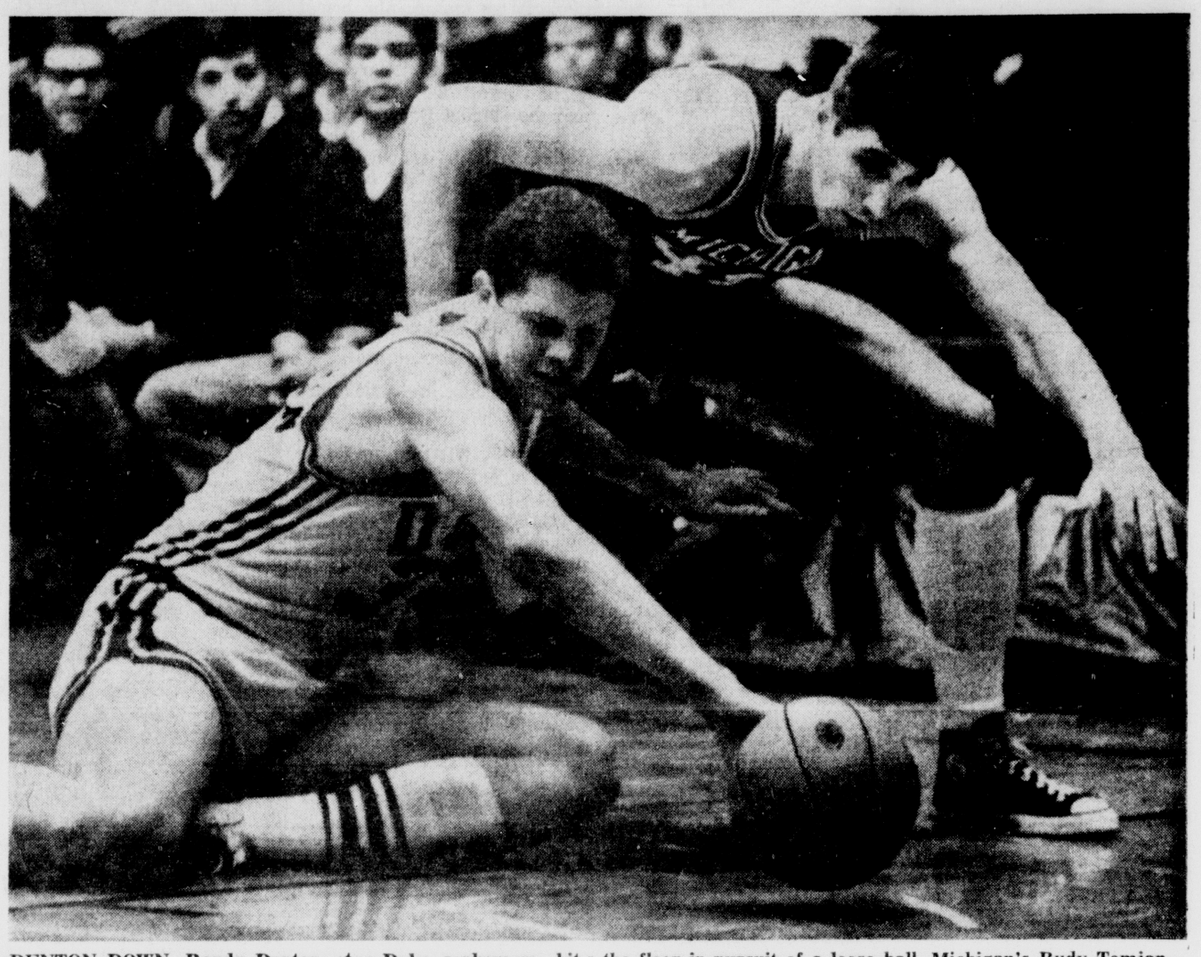

Notre Dame fell two places to seventh while Kansas dropped even farther, from fourth to 11th, after losing to Wisconsin. Houston, a loser to Southern California, plummeted from a tie for sixth to 12th.

LaSalle, grabbing No. 20, was the only new face in the Top Twenty that is missing Tennessee and Marquette along with Vanderbilt.

Ohio State's loss to UCLA cost the Buckeyes four places, to 17th. Western Kentucky, No. 15, and Santa Clara, No. 16, each rose two places, and Purdue, No. 13, Detroit, No. 15, California, No. 18, and Iowa, No. 19, each moved up one notch.

The Top 20, with first-place votes, records and total points:

1.	UCLA (30)	3-0	600
2.	North Carolina	3-0	540
3.	Davidson	3-0	431
4.	Kentucky	2-1	267
5.	New Mexico	3-0	234
6.	Cincinnati	3-0	211
7.	Notre Dame	1-1	199
8.	Villanova	3-0	174
9.	Duke	3-0	160
10.	St. Bonaventure	2-0	158
11.	Kansas	2-1	154
12.	Houston	3-1	125
13.	Purdue	2-1	100
14.	Detroit	4-0	79
15.	Western Kentucky	4-0	78
16.	Santa Clara	3-0	66
17.	Ohio State	1-1	50
18.	California	2-0	40
19.	Iowa	3-0	35
20.	LaSalle	1-0	32

DENTON DOWN. Randy Denton, star Duke sophomore, hit s the floor in pursuit of a loose ball. Michigan's Rudy Tomjanovich is also after the ball. Michigan upset the Blue Devils 90-80 in Durham, N.C. last night.

Weirton At Oak Glen In Cage Test Tonight

A traditional battle highlights tonight's four - game high school cage slate in the area.

Hancock County rivals Weirton and Oak Glen square off at the Golden Bear gym. The Red Riders topped Steubenville 69-67 in their opener and are touted as being one of the best teams in the panhandle. Oak Glen is 1-1, having beaten South Side Beaver 63-49 and lost to Pittsburgh Langley 54-41.

Both teams have new coaches, Jack McDevitt for the Bears and Norm Bailey for the Riders. Nick Greiner and Jay Briscoe each had 19 against Big Red, with Larry Campbell getting 13 and Ron Smith 12. Jim Carnes is averaging 15.5 for Oak Glen.

Midland puts its unbeaten string of two games on the line when it travels to Center, a Class B power. The Trojans, defending Section 17 champs, are 3-1, having beaten Neville 64-63, New Brighton 58-51, Quigley 80-58 and having lost to Ellwood City 66-63. Ken Wleck and Steve Gulasey are the big guns for Sarge Alberts' team. Greg Vanlier and Elbert (Bub) Bynum are averaging 15.5 each for Ed Olkowski's five.

Western Beaver, 0-2, journeys to Riverside, 1-2. Bill Melfi's team topped Richland 68-53 between losses to New Brighton 61-47 and Mercer 60-57. Chuck Kelker paces the Golden Beavers of Don Lenz with an 11.5 average.

South Side, 1-3 but unbeaten at home, entertains Avella, 0-3. The visitors have lost to Washington Immaculate Conception 60-48, Bethany, W. Va. 62-51 and South Park 76-72. Doug Williamson is averaging 13.0 a game and Dan McNary 11.8 for John Nace's Rams.

Midland Cagers Tops Both Ways

Midland not only has the best basketball record among area teams so far, but the Leopards have the best offense and best defense.

Coach Ed Olkowski's team is unbeaten in two games and is scoring 69.0 points a game and yielding only 34.5. East Liverpool, the other area unbeaten team, is next on defense, giving up 49 points in its lone start. Wellsville is next on offense with 66.3 points a game yielded.

Jack Mills of United enjoys a narrow lead in the individual scoring race. The 6-6 senior has thrown in 50 markers in two contests for a 25.0 average. Dave Olesky of Stanton has scored 49 in two games for a 24.5 mark and Dave Maaon of Beaver Local is averaging 24.3 over three games.

Pete Rozelle Suspends Six NFL Officials

NEW YORK (AP)—Pete Rozelle, commissioner of pro football, announced Monday the suspension of the six game officials whose mistake cost Los Angeles a down in the Rams' crucial 17-16 National Football League loss to Chicago Sunday.

The officials were referee Norm Schachter, umpire Joe Connell, head linesman Burl Toler, line judge Jack Fette, back judge Adrian Burk and field judge George Ellis.

Rozelle issued the following statement:

"National Football League game officials erred in not permitting Los Angeles one more down near the end of the Rams' game with the Chicago Bears Sunday.

"A penalty against Los Angeles on the first down of its final series nullified an incomplete pass play. Following three additional incomplete passes by Los Angeles, the ball was turned over to Chicago, thus depriving Los Angeles of a fourth down play to which it was entitled.

Columbiana Gets By East

Columbiana nipped East Junior 42-40 in overtime in a basketball game at East yesterday.

Antram had 15 and Stephens 13 for the winners, while Tim McGeehan had 17 and Bob Douglas 14 for East, now 1-1. East led all the way until the final stages of the game.

East entertains Midland this aftrnoon.

Michigan Upsets Duke; UNC Wins

By MIKE BRYSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Powerful North Carolina kept rolling along, but Duke wasted little time in failing to uphold a loftier reputation in college basketball warfare Monday night.

The Tar Heels, ranked No. 2 behind idle UCLA in today's Associated Press poll, trailed by a point at halftime before rallying to whip Vanderbilt 100-78 at Charlotte.

But Duke, elevated from 16th to ninth in the rankings this week, was upset on its own court by Michigan, 90-80.

Vanderbilt fired away at a 54.8 per cent clip to take a 40-39 halftime edge. But 6-foot-8 Bill Bunting fired in nine points in a spree that lifted North Carolina into control at 63-54 midway through the final half.

Bunting finished with a career high 22 points to share honors with teammate Dick Grubar as the Tar Heels won their fourth straight. Vanderbilt, ranked No. 12 a week ago, suffered its second loss in three games.

Michigan's Rudy Tonjanovich tapped in a bevy of offensive rebounds in picking up 29 points in firing the upset of Duke—the Blue Devils first loss in four games.

Michigan led 41-36 at the half, then outscored Duke 11-1 midway through the second half to put it out of doubt.

Meanwhile, two other teams in the Top 20—Kansas and LaSalle—scored easy victories, while No. 15 Western Kentucky had to struggle to stop St. Francis, Pa., 70-68.

No. 11 Kansas rolled past Xavier of Ohio 79-56 and No. 20 LaSalle put down Rider 77-59.

Kansas befuddled Xavier with an aggressive zone defense while racing to a 36-24 halftime lead. The Jayhawks then ripped in seven straight points after intermission and it was no contest after that. Phil Harmon led a balanced attack with 16 points.

Jim McDaniels, Western Kentucky's 7-foot center, polished off a 23-point performance with a three-point play with 33 seconds left, enabling Western to win its fifth straight.

LaSalle's Larry Cannon drilled in 13 of his 22 points in the final nine minutes to turn off a Rider rally and give the Explorers their second straight.

Unbeaten Georgia permitted Alabama only one point in the final 1½ minutes to pull off an 80-73 Southeastern Conference victory.

Gene Williams scored six of his 20 points, blocked three shots and stole the ball once in the overtime session to help Kansas State sidetrack Indiana 87-83.

Johnny Arthur flipped in 31 points to lead Tulane to a 108-88 conquest of previously unbeaten Rice.

In other games, Illinois stopped North Dakota 83-51, Northwestern defeated Colorado 83-66, Drake beat Marquette 68-63, Oklahoma ousted Texas Tech 83-74, Oklahoma State topped South Dakota State 72-67, Arkansas edged Centenary 64-61 in overtime.

Also Samford beat Mississippi State 68-59, Lamar Tech stopped Texas A&M 98-87, Air Force checked Arkansas State 76-58, Iowa State tromped San Fernando State 97-61 and Texas-El Paso sidetracked Southern Colorado State 94-81.

WANTED!
MEN—WOMEN

age 18 and over. Prepare now for U.S. Civil Service job openings during the next 12 months.

Government positions pay high starting salaries. They provide much greater security than private employment and excellent opportunity for advancement. Many positions require little or no specialized education or experience.

But to get one of these jobs, you must pass a test. The competition is keen and in some cases only one out of five pass.

Lincoln Service has helped thousands prepare for these tests every year since 1948. It is one of the largest and oldest privately owned schools of its kind and is not connected with the Government.

For FREE booklet on Government jobs, including list of positions and salaries, fill out coupon and mail at once — TODAY.

You will also get full details on how you can prepare yourself for these tests.

Don't delay — ACT NOW!

LINCOLN SERVICE, Dept. 42-3B

Rhodes' Raiders Visit 80 Companies In East

NEW YORK (AP)—"Rhodes' Raiders," Ohio's industry seeking team, visited 80 New York and New Jersey companies Monday and reported 25 prospects of new business for the Buckeye State.

State Development Director F. P. Neuenschwander said the companies which indicated an interest of expanding in Ohio do business in chemicals, auto equipment, food processing, textiles, electrical machinery, plastics, and packaging.

Rum made from molasses played a significant economic role in the colonies during prerevolutionary days. In 1764, the colony of Rhode Island alone had more than 30 rum distilleries.

Talk On Housing Presented For Senior Citizens

L. H. Rhodes discussed low-cost housing when the Wellsville Senior citizens met Friday afternoon in the First United Methodist Church.

He suggested the members attend the Dec. 17 Council meeting.

Cliff Baughman read a letter from the president of the Penn Central Railroad offering to provide a speaker for a meeting. He also read a letter from his sister, Mrs. L. T. Paul, president of the Cleveland Senior Citizens and employed by the state in assisting the aged and Senior Citizens. She offered to bring a delegation from the Cleveland Senior Citizens group to a Wellsville meeting.

Baughman also discussed Senior Citizens clubs and gave a reading. Mrs. Florence Wilkinson recited an original Christmas poem and presented a reading. Mrs. Rebecca Kinzel and L. P. Perry also gave readings.

Plans were announced for the Christmas party Dec. 20 at 1 p. m. at the church.

Mrs. Dora Wilson, "Queen for a Day," received the corsage. The Rev. Roger Kennedy offered prayer and the group sang its closing prayer.

Lunch was served 26 by the committee of Mrs. Ruth Givens and Mrs. Ethel Urie.

Employes' Pay Hike May Force Schools Closing

CINCINNATI (AP) — A public school shutdown next fall looms as a possibility here, as the Cincinnati Board of Education voted Monday to grant employes pay hikes in January.

Faced with a possible shutdown or employe strike, the board backed Supt. Paul Miller's recommendation that $4 million in raises be given following negotiations with employe unions.

The system is caught in a money bind mainly because of the defeat last November of a 3.7-mill levy and has no money to cover the approved increases.

"I feel we do more for the child by giving a high level of education for fewer days than permitting teachers to leave and lowering standards," Virginia Griffin, a board member, said in explaining her vote.

Board member James Farrell said he does not want public schools to "rot from within" and added, "One way to rot is to have good teachers and employes leave because we don't pay them enough."

The board has not decided yet whether to hold a special election for the defeated levy.

The DOCTOR Says

Artificial Sweetners Lack Food Value

Q—Why is this warning printed on the label of diet sodas: "Should be used only by persons who must restrict their intake of ordinary sweets"? Do they have any harmful effects on people who are not on such a diet?

Dr. Brandstadt

A—This outmoded warning has caused a great deal of confusion and has been dropped from most labels. Artificial sweeteners in reasonable amounts are harmless but don't give you any food value for your money.

—:—

ON THE OTHER hand, they won't make you sick to your stomach the way an overload of sugar may and they will not cause cavities in your teeth. They were originally marketed for use by diabetics but are now widely used by those who are trying to reduce. For this purpose, they have been shown to be of little, if any, value. Their use by diabetics remains their chief justification.

Q—Since we drink a lot of iced tea, my wife insists that the boys, 14 and 17, use artificial sweeteners in their drinks and cereals. She says they get more than enough sugar in the candy and desserts she gives them and that too much sugar causes diabetes. What do you think?

A — Teen - agers need plenty of energy - producing foods, such as starches and sugar, unless they are overweight or inclined to take very little exercise. The danger of their developing diabetes would exist only if they are 15 to 20 per cent over the ideal weight for their height. In the absence of proved diabetes, there is no reason to give them artificial sweeteners.

Q — I have heard that the first sulfa drugs were very poisonous. In what way have they been made safer?

A — The first sulfonamide (sulfanilamide) is now used only in external applications. When used improperly, drugs of the sulfonamide group may destroy certain essential elements in the blood. They have, however, been made safer through alterations of their chemical formula, more careful regulation of the dosage and frequent blood checks to detect early signs of advance reactions.

Q—My doctor says I have pseudoxanthoma elasticum. What is this? Is it serious?

A—The cause of this rare skin disease is unknown. It consists mainly of flat, yellow plaques that are usually limited to the armpits and sides of the neck. It is not serious unless the eyes become involved. There is no satisfactory treatment.

Please send yur questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of The Review. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Crucible Valuation Hiked

Midland Board Receives Reassessment Figures

Midland's school district is expected to realize extra tax monies as a result of a reassessment of the Top Oxygen Converter furnace at Crucible Steel's Midland Division.

The board of education petitioned the county in November to reassess the equipment.

During a meeting Monday night, a letter was read from Michael Van Doren, Beaver County assessor, who reported Crucible's assessment has been boosted $763,932. Crucible valuation for tax purposes has been set at $8,385,126, but the revised figure is $9,149,058.

—:—

IN OTHER business, Ivan Dye, head football coach, was hired as assistant junior high basketball coach at a salary of $400 a month. He will replace Gary Kaukonen, who resigned because of a misunderstanding about the salary.

Joel Carr, high school principal, was granted permission to obtain full details on an exchange student program with a South American country.

In a letter presented the board, Carr said there would be no expense to the school district other than the cost of three months education for a student.

A student from South America would come to Midland for three months in the winter, and if a local student desired, he or she could attend school in South America for three months in the summer.

Dr. Charles P. Henderson, superintendent, said nine schools in Beaver County are participating in this program through International Fellowship, Inc.

BOOKS and supplies totaling $278.31 were approved for Carnegie Public Library. James Morrison, board member, questioned the amount of money being spent on books.

It was explained the library operates on a budget of approximately $13,000 a year and must spend a certain amount of money to receive state aid. Approximately $2 each is spent for Midland's 6,000 residents a year.

Henderson explained the used books of the library are given to libraries at the public schools and the new Midcrest library.

Final approval was given to an architect's agreement. The solicitor pointed out the board must pay a minimum salary if the new elementary school is not built.

THE SECRETARY was granted permission to advertise for bids for the school milk program. The milk will be sold for 6 cents to children and 10 cents to adults. The bids will be opened at the January meeting.

The winter recreational basketball program was approved. Wallace Beatti and Nick Aloi will be in charge. The program, in its 22nd year, will begin Saturday and end March 1, 1969.

The Latin and French Clubs were given permission to hold their annual winter weekend at Seven Springs. The students will go skiing Dec. 20 and 21. Miss Marie Milanovich, Latin teacher, and Mrs. Patricia Weber, French teacher, will accompany them.

Retroactive release time was granted to Miss Eugenia O'Hara and Charles Polce, physical education instructors, for a state health program they attended Friday at Pittsburgh.

A letter of thanks was read from the Midwestern Pop Warner football coach, Vincent Monaco, and the assistant coaches for use of school facilities.

An insurance policy was received from the Catholic School tournament.

Sam Rosatone, superintendent of maintenance, reported the leaky boilers have been repaired by welding. He said part of the bottom rungs of a ladder going to the new gym roof will be removed in an effort to curb children from climbing to the roof.

He said he was called last week by police who saw someone on the roof. In the cold weather, there is danger of damage which will cause leaks, he explained.

He said the schools will be cleaned during the Christmas holidays.

Edward Cilli, board member, said extra precaution should be taken on the heating system for the new elementary school when it is built so there will be no trouble with the boilers.

John Uccellini, board member, commented the Midland school walls and other facilities are in good condition compared with some schools he has visited, including some new ones. He commended the maintenance staff.

Bills totaling $24,535.85 were paid.

John Zdinak presided at his first meeting as the new president.

The next meeting will be Jan. 13.

Five More Ohioans Casualties In Vietnam

WASHINGTON (AP) — Five Ohio soldiers are among the latest Vietnam casualties, the Defense Department reported Monday. Killed were:

1st Lt. Dwight C. Sarjeant of Perrysburg, Pfc. Thomas C. Conkel of Circleville, Pfc. Mark L. Fusile of Cleveland, Pfc. David L. Urban of Chardon and Pfc. Gary M. O'Keefe of Columbus.

No birds that can be found in the world today are known to have teeth.

Planning Urged For Phone Calls To Men In Viet

Ohio Bell commercial manager R. C. Sauer offered some advice today for area residents who want to call friends or relatives in Vietnam during the coming holidays.

"There are some new places in Vietnam that we can talk with now, and a new lower station-to-station rate, but making certain that call goes through is going to take a little planning," Sauer said.

Calls from the U.S. to Vietnam are the hardest to complete, he explained, because of the difficulty in locating persons being called. In order to talk to the desired party, he added, this type of call must also be person - to - person, which costs $12 for the first three minutes. U.S. callers can still reach only telephones in Saigon and the immediate vicinity, he added.

If, however, the call is placed from Vietnam to the United States, it normally takes only a few minutes to get through. In addition, calls from Vietnam to the U.S. can now be placed from hospitals and bases at Ton Son Nhut, Long Binh, Nha Trang, Qui Nhon and Da Nang.

Another advantage in placing the call from Vietnam, Sauer added, is the new station-to-station rate of $9 for the first three minutes. "By making certain everyone in the family is home at the right time, the call could be placed from Vietnam to this area station-to-station."

Cost for each additional minute is $3 whether the call is station - to - station or person to-person.

Last year, some 38,000 calls were completed between the U.S. and Vietnam, more than four times as many as there were three years ago. About 90 per cent of these calls were completed from Vietnam end, most of them collect.

Calls between the two countries have been averaging about 140 a day, but this figure is expected to increase during the holidays.

Granges Will Meet

LISBON — Mt. Nebo Junior and Subordinate granges will hold a Christmas program at 8 p. m. Wednesday in the hall. A social hour will follow, with refreshments and an exchange of gifts.

ORDINANCE NUMBER 68, 1968.
AN ORDINANCE ACCEPTING A QUIT CLAIM DEED FOR REAL ESTATE TO THE CITY OF EAST LIVERPOOL BY THE BOARD OF COUNTY COMMISSIONERS, COLUMBIANA COUNTY, OHIO.
WHEREAS, the Board of County Commissioners of Columbiana County, Ohio, have offered to the City of East Liverpool, for no consideration, a Quit Claim deed of real estate and have executed and delivered to said City said Quit Claim deed therefor, for the following described property, to-wit:
Situated in the City of East Liverpool, County of Columbiana, in the State of Ohio, and bounded and described as follows:
And being in the southwest quarter of Section 34, Township 6, Range 1 and being bounded and more specifically described as follows:
Beginning at a point in the north line of the southwest quarter of the said section 34, at a distance of 1427.10 feet eastwardly from the northwest corner of the southwest quarter of the said section 34; thence south 00 degrees, 47' 30" east 670.24 feet more or less but to the north line of Park Boulevard in the City of East Liverpool, Ohio; thence west along the south line of lots Nos. 6 and 5 of the recorded plat of the Maplewood Subdivision of the W. L. Thompson estate and the north line of the said Park Boulevard a distance of 60.0 feet to a point, thence north 0 degrees, 37' 30" west along a line parallel with the division line of the said Lots 5 and 6 and the extension thereof a distance of 670.24 feet to a point on the north line of the said southwest quarter of the said section 34, and the centerline of Armstrong Lane; thence easterly with the north line of the said southwest quarter line and the centerline of the said Armstrong Lane a distance of 60.0 feet to the place of beginning to have and to hold said premises together with all privileges and appurtenances thereunto belonging for all public highway, road and street purposes to the said City of East Liverpool, Ohio.
And being the same premises as described in Deed Volume 613, pages 167 to 175 inclusive.
Subject to all legal highways and subject to an easement described in Deed Volume 1121, Page 184 of Columbiana County Deed Records.
and,
WHEREAS, this Council is of the opinion that the acceptance of this real estate is to the advantage of the City and the use of said property for City purposes will assist the City in the administration of City government.
NOW, THEREFORE,
BE IT ORDAINED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF EAST LIVERPOOL, STATE OF OHIO:
SECTION 1. That the offer of real estate described above is hereby accepted by the City of East Liverpool.
SECTION 2. That the Clerk of this Council is hereby directed to send a copy of this Ordinance to the grantors above mentioned.
SECTION 3. This Ordinance is hereby declared to be an emergency measure and shall take effect immediately upon passage and approval. Said emergency lies in the fact that said offer must be accepted at once to become effective and to allow the said City to put into effect its plans for said property immediately needed and this action therefore is necessary to preserve the public peace, general welfare and health and safety of the citizens of East Liverpool.

NOTICE
Pursuant to the provisions of the Local Tax Enabling Act of 1965, being Act No. 511 of 1965, notice is hereby given that it is the intention of the Board of Supervisors of Greene Township, Beaver County, Pennsylvania, to adopt an Ordinance imposing a tax of one (1%) percent on the transfer of real property within the geographical limits of said Township. In the judgment of the Board of Supervisors, it is necessary to impose this tax to meet the general operating expenses of the Township, and it is estimated that the amount of revenue to be derived from this tax will be $1,000 per year. The adoption of the aforementioned tax will be considered at a meeting of the Board of Supervisors on January 6, 1969, at 8:00 P.M., Eastern Standard Time, at the home of the Secretary.

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE
Pursuant to the provision of the Local Tax Enabling Act of 1965, being Act No. 511 of 1965, Notice is hereby given that it is the intention of the Board of Supervisors of Greene Township, Beaver County, Pennsylvania, to adopt an Ordinance imposing a tax of one-half of one percent (.5%) on salaries, wages, commissions, compensations and other earned income of residents of the Township of Greene and of non-residents of the said Township to the extent authorized by the Local Tax Enabling Act of 1965. In the judgment of the Board of Supervisors of Greene Township, said tax is necessitated by reason of the costs and expenses incident to the conduct, activities and functions of the Township government and it is estimated that the sum of $8,000 will be derived from said tax annually after the enactment and adoption thereof. The adoption of said Tax Ordinance will be considered at a meeting to be held by the Board of Supervisors of Greene Township at the home of the Secretary, on January, 6, 1969, at 8:00 o'clock P.M.

Rhodes' Raiders Visit 80 Companies In East

NEW YORK (AP)—"Rhodes' Raiders," Ohio's industry seeking team, visited 80 New York and New Jersey companies Monday and reported 25 prospects of new business for the Buckeye State.

State Development Director F. P. Neuenschwander said the companies which indicated an interest of expanding in Ohio do business in chemicals, auto equipment, food processing, textiles, electrical machinery, plastics, and packaging.

Rum made from molasses played a significant economic role in the colonies during prerevolutionary days. In 1764, the colony of Rhode Island alone had more than 30 rum distilleries.

Talk On Housing Presented For Senior Citizens

L. H. Rhodes discussed low-cost housing when the Wellsville Senior citizens met Friday afternoon in the First United Methodist Church.

He suggested the members attend the Dec. 17 Council meeting.

Cliff Baughman read a letter from the president of the Penn Central Railroad offering to provide a speaker for a meeting. He also read a letter from his sister, Mrs. L. T. Paul, president of the Cleveland Senior Citizens and employed by the state in assisting the aged and Senior Citizens. She offered to bring a delegation from the Cleveland Senior Citizens group to a Wellsville meeting.

Baughman also discussed Senior Citizens clubs and gave a reading. Mrs. Florence Wilkinson recited an original Christmas poem and presented a reading. Mrs. Rebecca Kinzel and L. P. Perry also gave readings.

Plans were announced for the Christmas party Dec. 20 at 1 p. m. at the church.

Mrs. Dora Wilson, "Queen for a Day," received the corsage. The Rev. Roger Kennedy offered prayer and the group sang its closing prayer.

Lunch was served 26 by the committee of Mrs. Ruth Givens and Mrs. Ethel Urie.

Employes' Pay Hike May Force Schools Closing

CINCINNATI (AP) — A public school shutdown next fall looms as a possibility here, as the Cincinnati Board of Education voted Monday to grant employes pay hikes in January.

Faced with a possible shutdown or employe strike, the board backed Supt. Paul Miller's recommendation that $4 million in raises be given following negotiations with employe unions.

The system is caught in a money bind mainly because of the defeat last November of a 3.7-mill levy and has no money to cover the approved increases.

"I feel we do more for the child by giving a high level of education for fewer days than permitting teachers to leave and lowering standards," Virginia Griffin, a board member, said in explaining her vote.

Board member James Farrell said he does not want public schools to "rot from within" and added, "One way to rot is to have good teachers and employes leave because we don't pay them enough."

The board has not decided yet whether to hold a special election for the defeated levy.

The DOCTOR Says

Artificial Sweetners Lack Food Value

Q—Why is this warning printed on the label of diet sodas: "Should be used only by persons who must restrict their intake of ordinary sweets"? Do they have any harmful effects on people who are not on such a diet?

Dr. Brandstadt

A—This outmoded warning has caused a great deal of confusion and has been dropped from most labels. Artificial sweeteners in reasonable amounts are harmless but don't give you any food value for your money.

ON THE OTHER hand, they won't make you sick to your stomach the way an overload of sugar may and they will not cause cavities in your teeth. They were originally marketed for use by diabetics but are now widely used by those who are trying to reduce. For this purpose, they have been shown to be of little, if any, value. Their use by diabetics remains their chief justification.

Q—Since we drink a lot of iced tea, my wife insists that the boys, 14 and 17, use artificial sweeteners in their drinks and cereals. She says they get more than enough sugar in the candy and desserts she gives them and that too much sugar causes diabetes. What do you think?

A — Teen - agers need plenty of energy - producing foods, such as starches and sugar, unless they are overweight or inclined to take very little exercise. The danger of their developing diabetes would exist only if they are 15 to 20 per cent over the ideal weight for their height. In the absence of proved diabetes, there is no reason to give them artificial sweeteners.

Q — I have heard that the first sulfa drugs were very poisonous. In what way have they been made safer?

A — The first sulfonamide (sulfanilamide) is now used only in external applications. When used improperly, drugs of the sulfonamide group may destroy certain essential elements in the blood. They have, however, been made safer through alterations of their chemical formula, more careful regulation of the dosage and frequent blood checks to detect early signs of advance reactions.

Q—My doctor says I have pseudoxanthoma elasticum. What is this? Is it serious?

A—The cause of this rare skin disease is unknown. It consists mainly of flat, yellow plaques that are usually limited to the armpits and sides of the neck. It is not serious unless the eyes become involved. There is no satisfactory treatment.

Please send yur questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of The Review. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Crucible Valuation Hiked

Midland Board Receives Reassessment Figures

Midland's school district is expected to realize extra taxmonies as a result of a reassessment of the Top Oxygen Converter furnace at Crucible Steel's Midland Division.

The board of education petitioned the county in Novemeber to reassess the equipment.

During a meeting Monday night, a letter was read from Michael Van Doren, Beaver County assessor, who reported Crucible's assessment has been boosted $763,932. Crucible valuation for tax purposes has been set at $8,385,126, but the revised figure is $9,149,058.

IN OTHER business, Ivan Dye, head football coach, was hired as assistant junior high basketball coach at a salary of $400 a month. He will replace Gary Kaukonen, who resigned because of a misunderstanding about the salary.

Joel Carr, high school principal, was granted permission to obtain full details on an exchange student program with a South American country.

In a letter presented the board, Carr said there would be no expense to the school district other than the cost of three months education for a student.

A student from South America would come to Midland for three months in the winter, and if a local student desired, he or she could attend school in South America for three months in the summer.

Dr. Charles P. Henderson, superintendent, said nine schools in Beaver County are participating in this program through International Fellowship, Inc.

BOOKS and supplies totaling $278.31 were approved for Carnegie Public Library. James Morrison, board member, questioned the amount of money being spent on books.

It was explained the library operates on a budget of approximately $13,000 a year and must spend a certain amount of money to receive state aid. Approximately $2 each is spent for Midland's 6,000 residents a year.

Henderson explained the used books of the library are given to libraries at the public schools and the new Midcrest library.

Final approval was given to an architect's agreement. The solicitor pointed out the board must pay a minimum salary if the new elementary school is not built.

THE SECRETARY was granted permission to advertise for bids for the school milk program. The milk will be sold for 6 cents to children and 10 cents to adults. The bids will be opened at the January meeting.

The winter recreational basketball program was approved. Wallace Beatti and Nick Aloi will be in charge. The program, in its 22nd year, will begin Saturday and end March 1, 1969.

The Latin and French Clubs were given permission to hold their annual winter weekend at Seven Springs. The students will go skiing Dec. 20 and 21. Miss Marie Milanovich, Latin teacher, and Mrs. Patricia Weber, French teacher, will accompany them.

Retroactive release time was granted to Miss Eugenia O'Hara and Charles Polce, physical education instructors, for a state health program they attended Friday at Pittsburgh.

A letter of thanks was read from the Midwestern Pop Warner football coach, Vincent Monaco, and the assistant coaches for use of school facilities.

An insurance policy was received from the Catholic School tournament.

Sam Rosatone, superintendent of maintenance, reported the leaky boilers have been repaired by welding. He said part of the bottom rungs of a ladder going to the new gym roof will be removed in an effort to curb children from climbing to the roof.

He said he was called last week by police who saw someone on the roof. In the cold weather, there is danger of damage which will cause leaks, he explained.

He said the schools will be cleaned during the Christmas holidays.

Edward Cilli, board member, said extra precaution should be taken on the heating system for the new elementary school when it is built so there will be no trouble with the boilers.

John Uccellini, board member, commented the Midland school walls and other facilities are in good condition compared with some schools he has visited, including some new ones. He commended the maintenance staff.

Bills totaling $24,535.85 were paid.

John Zdinak presided at his first meeting as the new president.

The next meeting will be Jan. 13.

Five More Ohioans Casualties In Vietnam

WASHINGTON (AP) — Five Ohio soldiers are among the latest Vietnam casualties, the Defense Department reported Monday. Killed were:

1st Lt. Dwight C. Sarjeant of Perrysburg, Pfc. Thomas C. Conkel of Circleville, Pfc. Mark L. Fusile of Cleveland, Pfc. David L. Urban of Chardon and Pfc. Gary M. O'Keefe of Columbus.

No birds that can be found in the world today are known to have teeth.

Planning Urged For Phone Calls To Men In Viet

Ohio Bell commercial manager R. C. Sauer offered some advice today for area residents who want to call friends or relatives in Vietnam during the coming holidays.

"There are some new places in Vietnam that we can talk with now, and a new lower station-to-station rate, but making certain that call goes through is going to take a little planning," Sauer said.

Calls from the U.S. to Vietnam are the hardest to complete, he explained, because of the difficulty in locating persons being called. In order to talk to the desired party, he added, this type of call must also be person - to - person, which costs $12 for the first three minutes. U.S. callers can still reach only telephones in Saigon and the immediate vicinity, he added.

If, however, the call is placed from Vietnam to the United States, it normally takes only a few minutes to get through. In addition, calls from Vietnam to the U.S. can now be placed from hospitals and bases at Ton Son Nhut, Long Binh, Nha Trang, Qui Nhon and Da Nang.

Another advantage in placing the call from Vietnam, Sauer added, is the new station-to-station rate of $9 for the first three minutes. "By making certain everyone in the family is home at the right time, the call could be placed from Vietnam to this area station-to-station."

Cost for each additional minute is $3 whether the call is station - to - station or person to-person.

Last year, some 38,000 calls were completed between the U.S. and Vietnam, more than four times as many as there were three years ago. About 90 per cent of these calls were completed from Vietnam end, most of them collect.

Calls between the two countries have been averaging about 140 a day, but this figure is expected to increase during the holidays.

Granges Will Meet

LISBON — Mt. Nebo Junior and Subordinate granges will hold a Christmas program at 8 p. m. Wednesday in the hall. A social hour will follow, with refreshments and an exchange of gifts.

ORDINANCE NUMBER 68, 1968.
AN ORDINANCE ACCEPTING A QUIT CLAIM DEED FOR REAL ESTATE TO THE CITY OF EAST LIVERPOOL BY THE BOARD OF COUNTY COMMISSIONERS, COLUMBIANA COUNTY, OHIO.
WHEREAS, the Board of County Commissioners of Columbiana County, Ohio, have offered to the City of East Liverpool, for no consideration, a Quit Claim deed of real estate and have executed and delivered to said City said Quit Claim deed therefor, for the following described property, to-wit:
Situated in the City of East Liverpool, County of Columbiana, in the State of Ohio, and bounded and described as follows:
And being in the southwest quarter of Section 34, Township 6, Range 1 and being bounded and more specifically described as follows:
Beginning at a point in the north line of the southwest quarter of the said section 34, at a distance of 1427.10 feet eastwardly from the northwest corner of the southwest quarter of the said section 34; thence south 00 degrees, 47' 30" east 670.24 feet more or less but to the north line of Park Boulevard in the City of East Liverpool, Ohio; thence west along the south line of lots Nos. 6 and 5 of the recorded plat of the Maplewood Subdivision of the W. L. Thompson estate and the north line of the said Park Boulevard a distance of 60.0 feet to a point, thence north 0 degrees, 37' 30" west along a line parallel with the division line of the said Lots 5 and 6 and the extension thereof a distance of 670.24 feet to a point on the north line of the said southwest quarter of the said section 34, and the centerline of Armstrong Lane; thence easterly with the north line of the said southwest quarter line and the centerline of the said Armstrong Lane a distance of 60.0 feet to the place of beginning to have and to hold said premises together with all privileges and appurtenances thereunto belonging for all public highway, road and street purposes to the said City of East Liverpool, Ohio.
And being the same premises as described in Deed Volume 613, pages 167 to 175 inclusive.
Subject to all legal highways and subject to an easement described in Deed Volume 1121, Page 184 of Columbiana County Deed Records.
and,
WHEREAS, this Council is of the opinion that the acceptance of this real estate is to the advantage of the City and the use of said property for City purposes will assist the City in the administration of City government.
NOW, THEREFORE,
BE IT ORDAINED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF EAST LIVERPOOL, STATE OF OHIO:
SECTION 1. That the offer of real estate described above is hereby accepted by the City of East Liverpool.
SECTION 2. That the Clerk of this Council is hereby directed to send a copy of this Ordinance to the grantors above mentioned.
SECTION 3. This Ordinance is hereby declared to be an emergency measure and shall take effect immediately upon passage and approval. Said emergency lies in the fact that said offer must be accepted at once to become effective and to allow the said City to put into effect its plans for said property immediately needed and this action therefore is necessary to preserve the public peace, general welfare and health and safety of the citizens of East Liverpool.
Passed this 2nd day of December, 1968.

NOTICE
Pursuant to the provisions of the Local Tax Enabling Act of 1965, being Act No. 511 of 1965, notice is hereby given that it is the intention of the Board of Supervisors of Greene Township, Beaver County, Pennsylvania, to adopt an Ordinance imposing a tax of one-half of one percent (.5%) on salaries, wages, commissions, compensations and other earned income of residents of the Township of Greene and of non-residents of the said Township to the extent authorized by the Local Tax Enabling Act of 1965. In the judgment of the Board of Supervisors of Greene Township, said tax is necessitated by reason of the costs and expenses incident to the conduct, activities and functions of the Township government and it is estimated that the sum of $8,000 will be derived from said tax annually after the enactment and adoption thereof. The adoption of said Tax Ordinance will be considered at a meeting to be held by the Board of Supervisors of Greene Township at the home of the Secretary, on January, 6, 1969, at 8:00 o'clock P.M.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Tuesday, Dec. 10, the 345th day of 1968. There are 21 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1898, a treaty was signed in Paris officially ending the Spanish-American War. The Philippine Islands, Puerto Rico and Guam were ceded to the United States.

On this date:

In 1817, Mississippi became the 20th state.

In 1896, the Swedish chemist, Alfred Nobel, died. The first Nobel prizes were awarded on the fifth ansiversary of his death, in 1901.

In 1913, the famous Leonardo da Vinci painting, Mona Lisa, was recovered, two years after it had been stolen from the Louvre Museum in Paris.

In 1941, in the early days of the Pacific war, Japanese planes sank the British battleships Prince of Wales and Repulse in the South China Sea.

In 1955, a 72-year-old Los Angeles woman, Ethel Park Richardson, broke the record on broadcast give-aways when she won $100,000 for answering a six-part question about folk songs on NBC-TV "The Big Surprise."

In 1964, Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. became the 12th American and the third Negro to win the Nobel Peace Prize.

Ten years ago — There was worldwide speculation about Soviet internal affairs after Gen. Ivan A. Serov was fired as head of the secret police in the U.S.S.R.

A Junior Editors Quiz About GENIES

QUESTION: Are genies fact or myth?

* * * *

ANSWER: The ancient Romans thought each person had a special genie, able to protect and guide him. The old time Arabians also believed in these supernatural beings. They called them jinns. The Arabian Nights stories contain many references to them. In the famous story of Aladdin, there was a powerful jinn inside the lamp, which would come out when the lamp's owner rubbed it. Another story told of an old fisherman and a jinn. The fisherman had found a jar in his net; he opened it and a huge jinn came out threatening to kill him. The smart old man questioned the jinn's ability to go in and out of the jar. When the jinn popped in to prove his power, the fisherman clamped on the stopper. "Only let me out and I swear to be your slave," screamed the jinn. The old man pulled the stopper — and there was the jinn all ready to serve him. Of course all these stories are purely mythical. Yet many people feel we do have forces protecting us. There's a wonderful voice inside us called our conscience. Do what your conscience tells you and you'll get more reward than a million jinns could bring you.

Personalities In The News

NEW YORK (AP) — Milovan Djilas, former vice president of Yugoslavia released from prison on last January, received the 1969 Freedom Award Monday for encouraging "the millions of fighters in eastern Europe who are proving that freedom cannot be extinguished."

Djilas, 57, received a sculptured bronze plaque at the 29th annual dinner of Freedom House. The presentation was made by Bill Moyers, former press secretary to President Johnson and now publisher of Newsday.

Djilas was jailed for publishing his international best-seller, "The New Class."

He has defied a five-year ban on publishing, a condition attached to his release, with a new book titled "The Unperfect Society—Beyond the New Class," secretly carried out of Yugoslavia.

In his acceptance speech, Djilas hailed "the urge for freedom" in Czechoslovakia, now occupied by troops of the Soviet Union.

"My country," he said, "although it has not yet reached the necessary and desirable degree of freedom, is an example not only of national courage but also of those democratic processes which reactionary bureaucratic forces are no longer able to halt."

Previous winners of the award—dedicated to "men who love human liberty"—include Winston Churchill, Jean Monnet and former President Harry S. Truman.

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Frank Sinatra left Los Angeles because of the smog, but the desert air didn't keep him from getting the flu.

Officials at Caesars Palace said Sinatra, 52, had a 104 temperature but would return to the stage tonight after a three-day absence. He is making an estimated $400,000 for four weeks of shows.

Sinatra recently moved to Palm Springs, Calif., because he said he had to visit throat doctors several times a week while living in Los Angeles.

NEW YORK (AP) — Joseph Strick will produce and direct the film version of Henry Miller's controversial novel, "Tropic of Cancer," which, when first published in 1934, was banned in the United States. Strick, producer-director of the movie version of James Joyce's "Ulysses," also collaborated on the screenplay for "Tropic of Cancer," with Fred Haines.

Filming begins next June, on locations in Paris, Dijon and LeHavre.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Retiring Ohio Supreme Court Justice Paul M. Herbert, 79, will use the family's Bible Wednesday when he gives the oath of office to his successor, his son Thomas M. Herbert, 41.

The younger Herbert, elected to his father's seat Nov. 5, now is a Franklin County Court of Appeals Court judge.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Bob Hope leaves Saturday for Vietnam with the largest troupe in 18 years of entertaining U.S. servicemen overseas.

Hope is taking along 21 performers and the Les Brown band. The group includes actress Ann-Margret and Rosey Grier, former Los Angeles Rams football star.

Hope's itinerary includes stops in Japan, Korea, Okinawa, Guam, Thailand and Vietnam. The trip is cosponsored by the Department of Defense and the USO.

NEW YORK (AP) — Dr. Christiaan Barnard, heart transplant surgeon, conducted a science class Monday at the Riker's Island prison.

"When is a person dead?" asked one youthful inmate. "When his brain is dead," Barnard replied.

"What is more important, the heart or the brain?" asked another.

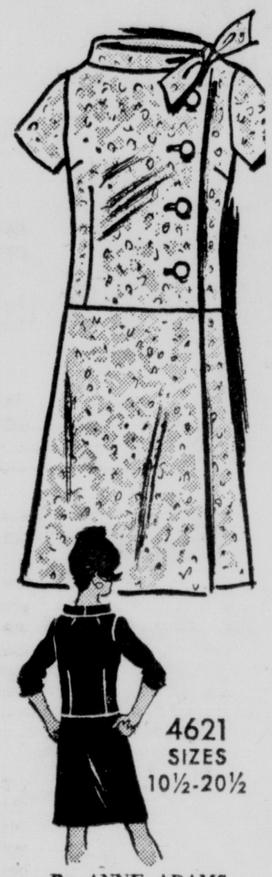

"The mind is more important," said Barnard. "It is the seat of the soul, not the heart."

Concerning brain transplants, the surgeon said the only likely instance would be "the transplant of a body to a brain," adding:

"For instance, if a young man were in an accident and his brain irrevocably damaged and his body still good, could we not transplant his body to a person whose brain is functioning but whose body was destroyed by cancer?"
